Yearling Harriers Seek IC4-A Crown At Races Monday

The Lion Cub harriers can continue running with the excellent team balance they have shown in taking every dual meet this season.

Herman Goffberg, who finished in a four-way tie for first in the Cornell meet and then took the Syracuse and Pitt meets, continues in stride.

Then, the Frosh cross-country men should come back from the Freshmen IC4-A in Van Cortlandt Park, New York City, Monday, with the team championships tucked under their belts.

Team Well Balanced

Earl Buckwalter has been running on Goffberg's heels all season and may place way up in the scoring. Arnold Olsen and Vernard Kötz should give a good account of themselves. Alex Bourgerie, Harold Thiel, and George Harrison will complete the team. All have been turning in good performances this fall.

Syracuse, Pitt, and Manhattan will provide the toughest competition for the Frosh.

Smith Will Pace Unbeaten X-Countrymen In IC4-A's

An undefeated team of Lion harriers will attempt to stride it out against the leading cross-country men of the East when they compete in the IC4-A championships in Van Cortlandt Park, New York City, Monday. The Nittany men have defeated Syracuse, Lehigh, Pitt and Manhattan in dual meets this season.

Paced by "Mysterious Billy" (as he was tagged by New York sports writers upon winning the Freshmen IC4-A's last fall) Smith, Coach Werner's hill-and-dale-hope of coming through with a victory but realize that they will have to outrun Michigan State's defending champions and the very good outfits representing Syracuse and Manhattan. Twenty-three schools will compete.

The Werneermen defeated Manhattan, 25-30, in an early season meet but the Jaspers have been steadily improving and showed their power by taking the Metropolitan Collegiate Championships last week.

COACH CHICK WERNER.

sports writers, Monday's race is likely to be a case of Smith meeting Smith Penn State's Bill Smith, undefeated in collegiate competition and holder of course records here, at Lehigh, and at Pittsburgh, may find plenty of competition from Maine University's Don Smith. The latter placed fourth in last year's IC4-A's and has easily defeated everyone in New England this season.

Captained by Bob Conklin, winner of IC4-9 two-mile last year, Manhattan has two runners, who will be a threat to take first place. They are Joe McClain and Larry Moriarty, winners of second and third positions in the dual meet here with the Jaspers.

Other outstanding candidates for first place honors are Dick Fry of Michigan State, Jesse Cavalieri of Syracuse, Ray Sterne of Pitt, Charley Southard of Syracuse, Barney Oldfield of Navy, and Frank Maule of Penn State.

Maule, winner of tenth in last year's championships, has been consistently good all season. He took fourth in the Syracuse and Manhattan meets, second in the Lehigh meet and third at Pitt.

IM Gridders Diadem Won By Delta Chi

By GEORGE SCHLESS

Scoring two touchdowns in the last five minutes of play after trailing throughout the game, Delta Chi upset Phi Kappa, 13-0, Monday night to win the International touch football crown.

Unable to stop the fast running and passing attack of Phi Kap's Tom McCall and Fritz Seibel for three quarters, the DX nine suddenly came to life, lallying on a dazzling three-pass play that started on their own 10. They covered 80 yards in four pass plays for the winning score with only one minute to go.

Score on Razzle Dazzle

The winner's first score came when Der Simkov punted from the Phi Kap 40 to George Fabel, who took the ball on his own 10, raced to the 30, and passed to Ted Winkler. Winkler ran from the 30 to the 15, from where he tossed over the goal to Art Thorman for the touchdown. George Ritter's placement was short.

A tricky three-pass play, Fabel to Harold High to Winkler, netted the champions a first down on the Phi Kap 15. Fabel threw three short passes for the remaining yardage, first to Fischer on the 10, next to High on the 8, then to Fischer in the end zone. Ritter placed-kicked the extra point to give Delta Chi a 13-0 lead. Fabel's stellar defense work kept the losers in check for the remaining minute.

Phi Kappa started the game like a whirlwind, scoring in the first minute of play. Simkov kicked off to DX on the 20. On the first play Ted Stashak intercepted a pass to put Phi Kap in scoring position. McCall passed to Simkov on the one yard line, McCall scoring on a run. For the rest of the first half Phi Kap held the ball near the DX goal, but lost it on interception time after time.

Early in the fourth quarter Phi Kap took the ball on downs on the 50. A pass, Seibel to Simkov, gained 10 yards. Seibel again passed to Simkov, this time on the 18. After an off-side penalty and two unsuccessful runs, McCall place-kicked a field goal to give Phi Kappa a 9-0 lead with five minutes left to play. Phi Kap intercepted a pass in the DX 40, tried three runs, then punted, at which point the Delta Chi outfit went into action to settle the issue.

Frosh Grid Team Downs Plebes, 20-0

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 10.—Turning back an aerial-minded Army Plebe eleven, Penn State's Cub grid team completed one of its most successful seasons by registering a 20-0 triumph here yesterday.

6-Year Win Streak Will Be At Stake

By MANNY ROTH

Today's the day

Bill Jeffrey's booters, speeding down the home stretch of a sixth consecutive season—44 games—without defeat, meet the Owls of Temple in the final contest of the season at 1 p.m. today on New Beaver Field.

Temple was the only team to score upon the Nittanymen last year when they bowed to State here 2-1.

The famed booters of Jeffrey, who have annexed an amazing string of victories since 1932—a string which has carried them to the No. 1 position as far as collegiate soccer competition is concerned—will take no chances with Temple.

Still Much at Stake

"We'll be in these fighting as we were with Navy, Army, Brown and all the rest of them. We can't afford to let up now, there's too much at stake." Thus the Mild Scot Jeffrey sums up the situation.

Temple this season has been defeated by Springfield, 6-0, hastid Bucknell, 1-1, and defeated U.S. 3-0. The Owls will be headed by one of the best linemen in the business, George Nemchik, center-forward who provided the opening for the lone Temple score last year. An Olympic star in 1936, Nemchik is now with the German-Americans of Philadelphia, an amateur booter organization.

Jeffrey will use the same lineup which this season has defeated Gettysburg, 4-0, Bucknell, 1-0, Syracuse, 5-0, Western Maryland, 12-0, Army, 1-0, Brown, 7-1, and Navy, 1-0.

SPORTOGRAPHIES

By BOB WILSON

See How They Run!

Smith's Unobtrusive Sportography No. 27, And-Shy, But—He's Feared

Slight in build, shy in manner, soft in speech, Bill Smith is probably the most feared cross-country runner in eastern intercollegiate circles.

Brown-eyed, sleek brown hair, and a mildness of demeanor that is completely deceiving, Smith's competitive record stamps him as one of the best college harriers in the country.

A sophomore and combatant in only four varsity X-country meets, Smith has broken three course records—the one here, at Lehigh and at Pitt. He has finished at least 300 yards ahead of every opponent he has met this season.

His most outstanding starts as Steiner of Pitt, McClain of Manhattan and Cavalieri of Syracuse.

Besides his three current records, Smith holds the Middle Atlantic AAU 2-mile championship and was winner of the Freshman IC4-A X-country title last year.

Vital statistics: Smith has more nicknames than a campus cop. He gets everything from Willie, Wild Bill, and Smitty to Gunboat (that's what Chuck Werner calls him for puffing and groaning the way he does).

Has fun against such prominent national figures as Don Lash and Joe McCluskey. Is a genuine jesterbug. Knows all the lingo. Thinks Count Basie and Jimmy Lunceford are the McCoy as solid senders. Is only seven inches over five feet tall, 115 pounds.

Has just reached the voting age.

Credits Chuck Werner with having made him the runner that he is, but modestly admits that he still has a lot to learn. Is conscientious, temperamental and superstitious. Runs almost incessantly—to and from his classes as well as to and from practice.

Found an Indian head

Dead greenways. He shins dishes at the SPE house, works at Metzger's, and shoots in the low 70's in golf (for the first four holes). He is five feet, five and one-half inches tall and weighs a meagre 132. Has big, floppy ears.

Wants eventually to be a CPA. But more than that he wants to win the IC4-A indoor mile title this year. Guarantees a Penn State victory in the IC4-A championships Monday.

"Give up?" He's Frank Eugene Maule.

penny (face up) the day he came here as a freshman. Kept it for good luck and has had them both (the penny and the luck) ever since.

Here's hoping he has it Monday in the IC4-A championships.
