Boxers Start Training Today

Today is the day! Aspirants for this year's Lion ring team, for the past few weeks anxiously awaiting Coach Leo Houck's official call, will gather en masse this afternoon in Rec Hall and, under the watchful eye of the "Doctor" will start through the conditioning process.

In past years, the call for boxers was generally made following the Thanksgiving vacation, but with the added interest shown by several members of last year's aggregation, Coach Houck has decided to pass out the equipment and get the boys going.

Prospects Look Bright
Although the team of last season didn't come up to Penn State teams of the past, prospects for the coming season look bright. At present, there are no outstanding stars of the Soose, Donato calibre, but with a large group of willing boys who gained plenty of experience last year, it is expected that Leo Houck will mould a strong team once again.

Jeffrey Emphasizes Determined Passing

HOW does he do it? How has Bill Jeffrey, the amazing Scot, managed to marshal six Penn State soccer teams through undefeated seasons? "Close, determined passing, subordinate speed and the longer passes,—it's team play that we stress—not too much chance of individual stars."

That's the tale of a man who's headed a squad which hasn't lost a game since November, 1932; which this year remains the only undefeated and untied boater aggregation in the entire East.

Started in 1926, Bill (alias Jeff, the Mild Scot, the Bard of Boalsburg) took command of the Nittany soccer men in 1926, the same year in which the Eastern Intercollegiate Soccer Association was formed. He came through with an undefeated team. Since then undefeated teams have been a habit with the Scot. The Lions took the Eastern trophy again in 1929. An off-year in 1933 netted them a tie for the crown with Penn. The greatest team in Penn State soccer history came to the fore in 1935—undefeated, untied, unscoted upon.

But Yale garnered the trophy despite the Lions' record. The Bulldogs, although scored upon, had played more games than the Jeffrey men—this was the deciding factor.

Again in 1936, the booters shared the honor plaque with Westchester, Princeton and Springfield. Last year the trophy was jointly awarded to State, Springfield, and Yale.

"We can't say," Bill muses. "I know, all good things must come to an end. But we're optimistic, we'll have our usual mighty squad."

Jeffrey Confident
There's no doubt in Jeff's mind about the players comprising his All-Time Penn State soccer team. At goal, Ray Bell, in his three years of competition (1933-34-35) allowed only three goals. Ted McKune '33 runs close to Bell for second honors, Jeffrey believes. McKune allowed 13 tallies.

Other All-Time posts assigned by the coach: Cy Harvey (1927-28-29); and a member of the present squad, Bob Schuler, right fullbacks, Sam Allen (27-28-29) left fullback; Bill Sutcliffe '35; right halfback; Joe Bielicki '35; and Al Bacon '32 center halfbacks, Frank Evans '32, left halfback.

On the line Jeffrey has selected Bill Lutz '29 for outside right, Frank Osterlund '37, inside right, Bill McEwan '37, center-forward, Dick Marshall '28 and Sol Miehoff '38, inside lefts, Bud Anderson '30 and Gus Bigot '41, outside left. Bill was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, and started to kick a soccer ball around when he was 3 years old. He came to the United States in 1912 "to get away from the game, and I've been at it ever since."

The Bard of Boalsburg, who writes poetry and recites verses likes to tell you "For a kick out of life, play soccer."

Award Golf Trophy

Ken Klingensmith, who starred in last spring's golf tournaments, was recently awarded an all-college championship cup by Coach Bob Rutherford. Klingensmith topped contenders in three 18-hole matches on the College links.

Haskell Indians' schedule of 1925 required them to travel 25,000 miles.

Gillespie Sets Climb Record

Charles Gillespie, veteran junior gymnast, pulled himself to a new Lion record of 49 seconds in the rope-climbing event as time trials were held Friday afternoon.

The new record breaks a previous State record of 5 seconds set by Julian Parton '38 in 1917. Gunther of Princeton established a world mark of 4 seconds flat in 1936.

With Coach Gene Wetstone putting his Lion squad through extensive drills for the past two months, bright prospects seem to center around the veterans Ray Runkle and Al Kligman, co-captains, and Stan Feldman, Merrill Beck and Gillespie.

Over two months of practice remain before the opening meet, but along with the five holdovers, the squad should consist of Elmer Weaver, Hem Shmulker, Wilber Ward, Harland Saylor, Bill Lewis, Ben Stahl, Harold Streater, and Page Schaeffer.

Matmen Train For Tilt With Nebraska

After a month of light workouts and drilling on fundamentals, Charles Speldel's wrestlers will get down to serious work after the Thanksgiving recess, in preparation for a tough eight-meet schedule that opens here with Nebraska on January 24.

With football season over, several gridders will probably report for practice after vacation, giving additional strength, especially in the heavyweight class, Speldel's biggest problem.

145- and 155-Pound Spots Open
Speldel anticipates wide open battles for positions in the middle weights, with five or six good men available for the 145 and 155 pound spots.

The Lions lost four regulars by graduation last June—Captain Ross Shaffer, 175, and Al Zazzi, 135, both Eastern Intercollegiate champs in 1937, Bobbie Reynolds, dependable 135 pounder, and Steve Priolo, who wrestled at 155 pounds.

Fencers Point For Successful Season

Coach Harry Krutter, fencing coach, announced yesterday that material for this year's foils, epee, and sabre squads promises an even more successful season than last year. Practice is held every evening in Rec Hall.

Co-captain Dean Foltz will add his skill to the foils and epee teams and co-captain John Lipcezy returns to the epee and sabre squads. Other veterans include Sam Rankin, Earl Strunk, Roger Kirk, Paul Fiebigler and Daniel Lyons.

Between The Lions

By HERB CAHAN
Sports Editor

The less said about the Pitt game the better. It served its purposes (1) gave Penn State a chance to see a top-notch grid machine in action, (2) gave Nittany Lion footballers the "honor" of having played against a "dream" backfield and "nightmare" line—studded with all-Americans, (3) gave Penn State's alumni their annual chance to see the Nittany Lions—lose.

And so ends another football season—a weird one—not successful, not good, not bad—but a combination of all—up and down, in and out, hot and cold, mysterious, unpredictable, etc., etc.—if you can explain the Nittany Lions of 1938, tell us, we'd like to know too.

Between Thanksgiving and Christmas there is quite a lull in sports encounters, with the exception of basketball, which starts the winter season on December 3. The Lawthermen meet Maryland that evening as part of the basketball clinic.

Immediately after the Xmas holiday, all the other winter athletic teams swing into action—boxing, wrestling, swimming, gymnastics, fencing, and rifle.

As usual, it is expected that Penn State's boxing and wrestling aggregations will be leading contenders for their respective championships. And, as it was last year, the Eastern Basketball Conference is expected to be a dog-fight all the way.

Sammy Donato, last year's football and boxing captain, was at the game Saturday, brought a few of his Windber gridiron prodigies down to see the slaughter.

Sammy's gettin' roly poly. Last season's basketball co-captains are both playing pro ball in their respective home towns.

Solly Miehoff is on the Philadelphia Spas' squad, and Joe Pokras is playing for the Pittsburgh Pirates. A few other former State athletes seen in Pittsburgh—Russ Cresswell, captain of the 1935 boxers, and three-time titleholder at 118 pounds, Bob Morris, varsity end in '34, '35, '36, Norrie McFarland basketball captain in 1934, and, of course, Casey Jones, grid star of the early '20's.

Additions To Squad Strengthen Mermen

Visibly strengthened by the addition of new members, Coach Bob Galbraith's varsity and freshman tankmen are showing improvement in their daily workouts in Glendon pool.

Because of the excellent showing of his sophomores, Coach Galbraith has hopes of a good team this year. Sophomores Bill Kirkpatrick, Al Bolleau, Tom Robinson, Dave Welsh and Dick Bitwer have shown up well in practice workouts.

Ken Bunk and Mark Vincent have begun varsity practice after practice teaching and cross-country managing, respectively.

8 Awarded Varsity 'S' By Werner

Frank Maule will captain Penn State's varsity cross-countymen next fall.

Maule was elected captain by his team mates at the annual cross-country cabin party held at the PSCA cabin on Thursday. Herman Goffberg, who took first in every yearling dual meet this season, was chosen freshman captain. A consistently good distance man Maule was the second best harrier.

Smith Places Fourth In NCAA Title Event
Special to the Collegian
EAST LANSING, Mich., Nov. 21—Showing signs of weariness from his winning race in the IC4-A cross-country championships in New York City Monday, Wild Bill Smith, sensational Nittany sophomore harrier, placed fourth in the first annual NCAA title run over the Michigan State University course here today.

Greg Rice of Notre Dame won the race in the record breaking time of 20:12.9, with Bill Feller of Drake second, and Jim Whitaker of Ohio State third.

Smith held the lead momentarily at the start but tired and could not stay with Rice and Feller, who fought it out at the tape. The race was run in perfect weather except for a strong wind.

on the Lion squad—winning next State man behind phenomenal Wild Bill Smith Maule, now a junior, served as cub harrier captain during his freshman year.

Lettermen Named
Naming eight letter winners, Coach Chick Weiner complimented his squad on the record of turning in an undefeated dual season by defeating Syracuse, Lehigh, Pitt and Manhattan Universities.

Captain Chauley Pierce '39, Johnny Strange '39, Bill Guest '39, Frank Maule '40, Len Henderson '40, Herb Nipson '40, Graham Miller '40 and Bill Smith '41, earned varsity letters.

Freshman numeral winners were also announced. They included Herman Goffberg, Earl Buckwalter, Vernard Kotz, Arnold Olsen, Alex Bougieire, Harold Thiel, George Harrison and Stuart Rhode.

Over 50 cross-countymen and guests were present. Major George McMullen spoke briefly on the advantages of participating in athletics. Coaches Weiner, Bob Gieve and Pete Olexy each gave short talks as did captains Pierce, Maule and Goffberg.

Barantovich Ranks On Mythical Eleven

Alex Barantovich, senior end, was given honorable mention on the NEA's mythical All-Eastern eleven. The Baron was placed on an All-American check list at the beginning of the season.
