State Hockeymen Meet Lehigh Team On Hershey Rink

Penn State's hockey team, idle over vacation, will attempt to dig down their first victory of the season at the expense of Lehigh's skaters on the Hershey rink at 7 p. m. Thursday.

Daily practice on the college pond, where an improvised rink has been constructed with Mc-Closkey lumber, is expected to whip the local stick-swingers into top form for the contest.

Hoping for a chance to avenge their recent defeat, the Lir are angling for a return game with Lafayette at Hershey on March 11. Lafayette edged the locals 5-4 in a heart-breaker two weeks ago.

514 Students To Receive Aid For Current Academic Year In Budget

Special to the Collegian

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—A quota of 514 graduate and undergraduate students with a fund quota of $69,390 has been set by the National Youth Administration for the current 1938-1939 academic year. NYA Administrator Aubrey Williams has announced.

NYA college and graduate aid will reach 5,661 students in Pennsylvania colleges and universities during the current academic year with a total of $764,920 being spent.

A total of 87,886 college and graduate students over the nation will receive NYA during the 1938-1939 academic year with expenditures amounting to $11,878,558.

The student and fund quotas for other large colleges in the eastern part of Pennsylvania are: University of Pennsylvania, 610, $82,350; Temple University, 531, $78,135; Drexel Institute, 223, $30,105; Bucknell University, 121, $16,335; Lafayette, 92, $11,070; and Villanova College, 75, $10,125.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW?

WHAT DO YOU SAY?

By BERNIE NEWMAN

In an attempt to depict the attitudes and opinions of the students in relation to the many problems arising daily on this campus, the Collegian reporter will question students at random on these problems and publish in this column the question with replies from the different students.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Do you think the College should arrange for a mid-year vacation next year?

Richard L. Britton '40, chem engineer "I think they should. The strain after final exam week tends to lower the activity of a student and he, therefore, can not start right in on a new semester without neglecting his new courses the first few weeks. A full week's rest would enable him to recuperate fully and would leave reason for no one to lose the basic foundations of new courses."

Joseph A. Casser, '40, pre-law "Yes, I believe we should have had one even this year. There is too long a stretch between the Christmas and Easter vacations. Besides, most other schools start the school year much later than we do and finish up sooner. These schools also have mid-year vacations."

Leo Houck, Jr., '42 mechanical engineer "No mid-semester comes too soon after Christmas vacation, and there is no point in having too numerous vacations. Besides, most students have a few days off after final exams during which time they can rest up. In my opinion, it would be much better to end the school year a few days earlier rather than take it out on a mid-year vacation."

Morry Feldbaum, '40, journalism "Yes I could stand some fresh air. A vacation at such a time would break the monotony. And I do mean monotony!"

Charlotte Callaway, '40, education "I think it would be very nice, providing we didn't have to remain in school longer at the end of the school year. Students away at practice teaching the first semester would be enabled to make better arrangements when they returned to the second semester."

Thomas T. Francis, '39, education "I don't want one next year, 'cause I'm graduating in June."

Jack Schwartz, '42, ag engineer. "Definitely. We should have some sort of vacation at this time of the year. Such a vacation should come either the week before the final exams or after. The four weeks before finals is one steady grind, and as long as the College does not provide time for the students to prepare for their exams they should see that the students had some opportunity for mental and physical relaxation following these exams."

Riflemen Outshoot Drexel, 1348 to 1341

The hon varsity riflemen, by a score of 1348, outshot Drexel Institute's team with a score of 1341 in a four-way postal match held Friday night, Jan. 15, results of which were received today. The riflemen lost to teams firing for Cornell and the University of Pennsylvania.

Results of a postal match held with the University of Delaware during final examination week have not yet been received.

Wylie's Band To Jam Friday

Military Ball Will Feature Wylie's Violin; Grand March Is Novelty

The sweet swing of Austin Wylie's band will raise the curtain on this semester's first formal closed dance when they play at Military Ball in the Army at 9 o'clock on Friday night.

Wylie's band got its start while the boys were attending Transylvania College in Kentucky and has come a long way to popularity in the Great Lakes section. A lot of this success can be attributed to vocalists Tar Wolter, who has recorded for Victor, and Loraine El Holt, lovely Detroit songstress.

The band, led by Stradivarius playing Austin has played at the Gaystone Ballroom, Detroit, Webster Hall, Pittsburgh, and the Golden Pheasant Restaurant, Cleveland, from where they' frequently broadcast over WTAM and the Red network of NBC.

Grand March Arranged

Guests at the ball will be treated to a novelty this year, Chairman Robert I. Goerdel '39, announced. It will be in the form of a grand march, emulating the famous ring ceremony of the Naval Academy and V M I. The junior cadet officers will form a sabre arch, while the senior officers and their dates walk through to receive one of the new cadet corps insignia as a souvenir.

A color scheme of green and gold will be used in appropriate decorations. A suitable lighting system will be arranged to top off the military background.

Cadets attending the ball have been granted 2 o'clock, it was announced.

AUSTIN WYLIE

whose orchestra will provide the music for Military Ball from 9 to 1 in the Army next Friday night. Wylie is a purveyor of sweet swing. Mil Ball will be the first formal closed dance of the second semester.

Debaters To Leave On Four-Day Tour

Thomas D. Conway '40 and Edward G. Couch '41, varsity debaters, will leave this morning for a four-day tour, meeting St. Francis, Seton Hill, Geneva, and Allegheny in successive days.

"Pump-priming—Should it be continued?" will be the issue debated in all four orthodox non-decision sessions. State will uphold the affirmative.

made available, especially to new students.

Publicity should be given in the Collegian and elsewhere to state and borough laws or ordinances dealing with rooming houses so that everyone can see how well they are being enforced.

Housing cooperatives should be encouraged as a practical method for helping students to improve their own living conditions and at the same time cut down on their college expenses. The committee commended the Collegian "for bringing to light the bad student housing conditions that exist here."
