Mass Confab 7:30 P. M. Sunday To Start Religion In Life Week

Dr. Mackay To Address Convocation

Choir Will Sing; First Seminar Is Slated For Monday

A general town-faculty-student meeting Sunday in Recreation Hall at 7:30 p. m. with Dr. John A. Mackay, president of Princeton University's Theological Seminary, speaking on "Is Christianity Adequate For Our Present World Problems?" will officially begin Religion in Life Week.

Music for the meeting will be furnished by the College choir of 100 voices, directed by Prof. Richard W. Grant and accompanied by the electric organ. Featured number of the choir will be "Eternal God Is Our Refuge," Chapel Speaker in Schwab Auditorium.

All Classes Ordered Dismissed At 11 A. M.

The mandatory dismissal of all classes at 11 a. m. Monday to enable students to attend the convocation in Schwab Auditorium has been approved by the Council of Administration, the President's office announced yesterday.

Dr. Leiper, as executive secretary of the Universal Christian Council, will be one of the speakers on the week's program.

Convocation Slated

As the leading event of the second day of the week, a general convocation will be held in Schwab Auditorium with Dr. Ralph Don Hetzel presiding, and Dr. Honnell Hart, author, lecturer, and professor of sociology at Duke University, speaking on "Do We Choose Democracy?"

In addition to meetings to be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights in Schwab Auditorium, speakers for the week will conduct a series of seminars at 4:10 p. m. Monday through Thursday.

Folk Numbers Demonstrated To Physical Education Majors Tuesday

Douglas Kennedy, director of the English Folk Song and Dance Society, London, instructed 150 men and women, mostly physical education majors, in various English folk dances Tuesday night.

Said by many to be an "anti-quoted jitterbug," Kennedy became interested in English folk dancing through his sister primarily as a hobby, and now devotes all of his time to it.

Assorted Steps Reviewed

Kennedy held the crowd's interest in White Hall for two and one-half hours, teaching them various steps. One dance, he illustrated was a sword dance for men, consisting of intricate figures executed with two-handed swords.

Kennedy, who has been under the auspices of the Women's Physical Education Department, has appeared at prominent colleges and universities throughout the South and East.

Senior Award Recipient Not Yet Selected

Collegian Board Cuts List To Three; Winner Will Be Announced Mar. 4

Not even the Collegian Board knows yet who will be this year's recipient of the "Outstanding Senior" award, the Collegian's own way of honoring the graduating senior who has done the most in his four years of college to further the honor and prestige of Penn State.

Starting with 10 candidates, the Junior Board has narrowed the field to three, but here it has hit a snag. Three worthy candidates are still in the running, but only one can win. There can be no co-winners of the Collegian Award. The chosen senior's name will be announced in next Friday's issue of the Collegian.

Michoff Honored Last Year

Last year, Sol B. Michoff, soccer, baseball and basketball star and a good all-around man, received the first of these annual awards. He was the unanimous choice of the managing board.

The trophy, an 18-inch figure of Victory mounted on a square base, will be presented to the most worthy senior by Robert L. Wilson, member of the Junior Board, immediately preceding the Penn State-Wisconsin boxing meet in Recreation Hall, Saturday, March 4.

Snow, Ice Cost College Over $100 A Day

When early morning snow storms sweep over the Nittany Mountains, the Campus Dawn Patrol is summoned into action. The "call to shovels" is answered by 25 to 50 snow-lighters who swarm over the campus in an attempt to clear the main arteries of traffic before eight o'clock classes.

This war strength is augmented by a snow plow, a tractor, and a snow blower. And to the tune of $100 a day, the snow and ice is shoveled, chopped, and hauled from 10 miles of campus walks, four miles of roads, and six-and-one-half acres of parking areas.

The task of estimating the yearly snow removal budget falls to George W. Ebert, Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings, who says, "One of the hardest things in the world is to try to figure in May how much it is going to snow next winter."

Neuberger Makes Solo

Dr. Hans Neuberger, instructor in geophysics, made his first solo flight at the State College Airport this month, rounding out nine and a half hours of dual flying.

Points Out Benefits To Faculty Members And Students

By GEORGE B. SCHLESS
"I am pleased with the idea," said Dean of Women Charlotte E. Ray yesterday of the proposed student representation on the College Senate, which will come before the Senate next Thursday.

Dean Ray also agreed with the suggestion made last week by Dean of Men Arthur R. Warnock and Senior Class President Joseph A. Pool that there should be three students—one woman and two men—present at Senate meetings instead of the one voting representative provided for in the amendment introduced three weeks ago by Dr. Helmut Landsberg.

Dual Benefits Derived

Both student body and faculty would benefit from the proposed measure, Dean Ray believes, since Senate members would be getting better acquainted with student views, and students would better understand how big and complicated a matter the administration of a college really is.

"Within the past year we have seen the need of a change in many things and surely there will be even more in the future. Any such combination of students and faculty should be helpful in working out plans for the future," according to the dean.

Chance To Pioneer

"There has been a great deal said lately about having students and faculty become better acquainted," she continued. "Even the meeting of only three students with Senate members would work toward this end, and promote their meetings of faculty and students."

Aliens Will Be Dropped From NYA

Notary Will Certify All Workers Here For 3 Days

All NYA students must go before a notary public and make affidavit as to United States citizenship if they are to remain on the NYA rolls, Stanley B. Maddox, College director of NYA, revealed yesterday.

This must be done, he said, in order to meet requirements set down in Public Resolution No. 1 of the 76th Congress which is now in session.

NYA workers are asked to report to the first floor lounge, Old Main between the hours of 8:40 a. m. and 5:30 p. m. Wednesday, Thursday or Friday. A notary will be provided at these hours and no fee will be charged the student, Maddox revealed.

Any student worker not complying with requirements will be dropped from the payroll, Maddox said.

Complete Statement Given

The complete statement issued by Director Maddox is as follows: "The College has received notification from the Federal Government through the State Director of the National Youth Administration concerning Public Resolution No. 1 of the 76th Congress now in session, which reads as follows:

"No alien shall be given employment or continued in employment on any project prosecuted under the appropriations contained in the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1938 or this joint resolution. Provided, That no part of the money herein appropriated shall be available to pay any person thirty days after the approval of this joint resolution who does not make affidavit as to United States citizenship such affidavit to be considered prima facie evidence of such citizenship."

"This of course, includes NYA workers. Therefore a notarized affidavit for every student worker whose name appears on payrolls for time on and after March 5, 1939, must be filed in the office of the State Youth Director at Harrisburg. To pay out Federal relief appropriation funds to any Student Aid project employees, for time shown on and after March 5, 1939, unless the above-mentioned affidavits are filed will constitute a violation of the law. The Resolution of Congress is clear and mandatory and the College is compelled to carry out its provisions."

War Movies Planned

"Flashes of Action," four reels of motion pictures showing American troops in the World War, will be shown at an open meeting of the International Relations Club in the Home Economics Auditorium at 7:15 p. m. Monday.

No Stuff! Thespian Job Is 'Stuff And Nonsense'

Commenting with the coming to this campus of Don Rose, writer of a column for the Philadelphia Evening Public Ledger, entitled "Stuff and Nonsense," the Penn State Thespians announce that their Spring show to be presented in Schwab Auditorium will bear the same popular handle.

Instead of the usual story plot as in past Spring shows, "Stuff and Nonsense" will be a revue featuring an intermingling of skits and smart dance numbers, the latter done in calligraphic settings against luminous backgrounds.

Recipe For Skits Given

The recipe for writing skits for "Stuff and Nonsense" follows: Take 1 poet, science prof, 1 small town newspaper editor, and 2 students—mix well and you have one excellent script. Names of ye authors are Dean E. McHenry, William K. "Wild Bill" Uerich, Mor-

Winter Scene Set For Senior Dance

Glistening icicles, dark blue draperies and sparkling lights will transform Rec Hall into a dazzling winter carnival tonight in which setting Duke Ellington will play for Senior Ball from 9 until 2.

The grand Duke of the black and white keys will bring with him a new featured soloist, Jean Balbridge, to share the spotlight with Ivie Anderson, his regular ballad warbler.

In addition to his scheduled menu of dance music, Ellington has prepared a bit of unusual dessert to serve just before intermission, in the form of a miniature concert, probably based on that which he will present in Carnegie Hall sometime in April.

Immediately following this concert, co-chairman Thomas A. Boal and Charles S. Welsh will announce the winner of the Ellington song-writing contest.

Announcement of the winner, slated for today, was delayed because the judges cannot get the manuscript of the score which is as yet unpublished and not ready for release. It will be played tonight for the first time in public, and the judges will then make their decision from the titles submitted.

Tickets for the dance will be on sale today at the A. A. ticket office, room 107 Old Main, and tonight at Rec Hall, priced at $3.85.

Probable Increase Of 500 Indicated Here For 1939-40

Student Housing Board Recommends Plan To College Senate For Possible Slash In Enrollment

By EMANUEL ROTH
As the Student Housing Board adopted a recommendation to the College Senate calling for a "possible slash in enrollment for 1939-40" at a special session Wednesday afternoon, figures and statements from the Offices of the Registrar and Scheduling Officer indicated yesterday that an increase of 500 in enrollment for next semester is a definite probability.

Pointing out that expanding physical facilities resulting from the building program was bringing about steam-roller pressure on the College to admit more students, Registrar William S. Hoffman announced yesterday that even though the freshman class is held to the 1,475 level of 1938, an increase of 300 in enrollment is inevitable because of transfers.

Hoffman indicated that if equipment for all new students is assured before June, an increase of 200 in the freshman class would probably be authorized by the Administration.

Meanwhile, Ray V. Watkins, scheduling officer, revealed that he had begun formulation of the 1939-40 time-table on the basis of no considerable increase in enrollment for next year and on continued use of old buildings, only Watkins explained that any drastic increase would necessitate entire revision of the time-table.

Tentative Enrollment Listed

Tentative enrollment for next year, it was indicated, would include 1,300 seniors, 1,400 juniors, 1,475 sophomores, 1,475 freshmen.

Asked by the Collegian whether the President's Office was ready to release for publication any policy on enrollment, Adrian O. Morse, assistant to the President, announced yesterday that any increase would hinge on the biennial state appropriation to the College. Morse pointed out that a rise in student population would necessitate addition of members to the faculty.

Instituting definite action, the Housing Board, meeting at the Christian Association Office with Dr. Warren B. Mack, chairman of the Senate Committee on Student Welfare, adopted a three-point recommendation for submission to the Committee and College Senate.

Honor List Enlarged

The names of Herman E. Muck '39, mining engineer, and Harold N. Meyer '39 and Peter G. Sedberry '39, metallurgists, were inadvertently omitted from the Mineral Industries honor list, Dean Edward Steidle announced yesterday. The addition brings the total number of 25 average students to 17.

James Budget To Determine Fixtures Here

Governor's Spending Report To Limit Extent Of Use Of New Buildings

Special to the Collegian
HARRISBURG, Feb. 23 — To what extent the Pennsylvania State College will utilize the 11 new buildings now nearing completion under the General State Authority's initial institutional construction program will be decided perhaps definitely Monday night, when Governor Arthur H. James presents his budget for the 1939-41 biennium to the State Legislature here.

The budget, overdue since January 31, will include the Governor's allocation to the College for the coming biennium, a portion of which is expected to be specified for movable equipment for the new buildings.

Need Additional $500,000
Although Col. Augustine S. Janeway, executive director of the General State Authority, has assured the College of an estimated $476,139 of federal funds for fixed equipment, it was believed that an additional $500,000 or more would be needed for movable equipment in order to place the plant at full capacity.

Meanwhile the bi-partisan group of legislators which has been invited to study the Governor's budget before he actually presents it to the Legislature, remained tight-lipped on the matter, refusing to comment beyond the statement that James has included $202,000,000 for the "normal state functions," which includes subsidies to educational institutions.

No specific provisions could be learned here.

Junior Blazer Group Named

Mams Chosen Chairman Of Eight-Man Committee To Select Goals

Floyd M. Mams '40 was named chairman of the eight-man Junior Blazer committee appointed by Junior Class President Walter A. Jones, yesterday.

Frank C. Anderson, J. John B. Caldwell, J. Robert T. Eakin, Jerome N. Goodman, Morris R. Schaffner, Roger F. Scott, and Grover C. Washburn, J., all juniors, complete the group.

No indication as to the style and piece of this year's coat was given at the time the committee was chosen, but they are considering numerous proposals.

The price of Junior Blazers hit an unprecedented low last year when coats designed similar to Lion coats sold for $1.65. In previous years Blazers sold for over $10.

Bernreuter Will Talk At A. S. U. Meeting On S. U. Building Benefits

The advantages of a Student Union building on the college campus of today will be discussed by Dr. Robert G. Bernreuter, associate professor of education and psychology, at a meeting of the local chapter of the American Student Union in Room 405, Old Main, at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

The meeting is open to the public. Diagrams of typical student union buildings on other college campuses will be displayed and an open discussion on possible ways of financing a student union building here will follow.
