Gridders Ready For Warmups:

Official spring football practice gets under way Monday for 70 varsity candidates. The squad will be confined to fundamentals and familiarizing last year's freshmen with Coach Bob Higgins' grid methods.

Sixty baseball candidates are working out daily in Ree Hall, pitchers and catchers in the afternoon and fielders in the evening. Light trackwork and conditioning drills are being stressed by 10 varsity lacrosse aspirants who reported to Coach Nick Thiel early last week.

Thirty U. S. colleges use crimson as their school colors.

DUX CLUB

Between The Lions

By HERB CAHAN
Sports Editor

Let's turn back almost four years.

A friendly, puggish, dark-haired youngster entered Penn State. He had two aims—to play on the Nittany Lion football team, make up his mind as to what course he would take.

He made the freshman football team as a tackle. He decided that he wanted to teach science. He was defeated for the freshman presidency. He was elected to Phi Kappa.

Sophomore year played tackle and guard—earned a minor letter.

Junior year earned major "S" as a regular guard—elected junior class president—made Skull and Bones.

Senior year started at guard (in spite of bad knee injury)—gained captaincy for the 59-6 trouncing of Lehigh—again class president—student board—student council—elected to Kappa Phi Kappa (education honorary).

That—the collegiate life story of Joe Peel is a study in perseverance.

And, now as the recipient of the Collegian award as "the senior" who has done most to bring honor and prestige to Penn State, here is what his coaches have to say about him.

Bob Higgins, head football coach—"Joe came out in his sophomore year for football and didn't make the team. The coaches doubted if he ever would make it, and it was just through hard work on his part that he became a regular guard. Never satisfied with just making the team, he wanted to be a good football player—and we all know that he was a good football player. Always consistent and dependable—I am happy to see him receive this honor; he really deserves it, and is the most outstanding senior."

Joe Bedenk, football line coach—"In my estimation, no other player on the football squad improved more over a four-year period than did Joe Peel. He was a hard and clean fighter on the gridiron, and was one of the best liked men on the squad. The Collegian has made a damned good choice."

GRIDIRON VETERAN

A veteran of the gridiron, Joe Peel, chosen by the Collegian as the Most Outstanding Senior, has, during his three years at the varsity guard post, indelibly established himself as one of the unforgettable of recent Lion football history.

Boxing Filt With Badgers To Feature Sports Card

Leo Houck'sitmen will face the Badgers of Wisconsin in Rec Hall tomorrow night at 7 p m in the feature attractions of the winter's last big sports week-end. In the only other home event, the freshman basketball team will face Wyoming Seminary at 1:30 p m, and the gymnasts will take on Temple at 3 p m with four other teams scheduled for encounters away from home.

Against the strong Wisconsin outfit, undefeated for two years, Houck will send in a revised lineup, possibly without Mike Cooper and Jim Lewis, who suffered a cut eye and bruised nose, respectively, in the Army meet.

Trainers in IC4A's Coach Chick Werner's indoor trackmen will close their brief season in New York City tomorrow as they take part in the Indoor IC4A's in Madison Square Garden.

Gene Wetstone's gymnasts face Temple's powerful first string array in their season's supreme test immediately following the freshman cage tilt. Co-Captain Al Kligman may not see action because of a recurrence of a back injury.

Charlie Spedel's wrestlers will end their season at Syracuse, then go into a week of intense work in preparation for the intercollegiate at Yale next week.

The Nittany swimmers will try to make this a 6-3 season as they face Cornell in their last meet at Ithaca, tomorrow. Having won five-and-a-half points, the Galbathmen are planning on chalk-up another in the victory column in what promises to be the closest contest of the season.

Both State and Cornell have registered victories over Syracuse, their only mutual opponent. State won 44-30-4 and Cornell, 41-34.

Fencing what will probably be their toughest encounter of the year, Coach Harry Kuttler's undefeated fencers will take on Cornell, Hamilton (instead of Colgate, as scheduled), and Syracuse at Ithaca, N. Y. Co-captain Dean Foltz will pace the same combination that beat Lehigh last week.

Lawthermen Can Still Tie For Crown

By BOB WILSON

Penn State's dazed basketball Lions were wondering today if there wasn't something to this hoodoo stuff as they saw their attempt for a 12th victory and a "last chance" bid for Eastern Conference honors doomed to disappointment by the stern concentrated attack of Georgetown's first-place Hoyas.

Even their "third-time charm" try for league laurels was decisively stemmed when the Lawthermen lost to the Hoyas 42-29, at Washington D. C. Wednesday night.

Only a mathematical chance to tie for the title remains for State if the Lions can top Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh tomorrow night and duh Temple here next Wednesday, they can deadlock with Georgetown—provided Pitt upsets the Hoyas in their first game.

The interpretation of fouls by the officials was largely responsible for State's poor showing against the Hoyas. Lion players were penalized 41 the slightest provocation while Georgetown's close guarding was accepted despite obvious roughing tactics. State committed 37 fouls. Georgetown was charged with only seven.

Except for flashy passing on the part of both teams which failed to produce points and Georgetown's close guarding, the game was dull throughout.

The game was close for the first part of the first half, but the Hoyas took a 7-6 advantage which stretched to an 18-11 lead at the half. The Lions came within four points of closing the gap when the score stood 21-20 early in the second period. But thereafter the Hoyas won going away.

Charlie Prosser was high-scoring man for State with seven points. The Hoyas converted all seven of their foul tries.

NO BITE... NO BREAKING IN... NO BITTER TASTE

Officer Flanagan makes a Pinch!

I'm parkin' on the corner when all of a sudden—swish!—this college fella comes tearn' down the main street about 60 per.

So I crank up my iron horse and goes tearn' after him "Buddy," says I, nice and quiet like, "that was a town you was goin' through. Or didn't ya notice it?"

So he gives me a song and dance about havin' some motor trouble and bein' an hour late for a big date. But I says to him—

"Listen, Buddy, That ain't no excuse. The telephone company is still in business, so you better step right into the drug store here and call up that girl and tell her your story. And then take it easy. That's all."

So he says, "Thanks, officer. That's good advice, all right. A call would be cheaper than a fine, I guess?" "Sure!" I says, "and a lot cheaper than a bad accident!"
