S-O-S

LAST MONDAY a group of twenty students began circulating a petition calling upon the College to establish a new position of Assistant Dean of Men and to appoint to that position Joseph A Peel, twice president of his class and recently chizen the most outstanding senior

The new position of Assistant Dean of Men should be established, they say, because there exists at present no "suitable", connection between the administration and the student body

The stigma of paternalism—whether justified or not—is immediately attached to any effort of any administration officer, they add, and, this rves only to defeat its own purpose.
Therefore, they proclaim, the College should appoint an Assistant Dean of Men who could devote full time to helping the student body, par-ticularly in putting the new student government setup into operation, ironing out the kinks that it undoubtedly will experience in its infancy and— perhaps most of all—in aiding positively with the organization of the non fraternity men into a unified whole. Who, then, they add, can be a more logical choice for such a position than Joseph A Peel, a man who has been intimately attached to the stu-dent body throughout his undergraduate career here, a man who has come to learn of the problemconfronting the present-day students and who has for two years fought to promote then welfare? To the Collegian this argument seems to be based upon sound assumptions and sound logic.

THAT THE DEAN of Men could do with som help cannot be denied

While the women's staff includes a dean and the Dean of Men has been given the sole responsibility of supervising three times as many men. What's more, the women have the added advantage of being a well-knit body, living as they do in sororities and dormitories right on the campus to Pine Grove Mills and from Boalsburg to Port

The Collegian has yet to see a single college where the supervision of such a large student body is entrusted to one individual. The task is not only tremendous; it is absolutely impossible.

. In view of these circumstances, therefore, the Collegian differs with the group of petitioners in one specific instance. For the Collegian sincerely believes that what the Dean of Men needs is not one assistant, but two or three or four

That it is impossible to get this number in this age of strict economy is acknowledged. That even one assistant will be created is doubtful

However, the Collegian insists there is a definite need for assistants in the Dean of Men's of-fice. Until this need is answered, the College cannot hope to reach a truly friendly understanding

IN THE SPRING ...

IN THE TREASURY of the Borough of State College there rests today a sum of ninety dollars paid out of student class funds to finance the cost of repairing that portion of the road at the corner of Allen Street and College Avenue which was damaged during the mob riot last September. . The repairs were delayed purposely until after the close of the football season for fear that animpromptu celebration might cause additional damages The Borough, however, prom ised specifically to repair the road as soon as pos-

Now the football season has been over for four onths. Warm fall and winter days have slipped into history Yet the road remains unrepaired. The Collegian, therefore, calls upon Borough ended-to repair the road-or else refund it to

Teachers Go Payless
This system of financing has had some very distressing consequences in many school districts coal companies or other corporations control the courts which they have used to prevent the collection of taxes If one may accept the data published by David G Wittels in the Philadelphia Record, hundreds of steachers have ord, hundreds of steachers' have been secously affected by this subation. According to Wittels, 700 teachers in Schuylkill County me payless while in Luzerne County over 500 school employees go without salaries. In one district in Northumberland County done 5; employed teachers are reputed to be on relief According to data recently disclosed by Morris E. Leeds, President of the Philadelphia Board of Public Education, the Philadelphia Board of Public Education, the Philadelphia School District had a deflect of almost seven million dollars hast year, with larger deflects in prospect.

These difficulties are unfortunately not isolated phenomena but are duplicated in , many parts of this state

Philadelphia Board of Public Education is requesting that all its employees take a 10 per cent salary cut, while the Pittsburgh Real Estate Board advocates this salary reduction for all school employees in both Philadelphia and Pittsburgh Obviously any general program of salary reduction offers no sound solution to a school system already paying low salures. The entre-yistem of public school innaning must be overlivuled Above all, Pennsylvania must expand—its state and to all clusses of school districts if we are to averta general collapse of our public school system.

Makes Tax Proposals The Pennsylvania Federation of Pencheis has come forward with the following concrete tax proposals to make such state and pos-

We Women

With the report of the Pan-Hellenic constitution revision com-mittee Tuesday night, and the rushing committee's tentative code to be presented at the next coureil meeting, women's houses have much to consider and decide

The rushing questionnaire served its purpose well, and now the revisions committee will ask that any new rushing code be adopted for two years rather than one

The former rule that the two Pan-Hellenic delegates from each Pan-Hellènic delegates from each house be a junior and a senior, each elected for 'two years, will be merely a suggestion under the committee's new, plan. One delegate from a house must report the action taken by her soroity on material presented at the previous council meeting.

For the first time, Pan-Hellenic bridge fournament will not be limited to soroities, but open to all women Teams from do mitories and coopentive houses are unged and cooperative houses are urged to participate Popular opinion is apparently against Pan-Helleme pledge and know-your-sister parties If these plans for sponsoring inter-sorority acquaintances are discarded, pledge trainers must be responsible for educating their pledges should be instructed — perhaps conduct a training for pledge

'A Pan-Hellenic post office during lushing season, through which all sorolity rushing invitations and rushees replies will be distributed, has been recommended to eliminate much confusion and make violations more definite

An executive committee consist-ing of Pan-Hellenic officers and two advisors is suggested as an addition to the standing commitaddition to the standing commit-ties Other suggestions are that the secretary not be required to distribute copies of the minutes to each house, that the new policy legalding organization of new houses and the definition of pledge be included in the consti-ution; and that meetings be held at a jegular time but not on any set night —H L C.
