J. V. Gridders Meet Big Red Bears Today

Game To Open First Year For 'B' Eleven

Inaugurating Penn State's first season in Junior Varsity gridiron competition, a Nittany Lion "B" squad will meet a Cornell Jayvee eleven on Schoellkopf Field at Ithaca at 4 p. m. today.

The Lion "B" team, 17 strong, left this morning with the varsity squad, who meet the Big Red regulars tomorrow. Included in the squad are Irwin, Megargee, and Robb, ends, Creak, Kunkle, Engle, tackles, Margerum and Yoho, guards, Raynor and Lucas, centers, Kopach, Bates, Nonemaker, LaBalle, Curtis, Kinnaird, and Kins, backs.

Kins, who suffered an ankle injury early in the week, is not certain to see action. Lucas, a senior, has been named captain for the Jayvee battle.

One other game is slated for the Junior Varsity, against the Navy "B" team, at Annapolis, the Friday before the varsity set-off with Pennsylvania.

Trinity College has a history class conducted by a blind instructor.

Cornell, minus Peck-Holland-Spang-Roth and Co. has come through with another typical Carl Snively eleven. Building his team around nine returning lettermen, Snively pulled one of the biggest early season upsets of the year when his Big Red team shellacked Syracuse.

The Ithaca hopes were struck a hard blow early in the week with the announcement that Captain Vinnie Eichler, spectacular full-back, is through for the season. Eichler injured his knee early in the year and will be unable to see any more action.

Snively will probably start much the same lineup he used in the Syracuse and Princeton clashes, with Kirk Hershby and Alva Kelley at ends, Fred West and Nick Drahos at tackles, Louis Conitt and Howie Dunbar at guards, and Bud Finerman at center. In the backfield will be Walt Matuzczak at the blocking half, Mort Landsberg at full, White Baker at the tailback, and Hal McCullough at the running half.

Baker Pass Star
Baker and McCullough are the big guns of the Red offense. The former is an outstanding passer and a very capable runner which he proved in the Princeton battle Saturday. McCullough, though only weighing 166, is a triple-threat ace in every sense of the word.

In the line, Drahos and the two ends, Kelley and Hershby are standouts. Clams from the end of the Red are that these two terminals are better than Spang and Holland of last year's team.

College Awarded $148,231 Project

Improvement Of Grounds And Construction Of New Campus Facilities Planned

A far reaching non-federal works project amounting to $148,231 for the improvement of grounds and the construction of campus facilities at the College was announced here yesterday by George W. Ebert, Superintendent of grounds and buildings.

Announcement of presidential approval of the program which has been sponsored by the College board of trustees, came to Ebert through the office of Congressman James E. Van Zandt.

The program will include clearing and grubbing excavating, grading, laying stone bases, surfacing, building of sidewalks, fences and backstops for the tennis courts, and seeding and planting of shrubs.

The project which is not connected with the present program now underway here under GSA authority also includes several measures to prevent damage to the campus grounds similar to that which occurred during the severe rainstorm several weeks ago.

Installation of drainage pipe, inlets and catch basins, gutters, and curbs provided for in the measure is expected to prevent such damage in the future.

The date the project will start has not yet been announced.

Dr. Betts Prepares New "Reading" Text For Publication

A new textbook, which concerns some of the outstanding problems facing leaders in visual education today, is being prepared for publication by Dr. Emmett A. Betts, head of the Reading Clinic at Penn State.

"Differentiation of Instruction" is the tentative title of the text and the material in it was gathered by Dr. Betts during his research work here as well as on his extensive lecture tours which have carried him over the entire country.

Year Old Co-op Proves Value

Group Reaches Capacity Membership Of Over 90; Over 20 On Waiting List

After a year's test student co-operatives at Penn State have been pronounced, "Definitely a success," by Clarence Stevens '39, who this year is employed as a full-time manager.

The Student Co-operative Association is starting its second year with a capacity group of 91 members, six more than last year, and a waiting list of approximately 25.

Two houses are operated by the Association, one at 244 East Nittany avenue and one at 330 South Burrows street. The only hired employees are a cook for each of the houses and the full-time graduate manager. All the rest of the work is done by the members.

Success Illustrated
Living in the Nittany Co-op are 20 women. Thirty two additional members come in for board. Seven men live at the Burrows Co-op with 32 additional in for meals.

Each week the co-op members are charged $4 for board and $2.50 for room. At the end of the year they will have returned to them a share of the profit made by the Association.

The co-operatives were first established here last fall after the idea developed from a social inquiry trip to New York City under the sponsorship of the P.S.C.A.

Knox College, the original "Old Slwash" has been selected as the location for a series of "Old Slwash" motion pictures.
