Lion Soccermen Romp To 13-0 Win Over Tech

Bob Schuler
Hits Net For Three Tallies

Hartman's First Period
Marker Opens Scoring

By ED McLORIE
Amassing a total of 12 goals, including three by burly Bob Schuler, Penn State's rampaging soccer Lions ran roughshod over Carnegie Tech Friday afternoon to extend their unparalleled streak to 49 games without defeat.

Coach Bill Jeffrey sent in every man in uniform and even permitted Captain Schuler to play center forward during the last period. Big Bob tallied the first point in his colorful career, heretofore confined to the fullback posts, against the Tartans by a mere flip of the toe. His other points were registered as climaxes to brilliant passing plays.

The Tech outfit, obviously inexperienced, failed to check State advances from the opening tally when Van Hartman scored on a pass from Bigott five minutes after the "massacre" began. As indicated by the final score, the game could hardly be called a contest.

Bigott Scores Three Goals
Venezuelan Gus Bigott, continuing to flash his outstanding soccer, tied with Schuler for scoring honors with three tallies. On all three of Bigott's scoring drives, the fiery punter dribbled around the defensive men and outmaneuvered the goalie to sink hard shots into the net.

At the end of the first quarter, the Lions had only a two-point lead and added the same number of goals in the second period. Hartman and Bigott scored in the first and then Woody King and Bob Ernst broke into the scoring column in the second. Ernst's

Frosh Gridders Lose To Syracuse, 7-6

Handicapped by a bad start and an early touchdown pass by Syracuse, Penn State's yearling gridders swallowed a series of bad breaks and came back to score in the last minutes on a 51-yard pass-run play from Ralph Ventresco to End Jim Berline and would have made the score 7-7 had Sub Jack Fallon made good his extra point kick. The final tally was 7-6.

Cross-Country Team Hit By 'Ol' Man' Injury

By ED HALL
Whipped by the powerful green clads of Manhattan, trounced by the mighty Spartans of Michigan State, the Nittany cross-country men faced a possible licking from injury today as Bill Smith and Hermann Goffberg took their places with Alex Bourgerie on the casualty list with the Syracuse meet due Saturday.

Smith's injury was sustained in a time trial held last Saturday when he pulled a muscle in his leg. How serious it may turn out to be is not yet known. Goffberg is laid up with internal injuries. Both men may be lost to the harriers for the season.

Commenting on the fate that has befallen his charges, Coach Chick Werner indicated his disappointment over their showing in the Manhattan and Michigan State duals.

State Opens Drive

Facing a whitewash in the fourth quarter with but two minutes time remaining, Brown took a Syracuse punt on his 40 and ran it to the enemy 39-yard line. The Cubs received another heartbreak, however, on the next play when Bob Rice lost 10 yards on an end run.

Hope was fading when Ralph Ventresco faked back and let fly a long heave to lanky Jim Berline. Berline took it on the run on the 31-yard marker, shook of a tackler, and crossed the goal line standing up. Jack Fallon a sub sent in to kick the point, missed fire and the score stood at 7 to 6 when the whistle blew a moment later.

Not a one-sided affair, the game was strictly class AA football with both teams flashing brilliant form. The Penn State youngsters topped the Orange in first downs by 11 to 7. A feature of the game was the top-notch punting of the Lion's Galin Bailey and Morris of Syracuse. Both boys booted their teams out of bad holes several times.

Lion followers, stunned by the suddenness of the Big Red thrusts, saw all hopes for a recovery blow up in their faces, as sophomore scoring ace Bill Smaltz and Pepper Petrella were forced to withdraw from action a few minutes later. Petrella with a cracked rib and Smaltz with a recurrence of an old ankle injury.

Late in the first period, Coach Carl Sauevly's lads added insult to injury by scoring their third touchdown, with McCullough slipping through the wobbly Lion defense from the State 12-yard line on a reverse. Drahos kicked the extra point.

Red Scores At Will

The Big Red eleven, now taking every advantage of the demoralized Lion gridders, pushed over two more touchdowns before the first half ended. Bill Murphy, substitute Cornell back, tossed a pass to Jim Schmuck on the 25-yard stripe who scored from that point, and in a few minutes Mort Landsberg cracked the Lion line for another marker from the 3-yard line following a 34-yard drive. Drahos converted both points.

Late in the third quarter, an old Cornell tradition brought the sixth Big Red touchdown. Schmuck, on an end around, battered his way over the much-trampled Lion goal line to score from the 34-yard stripe. Lewis missed the extra point.

The Big Reds called it a day after Jack Bobrman had dashed around end for a 30-yard sprint as the same neared its closing minutes. Lewis bucked over for the final extra point.

One bright spot kept the otherwise tarnished afternoon from complete darkness. That was the brilliant play of Leon Gajecki, Lion center, who played his heart out on the defense during the first half. Gajecki was in on every tackle and until withdrawn from the massacre in the second half proved himself the best backer-up in the history of Penn State football.

Intramural Spotlight

The first rounds of fraternity intramural football ended last Friday night, while two independent teams met to start off the second lap.

Phi Sigma Kappa lost to Phi Kappa Psi, although neither team was ahead in points or first downs, the former losing because of a penalty. Phi Mu Delta won from Tri-angel, 6 to 0, and Kappa Delta Rho beat Beta Kappa, 12 to 6.

In the Independent game, Forestry Society won from Irvin Hall, 13 to 0.

Local Delegates At M. R. A. Conference

Sixty representatives from three colleges, Penn State, Birmingham, and Pennsylvania College for Women, attended a Moral Re-Armament meeting at Shingletown Gap Sunday afternoon.

Featured at the meeting were talks by several students who explained Moral Re-Armament working in daily life. The groups also discussed plans for furthering the movement in collegiate circles.

Cornell Tops Lion J-Vees

Bates, Kins, Kopach
Star For State Team

In what proved to be miniature preview of Saturday's varsity exhibition at the hands of Cornell's Bears, the Nittany Lion Junior Varsity dropped their inaugural game to the Cornell Bees, Friday afternoon, at Ithaca, 7-0.

A first quarter thrust by the Big Red juniors saw Jack Lewis, Bear halfback, plunge over from the four yard line to score the winning tally, following a 35 yard drive down field. Lewis also booted the extra point.

During the first half the Lion Jay-Vees were stymied by their own poor blocking and lack of reserve backs. With only five backfield men on the squad of 16 which made the trip, the Nittany eleven was forced to play almost the entire game with four ball-carriers, when Lou Labarre was forced from the game in its early moments by an injury.

The second half saw some improvement in the offensive play of Coach Johnny Patrick's proteges, but the Big Red's one touchdown lead proved too much to overcome. As the final whistle blew, the Lions had moved inside the Cornell 20 yard stripe by virtue of a brilliant catch by Harry Robb of Sam Kopach's pass.

Outstanding for the Lions was the defensive play of Wee Willie Bates, 150-pound sophomore end who was converted to a back. Carl Kins, sophomore halfback, also played well in the Lion backfield, as did Kopach Robb, another sophomore at end showed up well on both defense and offense.

Coach Liked Smaltz' Size

So 'Air Raid Bill' Got His Start At Alhquippa High

"The coach decided I was big enough to play football and told me to come out!" That's the way Bill Smaltz, 202 pound sophomore passing sensation, describes his start in the pique game. He played varsity on Alhquippa High School's eleven for four years, did all the passing was a member of two Beaver County championship teams.

Bill, who is 21, wants to coach football when he gets out of college. His current ambition "to beat Pitt this year."

"I had my biggest thrill and my most embarrassing moment in the Bucknell game," Bill declares, "the first when I threw a touchdown pass to Rollins, and the latter when I missed the extra point after asking Bob Higgins to let me kick it. Was my face red?"
