DRESS PARADE

By KNOBBY
In an effort to help all roommates who might be called back this week-end, just as they are leaving for a date, with the plea, "Please tell me what to wear," here's our idea of the perfect houseparty wardrobe.

On Friday night, wear the formal you look best in. Honestly, your date won't mind how often you've worn it if it is becoming. And if you velvet wrap isn't as warm as it might be, do be sensible and wear the jacket to your dress or a short sleeved cardigan.

Saturday for lunch and the game wear a light suit or wool-dress. The suit is almost a necessity under a swagger coat and you'll be glad you have it on when the cold winds blow across Beaver Field. The same clothes are all right for the tea dance after the game, but if you get a chance to go home and change, put on that sheet wool.

A semi-formal is usually in vogue for Saturday night, although some women prefer street length dresses.

Happy Houseparty!

Pitt has Walter Steiner, undefeated this year in dual meet competition. Steiner defeated Ray Fehr of Michigan State, the man who beat Bill Smith several weeks ago. In addition, Al Boulanger, IGAa outdoo, two mile champ, and McCabe, a consistently good runner, are back on the varsity. The rest of the team is made up of a capable sophomore outfit.

The team that will carry the Blue and White colors is not yet definitely known. Alex Bourgeois has recovered from his leg injury and will be in the starting seven along with Arnold Olsen, Graham Miller, Bill Smith, Frank Maule and Len Henderson.

Seventh place man will be chosen from among Vernard Kotz, Herb Nipson, Chet Snyder, George Harrison, Jim Hostettler and Jim Biadenbug.

CINEMANIA

Topping the town movie weekend bill for the HPQ's Paramounts' heart-thrilling, romantic drama, DISPUTED PASSAGE, playing at the Cathaum today and tomorrow.

The photoplay—a drama of mental conflict and devotion to an ideal—is taken from Lloyd C. Douglas' novel, "Disputed Passage." Capable directing by Frank Borzage has inspired the story with potent force and understanding realism.

Featured by Dorothy Lamour's beauty, which "is a radiant facet of her role," DISPUTED PASSAGE carries with it an emotional impact—an impact which involves the mutual hatred between a great doctor and his student, plus a love affair.

Akim Tamiroff's exceptional character performance as "Dr. Forster" is closely rivaled by John Howard's inspired role as "John Beaven," the student and lover.

Some 70 college and university presidents are graduates of Indiana University.

world-famous for her original modern monologues, in which she assumes all roles. The parts which she does not assume, she makes her audience experience through her superb acting ability.

During her numerous tours, Miss Skinner has been in every state of the Union except New Mexico, Arizona, and Idaho, the latter two to be taken in on her current tour. She has appeared in Mexico, Central and South America, and has been in Europe so many times that she has lost count of her trips.

Already announced numbers on the Artists' Course are the Don Cossack Choir, slated for December 12, and the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, on March 29, 1940.
