International Engagement

This story is of so great inter-national importance that I besi-Affairs.

It involves the University of Toronto boxing team, mighty Canadian champs reputed thrice magnar champs reputed thrice mighter than ever before, and the Pennsylvania State College box-ing team, comparative nobodies in the international sense of the sport

The two teams meet in Rec Hall tomorrow night at eight. And if press notices mean any thing. Penn State's chastened ring soldiers haven't a soap bubble's hance in a stone crusher of lick ing the Canadians.

What with two clergymen, a dentist, a chemist, an experience farmer, a cartionist and a coast guardsman—five intercollegiate champions in all—on the Toronto team, little wonder Penn State fans are pulling in their necks and predicting what damage and dire destruction this fabled Canadian aggregation will incur on Leo Houck's poor hil Nittany Li-Ons.

And yet, while Toronto's boxing victims sat ruefully licking their, sores in the wakes of that stalwart team, the good doctor Houck, undaunted and unimpressed by the advance propa ganda, was quietly easing his team through light drills prepar-atory to showing "them furen-ers" a thing or two about the manly art.

Five intercollegiate champs, a nysterious and fearsome thing ailed a "Senior Intramural Assauit" winner, an intrafaculty champ and a couple of trophy winners that's what Toronto will send against the Nittanymen, a 120-pound baiber and a mot-ley assortment of amateur wait-

Toronto completely wreck the Li-on squad? How many knockouts will there be? Does State have any kind of, a chance? Will the match have any bearing on in-ternational relations? What will fernational relations? What will Prime Minuster Chamberlain say if Toronto loses? Sports editor's note Any and all questions will be answered in Rec Hall at 8 p m. tomorrow 'Trp: Although the vaunted horde from Toronto won the Ca-padian Intercollegiate Champion-ship last ver. the team was beat ship last year, the team was beat-
