Sociology, Business, Education, Psychology, Law Are Other Topics

The program for the first series of six freshman career conferences, opening April 15 with a journalism talk by Robert E. Malick, editor of the Shamokin News Dispatch, was announced yesterday by Dean Charles W. Stoddard of the School of Liberal Arts.

Duwane V. Ramsey assistant professor of sociology, will discuss welfare work and applied sociology at the second conference April 17. On April 26, E. W. Nick, president of the Northern Equipment Company and member of the College Board of Trustees, will speak on the general business field, with William W. Litke, Bellefonte lawyer and instructor in political science here, scheduled to discuss opportunities in law May 1.

Dean Marion R. Trabue of the School of Education and Dr. Robert G. Bernreuter of the department of psychology will lead the conferences on their respective fields on May 8 and May 15, respectively. All the conferences will be held in Room 121 Liberal Arts at 7:30 p. m. except the first, which is scheduled at 11 a. m. in conjunction with the Journalism 2 class.

Every freshman is to be notified of the program by postcard, according to Dean Stoddard.

Murder

leads in their search for the killer.

At the afternoon press conference, shortly before the Collegian went to press, Lieut. Norman R. Annich of the State Police insisted that "nothing new" had been uncovered within the last 24 hours.

Annich immediately pointed out that this did not mean that the police were entirely "in the dark," with nothing to work on. He said that the department did not wish to release any statement until facts were definitely established.

Seek Death Car

Throughout the state, police are searching for the automobile which was used in the slaying, believing that the "murder car" contains the weapons used in the killing.

Two Wildwood policemen who arrived here yesterday cleared up several matters concerning the coed's actions during her residence there.

A "class" pin, found by the Bellhaven, N. C. police, proved to be a souvenir of Wildwood, N. J. and was in no way connected with the coed.

WPA Recreation Training School To Open Monday

The WPA Recreation Training School, which will draw WPA playground directors from throughout the state, will get under way here Monday and continue until April 20.

The annual tour will take the singers to Lancaster Monday, Wilmington (Delaware) Tuesday, Philadelphia Wednesday, and then to Fred Waring's radio program and a concert in New York Thursday.

Tom is one of the original members of Waring's Pennsylvanians. Although he left his brother's outfit several years ago to pursue a career in concert singing, he again is featured in the famous Waring arrangements with the renowned glee club.

Sammy Gallu recently sang with Waring in an Easter oratorio.

Included in the repertoire of the Glee Club this year is one of Tom's compositions, "Jonah." Also included during the trip will be a new composition by Tom, "Blades of Grass" which was adapted from the poem by Stephen Crane. It will be sung by Sammy Gallu.

75 Track Candidates Get 1st Practice Run On Outdoor Cinders

About 75 varsity and freshman track candidates ran on cinders yesterday for the first time this year, the varsity practicing strenuously for the Penn and Drake Relays only three short weeks away.

"The schedule's tough, material is weak, and conditions are bad," was Coach Chick Werner's summary of the outlook for the seven-meet Lion season.

He added that the team will probably be improved over last year's aggregation in the sprint and broad jump events but weaker in the hurdles and the pole vault.

A second call was issued for freshman candidates to report to freshman coach Bob Greive in the Water Tower. Only a few of the 75 candidates who have reported are freshmen, Werner said.
