Between The Lions

WITH DICK PETERS

Hither and Thither

Summing up the weekend from Penn State view point:

Bill Jeffrey's soccer boys are the closest thing to perpetual motion we know of—they just keep rolling along... a nice crowd turned out for the booters' inaugural, it was too bad there weren't enough seats to take care of the overflow... especially after college officials were warned that the usual number of bleachers would be insufficient... Van Hartman's head shot which scored the Nittany kickers first point of the year was one of the cleanest pieces of work we've ever seen on a soccer field... Incidentally, Captain Walt Hosterman started his first opening game on Saturday... since the Lion captain has been booting the gong around at State he has always missed the opening game due to injuries.

Over on New Beaver Field Saturday afternoon, Bob Higgins' pigskin boys were having a track meet with the freshman squad... Though the "vawsity" lads chalked up nine touchdowns, seven extra points, and a safety against the '44 aggregation, it is still pretty definite that Marty McAndrews is going to have one of his best frosh elevens in years... They're unusually big and there's a lot of them which all points to a mighty good season for the "young-uns"... We kind of lost track of the varsity's scoring plays, they were so numerous, and came so often, but we liked the one where Pepper Petrella took the ball and ran the pants off all the freshmen from Ag Hill to New Beaver Field to score standing up after a honey of a 70-yard dash.

A quick look around tells us that two of State's 1940 grid foes have already bitten the dust, Lehigh to a tough Virginia outfit, and Pitt to a still tougher Ohio State machine. Syracuse, West Virginia, Temple, and NYU all swamped their weekend opponents for easy wins.

Missing fire on but two games, the Ohio State-Pitt and Minnesota-Washington tussles, this writer kept his season average to date at .800 over the weekend. Thus far, the balance sheet shows, 16 correct prediction, 3 incorrect, and one tie.

Nittany Lions Enter Final Week Of Practice Drills

After showing a powerful attack which clicked against the freshman eleven last Saturday, the Nittany Lions began the final week of pre-season practice yesterday for the football season opener against Bucknell on New Beaver Field.

Coach Bob Higgins, satisfied with the varsity's 63-0 rout of the yearlings, limited his backs and ends to passing and kickoff drills yesterday while line coach Joe Bedenk sent his forward wall through an arduous blocking session.

Two varsity men were missing from the field. Carl Stravinski, regular tackle, aggravated an old knee injury and will be confined to the infirmary for two days. He is expected to be ready for Saturday's game.

Saturday's practice tilt with Marty McAndrew's freshman gridders was replete with thrilling events as the Lions drove, passed and zigzagged through the bewildered cubs for nine touchdowns, seven extra points and a safety.

Frosh Basketball Call

All candidates for freshman basketball are to report any day this week at 4 p.m. to Coach John Lawther in Rec Hall. Physical examination cards are necessary.

Lion Booters Down Bullets In Opener

Continuing from where they left off last year, the Nittany Lion booters swung their educated toes into action Saturday and started their eighth consecutive season without defeat by downing Gettysburg, 3-1, before the largest State gathering that ever witnessed a soccer match.

Van Hartman, outside right, shoved the Lions into a belated lead in the second quarter when he headed a pass from the right side past the Gettysburg goalie.

In the same period, Don Durain, outside left, slipped the ball into the net, and Anibal Galindo clinched the battle with another head thrust in the final quarter.

Yearling Gridders Rounding Into Form

Although obviously no match for the varsity in the game scrimmage between the two teams Saturday, the freshman gridders display improvement and show signs of being in top form when they meet Bucknell in less than two weeks.

Coach Marty McAndrews seems to share this view as he says "The boys looked pretty good against the varsity considering that they aren't used to game situations and have mastered only about half a dozen plays."

McAndrews said that in the scrimmage with the varsity the frosh looked much better than last year's yearlings looked when they met the varsity for the first time.

In yesterday's light practice, McAndrews moved Bernie Brosky from an end position to a tackle spot on the first team and Quentin Peters replaced Emil Mann at tail-back.

Lion Candidates

Juniors and sophomores aspiring to wear the Nittany Lion skin should report to Gene Wettstone in Rec Hall at 4 p.m. today.
