Bucknell Stresses Passing Attack

While the State Lions are putting on the finishing touches for Saturday's opener with Bucknell, Coach Al Humphreys has been drilling the Bisons through long aerial practices indicating that the visitors' chief weapon of attack will be in the air.

Since the Thundering Herd's supply of backfield material is none too plentiful, Humphreys has been giving everyone of this year's contingent of candidates a chance to pass. Laverne Dueger and Mel Knupp are among the outstanding tossers with Fred Fahringer and Gene Hayes, serious backfield threats, also demonstrating their ability in this department.

The Bisons' pass formations not only give more of the backs an opportunity to throw but also allow for more potential receivers. In the latter department, ends Fred Gore and Jesse Mair will see action against State.

A number of sophomore line candidates have been demonstrating their value as Bison reinforcements this fall. The most probable to crash the lineup are center, Stephen Sokol, guard, Phillip Van Sant and tackle Jim Fennell.

The 29-man Bucknell squad will leave Lewisburg Saturday morning by bus for State College.

Fencers Warm Up For Hard Program

Varsity fencing practice got underway yesterday, the swordsters getting an early start to warm up for another "suicide" schedule.

With the best fencing teams of the country on the list for Penn State fencers, Coach Harry Krutter will have to keep his boys stepping to stay on the blue side of the ledger.

Since Krutter took over the fencing team four years ago, the team has piled up a total of 16 victories to 9 defeats while playing against the major fencing squads of the East.

Speaking of this year's schedule, "Doc" Krutter dourly predicted that "we don't stand a chance against N.Y.U., Navy, or Seton Hall." With luck, he hopes to make a better showing against the other teams listed, though even there, he insists, victories are far from sure.

With Seto Hall the only newcomer, the Nittany swordsmen will tackle the following schedule this year:

- Jan. 24—Seton Hall, away.
- Jan. 25—Army, away.
- Feb. 8—Navy, here.
- Feb. 15—Cornell-Syracuse, away.
- Feb. 22—Pennsylvania, here.
- Mar. 1—Temple, away.
- Mar. 8—Lehigh, here.
- Mar. 14—Rutgers, away.
- Mar. 15—N.Y.U., away.

Between The Lions

WITH DICK PETERS

A One-Act Play

Scene—New Beaver Field. Time—Any afternoon about four o'clock. Characters—Bob Higgins, Marty McAndrews, Al Michaels, Earl Edwards, Joe Bedenk, football players, and Yehudi (denoting anyone whose name we didn't know).

Yehudi (running up from campus)—Hey Hig, here's those pictures of Saturday's scrimmage against the frosh.

Higgins—Got that one of Pepper Petrella's run? Or didn't you get any action shots?

Bedenk (looking at films)—Who's this blonde? How did she get in the middle of our football scrimmage?

Higgins—I'll take a look at that. Yehudi (sitting on the bench)—Hey Earl, where were you scouting over the weekend?

Edwards—West Virginia. Saw Greensburg Hi play Friday night, saw the West Virginia-Westminster game. Saturday and the Pittsburgh Steeler-Brooklyn Dodger game Sunday. I missed a prep school encounter.

Yehudi—Hey Marty, who's that little freshman back?

McAndrews—Hey frosh, what's your name?

Frosh footballer—Martin.

McAndrews—That's a good name.

Michaels—Listen, manager, we gotta have some new balls out here for punting practice. It makes all the difference in the world when you're kicking a new one or an old one.

Football player—Hey Joe, look at this dog. He won't let us alone so we can practice.

Bedenk—I'll practice you. Quit teasing that dog and start pulling out of that line before I kick you and the dog off the field together.

Dog—Woof!!!

Frosh Attack Improves In Scrimmage With J.V.'s

Although more than a few rough spots—especially passing—were evident, the yearling gridgers showed improvement as their offense got its first real test in yesterday's scrimmage against the junior varsity team.

Pass defense was another glaring weakness as the J.V.'s, led by diminutive Bill Mazzocco and Sam Kopach, unwrapped a surprisingly good aerial attack. Early in the scrimmage the junior varsity gridgers set the freshmen back with two consecutive heaves that netted a total of 35 yards.

Jack Banbury, freshman fullback, showed plenty of power as he drove through the J.V. line behind efficient blocking by Aldo Cenci, quarterback.

Detroit Beats Cincinnati, 7-2, In Initial Encounter

Special to the Daily Collegian

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2—Scoring five in the second and two in the fifth, the Detroit Tigers won the initial victory of the World Series today, 7-2.

The hard-slugging Tigers bounced the mighty Paul Derringer out of the box with five hits and a walk. Buck Newsom was the winning hurler.

Although Bucknell and Penn State have clashed 29 times in the last half-century, no game has ever ended in a tie.

Booters Keep Feet Warm

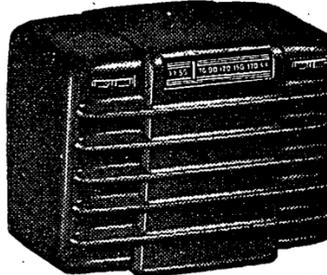

With the first triumph of their 1940 season and consecutive victory number 54 behind them, the Lion soccermen are diligently practicing every day in preparation for the next tilt scheduled with Western Maryland on October 12.

The two sophomore fullbacks who replaced Bob Schuler and Dutch Lange did a very commendable job of filling the shoes of the former Nittany stars. Also outstanding was Captain Walt Hosterman who played brilliantly both on the offense and defense.
