Michigan State Invades Nittany Lair For Five-Mile Cross-Country Duel

By ROSS LEHMAN

Captain Bill Smith will lead the Nittany Lion cross-country squad into its season's debut against the strong-winded Michigan State harriers this afternoon at half-time in the Penn State-West Virginia fracas.

Roaring a challenge across the high Nittany hills, the Lions are prepared to combat a Spartan seven which includes five veterans on its roster, including Captain Eddie Mills who placed 13th in the IC4-A's last year and Al Mangan who was the U. S. Olympic 50,000 metre walking champion in 1936.

Lightweight Bill Smith, who turned in a 26:54 time-trial this week, is expected to show the Spartan harriers his flying feet in the five-mile grind today.

The number two and three spot has caused Coach Chick Werner plenty of trouble because the majority of the squad has run a 28 minute mile, almost two minutes behind Smith's anticipated time. Alex Bourgerie and Max Peters have indicated that they may be potential running mates of Smith, but so far have failed. Today may be the answer.

Only one change in State's lineup has been announced. Vern Kotz, recently recovered from an injury will replace Clair Hess, who placed seventh in this week's time trials.

The lineups with numbers follow:

Penn State—Smith, 1; Bourgerie, 2; Peters, 3; Thiel, 4; Kotz, 5; Snyder, 6; Wheeler, 21.

Michigan State—Anderson, 30; Mangan, 32; Mills, 33; Monroe, 34; Page, 35; Scott, 36; Smith, 37; or Vanvelzor, 40.

Frosh Play Bisons In Opener, 10 a.m.

Handicapped by injury and faced with a reputedly tough foe, the frosh gridders will open their season against Bucknell on New Beaver Field at 10 a.m. today.

Bucknell is reported to have one of its strongest and biggest yearling elevens in years. The starting line averages almost 200 pounds in weight and the backfield is well over 180.

West Virginia U. must get a new "Mountaineer" this fall. The familiar Slim Arnold, who has donned the traditional garb for the past few years, tripped to the altar during the summer and isn't expected to return to the University.

New Cheering Sections Bring Favorable Comment

The new cheering sections, located in each section from the 10th to the 20th rows, met with wholehearted approval from Coach Bob Higgins, Football Captain Leon Gajecki, and All-College President Arnold C. Laich.

In a statement today, Higgins said: "I believe that if a cheering section gets together, they'll have a lot of fun. Good cheering is bound to have an affect upon the team."

"Cheering like we had at the Pitt game gets the team into proper spirit," said Gajecki. "If we have the crowd behind us, we feel we can't lose."

Laich's opinion was, "Having the cheering section centralized can't help but work. I like the idea of getting the cheering here at Penn State organized."

Lions Face W. Virginia

Krouse, who played three fourths of the Bucknell game and scored the only touchdown, will start at wingback in place of Craig White.

Veteran Chuck Peters, fully recovered from the three-week shoulder injury returns to his old place at tailback. Pepper Petrella is relegated to the role of climax runner after doing iron man duty in the season opener last Saturday.

Lion followers pin their victory hopes on the all-veteran forward wall. With the exception of junior Mike Garbinski at left guard, a battle-scarred array of seniors will attempt to stop Mountaineer thrusts at the line. Carl Stravinski, giant left tackle, has recovered from a knee injury and returns to the starting lineup after missing the first fray.

Veteran halfback Don McCann will be the Mountaineers' chief offensive threat as the visitors hope to regain their winning form after dropping a tough 20 to 7 decision to a formidable Fordham outfit last Saturday. Southpaw Charlie Seabright and Johnny Carlis will handle the quarterback and fullback assignments respectively. The only change in the West Virginia backfield will find Dick McElwee taking over Ike Martin's left halfback spot.

Coach Bill Kern is expected to make four changes in the Mountaineer line. The entire right side with Johnny Shonk at end, Walt Pike at tackle, and Vic Peelish at guard will remain intact. The left forward wall has been shifted for today's battle. Tom Gillolly will start at center, Vincent Cimono at guard, Vic A'Hearn at tackle and Bob Mellace at right end.

Alpha Zeta Parties Alums

Alpha Zeta alumni will be guests at an informal banquet and open house in the chapter house at 5:45 p.m. today. Guest speaker will be Mr. D. T. Haig, head of the division of Silvics in the Forestry Service at Washington, D. C.

Jeffreyemen Face Tough Foe In Second Battle

By BILL McKNIGHT

Bill Jeffrey's ace booters will attempt to chalk up consecutive victory number 55 at 1 p. m. today when they meet the Western Maryland soccer eleven here in the second game of the Lion season.

The Green Terrors bring a team composed of seven regulars from last year's squad. The last time the Nittanymen opposed Western Maryland was in 1938 when the Lions outmaneuvered and outplayed the Terrors to the tune of 12-0.

This score was almost a collegiate record in itself and it may be that today the Penn State booters will surpass even that total.

The Lions held a light practice yesterday afternoon, the greater part of which was taken up in demonstrations for the benefit of the photographer from Life magazine who is on the campus to make a pictorial record of the squad for a future feature in Life.

The lineups:

Pos.	Penn State	W. Maryland
G.	Leskaras	Hancock
L.F.	Freeman	Schockley
R.F.	Heck	Blair
L.H.	Green	Cook
C.H.	Megrail	Jordan
R.H.	Hosterman	Windsor
O.R.	Taylor	McWilliams
I. R.	King	Elias
C.F.	Ernst	Robinson
I. L.	Corman	Tomlinson
O.L.	Durain	Tarbutton

J. V. Gridders Play Bears Here Today

Cornell supplies the opposition for the first Junior Varsity football game of the year on New Beaver field practice gridiron at 1 p.m. today.

Coach Danny DeMarino has whipped a squad of 35 men into shape for the battle and an exciting game is assured as Cornell's junior varsity teams are generally powerful.

The tentative starting line-up consists of Shrum and Mall at the end posts, Hall and Kronas at tackle, Valla and Perugini at guards, Raysor at center, Stauffer at tailback, Deidrich at fullback, Phillips at wingback, Shaunency at blocking back.

WITH DICK PETERS

The BIG Game

Usually the most important game in a football campaign does not come until late in the season, but the Lions are faced with their most crucial battle this afternoon, though it is only the second game on the schedule.

If the Lions get through West Virginia, hampered as they are with worst crop of injuries since New Beaver Field was a cow pasture, then you can bet that the 1940 State team will turn in a good season from here on in.

The Mountaineers will take the field today, anxious for blood and pride, having lost last week to Fordham. State will take the field, probably at its lowest ebb, minus at least three of its most capable performers.

A Nittany victory will mean that the Blue and White gridders can take almost two weeks preparatory work for the next major combat which will be with Temple as little trouble can be expected from Lehigh next Saturday. That'll give Bob Higgins' boys plenty of time to recover from present wounds.

Probably you're wondering how the Lion gridders have taken their trouble this week, and whether they think they can clip the Mountaineers this afternoon. Well, they DO think they can win.

And so do I, in one of the most thrilling games you'll see this year.

Though in secret I picked Detroit to win the World Series in four games, I'll take a deep breath and hold it until:

Pitt bumps off Southern Methodist. Rutgers runs down Lehigh. Boston College tars and feathers Temple. NYU hangs one on Syracuse. Ohio State edges out Northwestern. Fordham puts the needle to Tulane. Penn scrapes some ivy off Yale. Princeton torpedoes Navy. Clemson squirms over Wake Forest.
