

Boro Council Defers Action On Depot Change

The resolution of the All-College Cabinet requesting the Borough Council to reconsider moving the bus depot off College avenue was presented to the Council at its meeting last night and was referred to the police committee.

The report of the police committee in regard to all-night parking was read to the Council by the Burgess, and included recommendations to designate one-side parking only on certain streets, other than Allen street, a portion of Beaver avenue, College avenue, and Atherton street; to install necessary street signs before House-party weekend; and to prohibit all parking on Ridge avenue.

Burgess Wilbur F. Leitzell reported that 150 cars less had been parking on the streets all night as a result of the parking ordinance.

A motion was presented to have the borough solicitor draw up an amendment to the all-night parking ordinance to have certain streets, to be designated by the police committee and the Burgess, made one-way streets with parking on one side only. The motion was tabled until the next meeting in order to give the police committee and the Burgess time to consider specific street designations.

Two-Day History Conference Ends

The ninth annual conference of the Pennsylvania Historical Association climaxed its two-day program Saturday with a business and discussion meeting here in the morning and a luncheon and tour at Bellefonte in the afternoon.

Approximately 150 delegates were present for the business meeting in Room 121 Liberal Arts Saturday morning. Following the meeting, papers were presented concerning "The Scotch-Irish of Pennsylvania."

In the afternoon the Centre County Historical Society sponsored a luncheon at the Penn Belle Hotel in Bellefonte to commemorate the town's three governors, Hastings, Curtin and Beaver. During the program, papers were presented concerning each. After the luncheon a tour of points of interest in and around Bellefonte was held as the final feature of the conference.

Gullo Forms Training Band For Student Musicians

Frank Gullo, assistant professor of music and director of the ROTC band, announced yesterday the formation of a training band for the purpose of providing guidance and experience for students who desire instruction in instrumental music.

The band is open to all students and will be conducted in the form of a clinic with the first meeting scheduled for Thursday from 4 to 5 p.m. in 401 Old Main. Instruction in reading music will be featured along with individual aid on the technique of playing various instruments.

Players who failed to qualify for Blue Band, ROTC band, or orchestra will be offered an opportunity to receive additional experience to enable them to try out again later for any of the musical organizations.

Collegian Price Slashed; 122 Issues For $2.00

The price of The Daily Collegian for the rest of the 1940-41 year has been cut to $2.00 for local delivery, Lawrence S. Driever '41, business manager, has announced. There are 122 of the 150 scheduled issues remaining.

Mail rates for the rest of the year have been cut from $3.25 to $2.75. Rates for the second semester will remain as announced: $1.50 local and $2.00 by mail.

Subscriptions will be received at the Collegian Office, 313 Old Main.

Engineers Stage First Parade of Year Today

The Engineer unit of ROTC will hold its first parade today at 4 p.m., the military department has announced. The parade will be formed just north of the Armory and the review will take place immediately at the rear of the old Library.

Colonel F. G. Kellond will observe the parade as part of his inspection of the Corps here at the college.

Scabbard and Blade will hold its second meeting of the year tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. Colonel Kellond and Col. Ambrose R. Emery will be the principle speakers. An invitation to this meeting is extended to all advanced ROTC students.

Cabinet To Begin Work On 1941 Dad's Day Plans

A plan to lower football ticket prices for the Dad's Day game next year will probably be broached at the All-College Cabinet meeting tonight, Arnold C. Laich '41, All-College president, said yesterday.

School council budgets, which were reconsidered at a special Interclass Finance Board meeting last night, will come before Cabinet for final approval. Only one budget, the Education School Council's, was okayed last week.

Students Seek Absentee Vote

See editorial on page two.

Absentee voting for Pennsylvania will get a push from Penn State students as a result of a postcard drive scheduled to begin today under the joint sponsorship of The Daily Collegian and the All-College Cabinet.

Free postcards will be provided at Student Union to all students who will participate in the drive by writing to their legislators to ask a stand in favor of the absentee vote.

Also on hand at Student Union will be a list of candidates for the state legislature and the senate arranged according to the districts they seek to represent. Both the postcards and the list of candidates will be placed at Student Union at noon.

The purpose of the drive, which All-College Cabinet tentatively okayed last Tuesday, is to bring about the enfranchisement of the 2,000 Penn State students over 21 years of age but hardly able to vote because they can not afford the time or expense of going to their home polling places.

Students participating need not be 21, it was pointed out. They are asked to get the attitudes of the legislators and to communicate the stands taken to Collegian.

Draft Will Call Only 65 Students

With one out of 24 draft registrants to be called in the first draft of 800,000 men about 65 students will be selected, it was disclosed yesterday.

The quota for Pennsylvania, with 1,235,442 registrants, has been tentatively set at 61,552, with half to be called by March 1. Students registered on the campus numbered 1,554 and it was unofficially indicated that the proportions which apply in the state will also be effective here.

Unlike other registrants, however, students will be permitted to defer actual training until the end of the academic year provided they request this deferment of their local draft boards.

The tentative quotas set by Capt. Robert H. Owens, chief of the quota division of Selective Service headquarters, include credits for the men each state has contributed through voluntary enlistment.

To Attend Meeting Today

Prof. Rudolf K. Bernhard, head of mechanical engineering, will attend a meeting of the fundamental research division of the Welding Research committee in Cleveland, Ohio, today.

Mercury Vapor Tubes Light Land Grant Mural

Mercury vapor tubes to provide permanent lighting for the Land Grant Mural were installed yesterday in the main lobby of Old Main.

The tubes which give daylight effect to the fresco provide the same illumination that Henry Varnum Poor used while painting the mural.

There is a possibility that the decorative chandelier which obstructs a clear front view of the mural may be dismantled and other means of illumination provided for in the lobby. However, no definite action has yet been taken.

Reprimands Freshmen

L. Elinor Benfer, WSGA Judiciary Committee chairman, criticizes freshmen for their discourteous conduct and attendance at the WSGA-PSCA-sponsored class meetings held every two weeks. (For story, see column one.)

'Family Portrait' Rehearsals Start

Rehearsals for "Family Portrait," Players show to be presented December 6 and 7, started last night under the direction of Frank S. Neusbaum, assistant professor of dramatics.

Only nine of the 30 speaking parts in the cast have been announced. The rest will probably be filled next week, Prof. Neusbaum said.

"Family Portrait" brings Jesus' family to the stage and shows His influence on it. Jesus, himself, never appears. The play was written by Lenore Coffee and William Joyce Cowen.

Players already cast are Lucetta Kennedy as Mary, the mother of Jesus; Joanne M. Palmer '43 as Mary Cleophas; Marilyn M. Griffith '42 and Civia Cohen '42 as Reba and Naomi, daughters-in-law of Mary; and Aimee Sobott '42 as Mary Magdalen.

The four sons of Mary, James, Joseph, Simon, and Judah, are played by Carroll E. Hippensteel '43, Howard M. Oppenheimer '43, Philip W. Eichholtz '43, and William Cissel '43.

James Ambandos '43 is cast as a disciple, John W. Fritz Jr. '41 portrays a rabbi, and Theodore Whitehurst '41 has the part of Nathan.

Doherty '42 Selected Independent Chairman

Gerald F. Doherty was elected chairman of the Independent Party of the junior class to succeed Earle L. Kemmler, chairman last year, at a meeting Thursday night.

Kemmler was installed in a new office, the vice-chairmanship. Betty A. Bischoff will serve as secretary for this year.

The social committee, including Irene Toth, Janet Herzog, Bob Kelly and Bob Wasser, announced that arrangements are being made for a combination dance and mixer.

Mrs. Grieve Injured

Mrs. Robert S. Grieve, wife of the freshman track coach, received a fractured left ankle and a broken nose in an auto crash at the foot of Skytop mountain early Sunday morning. Mrs. Grieve was rushed to the Centre County Hospital at Bellefonte.

'44 Class Meeting Ultimatum Made By Benfer, Corbin

In a joint reprimand to the freshman class L. Elinor Benfer '41, WSGA Judiciary chairman, and W. Lewis Corbin '41, Tribunal chairman, required the attendance of every freshman at the PSCA-WSGA mass meeting in Schwab Auditorium at 7 p.m. today.

Dr. Robert G. Bernreuter, director of the College psycho-educational clinic, will lecture on "This Business of Personality," in the third of the five class meetings.

Claiming that "great discourtesy has been shown to faculty leaders who have offered advisory opportunities which no class has ever received before," Miss Benfer expressed her disapproval of the lack of attendance displayed by the freshmen.

Miss Benfer intimated that freshman coeds have no excuse for missing these brief lectures which contain invaluable tips for a better Penn State student life. Women will be checked through dormitory chaperons, she added.

W. Lewis Corbin, Tribunal president, said that "Tribunal had taken steps to insure the attendance of the men," and announced that campus leaders would usher at the meeting.

Arnold C. Laich '41, All-College president, will officiate as chairman and Walter Sottung '41, head cheerlead, John W. Dague '42, and Edwin S. Jones '41, will lead the group in Penn State cheers and songs.

Late News Bulletins

London — "England will have air supremacy as well as domination of the seas next year," declared Winston Churchill last night. Nazi bombs fell on London and South England on the 45th night of air siege of the English capitol. British bombers blasted factories in Germany and extended their raids to the Italian industrial centers, Milan and Turin, the Air Ministry reported. High military authority declared that a mass attack against Egypt will be launched by the Axis powers in the near future.

Washington—The FBI is aware of the spy situation and alien problem in the United States. The bureau warns of the 5,000 potential saboteurs now working in key factories around Detroit, and declares that the NLRB and the unions prevent the discharge of those employees who cannot furnish suitable records of citizenship and past activities.

Ankara — Turkish newspapers made outspoken protests and threats to the Axis powers that any intervention in the Balkans would cause Russian assistance to be sent to the Turks.

Washington — President Roosevelt signed a bill providing for the organization of a "home guard" to replace the National Guard recently called to active service. Any state that wishes to establish a unit may but it is not compulsory.
