11 O'Clocks Granted For This Sunday Night

Eleven o'clock permissions have been granted for this Sunday night to upperclass coeds returning from the Penn State-Temple football game in Philadelphia and those remaining in State College, WSGA Senate announced last night.

Freshman coeds returning from Philadelphia Sunday night will be allowed 11 o'clock permissions but those remaining in State College must be in by 9 p.m.

Records Show No Enrollment Drop

"Contrary to the statement in last Sunday's New York Times," said Frank D. Kern, dean of the Graduate School, "enrollment has risen by 26 over last year's enrollment at the same period."

The New York Times said, "Penn State, with a general increase, records a decrease of 163 in the graduate schools traceable to acceptance of positions in industries affected by the national defense program. In the case of graduate students majoring in engineering alone, there were nine resignations arising from this cause."

Opposed to this statement is the fact that enrollment this year is 524, while last year's enrollment was 498. There was a decrease according to figures now obtainable, in the number of students enrolled in the agriculture, engineering, and liberal arts, but an increase in education, chemistry, and mineral industries. However, this is insignificant because of the natural variation from year to year.

Except for a decrease recorded in enrollment for 1934-35 enrollment has steadily risen every year. It was naturally expected to drop again this year because of the defense situation, but so far the facts are contradictory.

Murphy, Dougherty Given WSGA Posts

Jane Murphy '44 was appointed the second freshman senator and Marion Dougherty '44 was named to WSGA Judicial Committee by WSGA Senate last night.

The other freshman senator is H. Ann Carruthers who was elected at the freshman mass meeting two weeks ago and the other Judicial member is Ruth Popp, who as sub-chairman of Freshman Council, is automatically on the committee.

Both senators hold office for a term of one year while Judicial committee members retain office for their four years in College.

Sadie Hawkins Day Set November 9; To Be Climaxed By Spinster Skip

Following the action of Sadie Hawkins' father, who created a holiday in Dog Patch for his ugly daughter to catch a husband, All-College Cabinet voted to set aside November 9 as Sadie Hawkins Day here at its meeting last night.

Although national Sadie Hawkins Day will be observed on other campuses November 2, Penn State coeds will wear skirts and shoes which facilitate running after the men of their choices at the Cabinet date since houseparties prevent date reversals on the national day.

The day when women will adopt Dog Patch's Sadie's tactics of chasing prospective husbands will culminate in Mortar Board's Spinster Skip in White Hall from 9 to 12 p.m. with music by the Campus Owls.

Decorations for the dance will follow the Sadie Hawkins theme, according to Ruth Goldstein '41, decoration chairman. Comic strip paper dolls and Little Abner sketches by Jean C. Craighead '41 will provide the setting for the dance when coeds escort their dates.

The male "Catch-of-the-Campus" will be crowned at the Skip.

Penn State GOP Takes First Step

Following up the attempt to form a Penn State chapter of the College Republicans of America (CRA), the initial step was taken last night when James S. McKelvey '41, acting as temporary chairman, announced the following names as charter members of the chapter:

Robert Z. Torrance '43, Jack W. Brand '41, Clarence Huling '41, William O. Meyers '42, Charlie A. Reid '41, Elinor Benfer '41, H. Edward Wagner '41, Adam A. Smyser '41, Ronald F. Crawford '41, Beatrice McKechnie '41, Roger S. Findley '41, H. Morell Roller '41, Thomas J. Robinson '41, and George Parrish '41.

Zeigler '42 Named Secretary of WSGA House

Betty L. Zeigler '42 was elected secretary of WSGA House of Representatives last night and committees were appointed for the WSGA Christmas drive, exchange dinners, and etiquette.

Co-chairmen of the Christmas drive are Elizabeth Kinsloe '42 and Anita M. Knecht '42; Dorothy E. Salsmann '42 and Agnes Peebles '41 are in charge of exchange dinners, and Marion E. Sperling '42, and M. Elizabeth McFarland '43 head the etiquette committee.

Twenty-four women make up WSGA House of Representatives with one representative from each woman's fraternity, one from each upperclass down town dorm, four from Atherton Hall and one from Grange Dormitory.

Sherman Emphasizes Freshman Dating Rule

Freshman women may not date off campus, in dormitories, or in men's fraternity houses before 5 p.m. Saturday, according to a restatement of the rule by Margaret K. Sherman, Sophomore Senator, last night. Violators will be dealt with by WSGA Judicial Committee.

Conflicting Actions Confuse Drive

What action WSGA will take on its proposed war relief drive was uncertain today after the conflicting actions taken last night by WSGA Senate and the All-College Cabinet.

In a meeting at 8 o'clock, the WSGA Senate approved a drive for funds for the British War Relief Society to be conducted from November 4 to 9.

An hour later, All-College Cabinet met and adopted a motion that all war relief drives should be gathered into one campaign to be conducted next spring.

The Cabinet motion came after a proposal was made to have a drive sponsored by student government for funds for the World Student Service Fund. This was passed up in favor of the motion for a united drive.

Elinor L. Weaver '41, WSGA president, reported after the Cabinet meeting that no final WSGA action could be forthcoming until the Senate meets again next Tuesday.

Student Art Group Picks Committee For Activities

Selection of a committee of five marked the organization of the Student Art Group last Friday. The committee, whose purpose is to promote activities throughout the year, is composed of Alice Freeman '41, Ruth Licht '42, Harold Raab '42, James Cohen '42, and Richard Wolters '42.

The purpose of the group, which is to stimulate art appreciation through student-conducted meetings, was revealed by Wolters who spoke on "The Technical Analysis of Paintings." He explained various scientific methods for testing the authenticity of paintings.

The next meeting of the group, open to anyone interested in art appreciation, will probably be held November 8.

Mac Hall Holds Tea-Dance

Novelty dances and refreshments were featured at the tea dance given by Mac Hall women yesterday afternoon. Marjorie E. Siebert '43 was in charge of arrangements.

We, The Women— About Gardens, Art And School Spirit

IT WAS with regret that we watched the flower garden in front of the Zoology building being plowed under, but it is with poignant distress that we learn the 78-year-old campus beauty spot will be replanted—but with grass. Soothing green will never satisfactorily replace the brilliant colors of the first College garden.

WITH EVERYTHING being discussed in terms of national welfare, communal good, and Americanism these days, it is good to see that our country's culture is not being left in the background. There has been an important swing to American music, literature, and art which receives fresh impetus from such organizations as the newly-formed Students Art Group which will present non-technical art appreciation talks which everyone may attend.

DEDUCING that the decadence of College spirit has been proportional to the increase of coed enrollment is as inane as claiming a native who shot a buffalo with a bright red arrow would always have the same hunting luck when toting the exact missile.

Members selected for the women's varsity quartet and the vocal ensemble were announced yesterday by Lola Saska '41, Louise Homer Club president.

said, until yesterday morning when the room was ready to open for the first time this year. Lewis C. Cavalier '41, Peter G. Fetzko '41, and Walter M. Kniaz '41 were named to investigate the sudden switch in plans.

A committee of Jack W. Brand '41, Richard M. Geissinger '41, Marjorie A. Harwick '41, and H. Leonard Krouse '42 was appointed to determine if a plan could be worked out to give parents a special price on football tickets for the annual Dad's Day game.

Robert N. Baker '41, Arnold C. Laich '41, and Rice were selected to act as an advisory group to Soph Hop committee.

Action on school council budgets was postponed until the next meeting of Cabinet. Interclass Finance Board was unable to meet Monday and the board must act on the budgets before they can be considered by Cabinet.

Drydock Opening Date Moved To November 16

In order to cooperate with the Mortar Board's Scholarship Dance, which will be held November 9, the opening date of Drydock has been changed from November 9 to Saturday, November 16, it was announced yesterday by Emer C. Flounders '41 and Robert N. Baker '41, co-chairmen of the soft drink night club.
