

Roosevelt Opens First Peace-Time Draft Lottery

The nation's first peace-time draft lottery was opened at noon yesterday by President Roosevelt as plans were virtually completed to call 800,000 men for training by next June 15.

Printed below are answers to specific questions about the draft as it affects college students. This practice will be continued and students having questions should leave them at the Daily Collegian office, Room 313 Old Main, not later than 4 p. m. of the day preceding publication.

Question: What does the draft lottery, which started yesterday, mean?

Answer: The lottery merely determines the order in which registrants, unless deferred or exempted, will be called for training.

Q.: How can I determine my serial number?

A.: By applying to the local draft board in your home district. This may be done either by letter or by appearing in person. However, it is not necessary for registrants to know what their numbers are.

Q.: Will I be notified if I am called in the draft?

A.: Yes, your local draft board will mail you a questionnaire when your turn comes.

Q.: When will the first men be called?

A.: On November 18. Thirty thousand men will be called at that time and additional calls have been fixed through next June 15 for the induction of a total of 800,000.

Q.: How and when must I arrange for deferment of training?

A.: College students will be deferred until the end of the current academic year. This deferment is not automatic and students must ask local boards for it at the time they receive questionnaires.

Coeds To Knit For War Relief

Until the start of the combined All-College Cabinet and WSGA drive for war relief funds, coeds will knit helmets, sleeveless sweaters, regular sweaters, fingerless mittens, and socks for soldiers with yarn and needles supplied by the local British War Relief chapter. Mrs. C. R. Austen and Mrs. Nelson W. Taylor will be in charge, WSGA Senate announced last night.

Bridge benefits and collection of old clothes, both from men and women students, have been placed under a committee named by WSGA Senate last night. Serving on the committee are Janet L. Eyer '42, Sylvia P. Schmidle '42, H. Ann Carruthers '44, and Betty Story '44. Seeing the clothes are dry cleaned and packed will be a committee function.

Committee members have requested that students bring old clothes from home to contribute to the drive provided there are no British War Relief chapters there. Non-knitting coeds should contact committee members so special classes may be formed to give knitting instructions.

Dr. and Mrs. Taylor spoke to WSGA Senate last night to suggest methods by which coeds could aid war relief before the drive began.

Warnock Urges Students To Use Paved Sidewalks

Men students coming on campus from the Garner Street and College Avenue direction are urged to use the paved walks instead of cutting across the Atherton Hall terrace which faces College Avenue, Arthur R. Warnock, dean of men, announced yesterday.

"Although no path has been worn in the grass," Dean Warnock said, "continued tramping on the terrace, by students eager to get to classes will cause many bare spots in the turf."

Houseparty Rules Made For Frosh

This Friday noon dating restrictions for all freshmen will be removed for houseparty weekend, it was announced last night by W. Lewis Corbin '41, chairman of Tribunal. Dress customs may be removed Friday at 5 p.m. for those with dates.

Tribunal members were entertained by a completely original version of the Alma Mater last night by Charles Zierdt, a member of the glee club. The sign which he will begin wearing at 1 p.m. today tells of his sad plight: "I'm In the Glee Club, But I Don't Know My Alma Mater." If anyone is in doubt as to just how the Alma Mater really is sung, Charles will be singing it every day at 1 p.m. in front of Old Main.

Fenton Kauffman may find it difficult, but he is required to carry a pail full of water, in which a small boat will float, and at the same time continually hop, skip, and jump around the campus. His Soph Hop plug rhymes like this: "Bob Chester's On Top; See You At Soph Hop."

Another crack at the indifference of the upperclassmen is taken in Leonard S. Singer's placard: "Upperclassmen And I Don't Believe In Pep Rallies."

Other offenders to receive penalties last night were: Huber Clapp, Walter Blatz, Albert Skemfeld, and James Harter.

Talk On Dating Code Tonight At IFC Meeting

A meeting of Interfraternity Council will be held at the Delta Tau Delta house at 7 p.m. H. Edward Wagner '41, president of IFC, announced yesterday.

A talk concerning IFC's new dating code and its enforcement by Prof. Sheldon C. Tanner, IFC faculty advisor, will be the principal business of the evening.

Last Laugh Is On Froth--Censor Postpones Fall Houseparty Issue

Froth, alleged humor magazine of Penn State, will not honor house party weekend this year due to circumstances now beyond its control. The long awaited has occurred. Censorship has clamped iron bonds on a wriggling Frothy. For the first time in many years and for the first time since Prof. Louis H. Bell, department of journalism, took over the arduous and doubtful honor of advising this publication, has the censorship power been employed.

Instead of appearing as scheduled on November 2 with material honoring house party, a more sedate and humbled Froth will ap-

Student Cabinet Studies Plan To Urge Enlargement Of Dean Of Men's Office

Action Begun To Lower Dad's Day Game Prices

Definite plans to obtain a reduction in the price of football tickets for the 1941 Dad's Day game will be submitted to the Athletic Association Board at its next meeting, it was decided at the All-College Cabinet meeting last night.

As proposed, the reduced price will be available only to parents. The committee which will draw up the plans is headed by Jack W. Brand '41.

It was reported by Arnold C. Laich '41, All-College president, that George W. Ebert, superintendent of grounds and buildings, would not comment on the sudden refusal to let the Student Union recreation room be opened only to say that "something unforeseen" had prevented the opening.

However, Laich reported that Ebert said that he was "not openly against a student recreation center," and had assured the committee that there would be a recreation room in 1941-42.

The comp list for class dances was approved as adopted in the spring of 1939 and amended in May, 1940. A committee was named to consider additions to the list.

Harriet Singer '41 and William B. Bartholomew '41 were appointed to investigate the possibility of opening White Hall to more women's groups.

Cabinet approved Interclass Finance Board's recommendations concerning school council budgets.

Thespian Show Features Waring Arrangements

When "The Balloon Goes Up" in the show of the same name at Schwab Auditorium this Friday night, the Campus Owls, one of Penn State's top swing bands, will be in the pit to provide music for the Thespian Club's newest extravaganza.

What's more, the Penn State Glee Club, top campus musical organization, will be on the stage to lend a solid background to what is expected to be a Thespian revue second to none in the past decade.

Fred Waring arrangements have been secured for both the band and Glee Club, and from all indications all those numbers with the famous Waring touch will highlight the Houseparty Weekend production.

Both organizations will combine to give "The Balloon Goes Up" a distinct musical sendoff that campus jitterbugs and alligators alike will thrill to.

Dancing Classes Will Start November 25

Theodore Rice '41, president of the Penn State Club, announced today that the annual All-College dancing class sponsored by the Club will begin this year on November 25. The course will consist of 10 one-hour lessons.

Joseph C. Ferro, professional dancing teacher, has been engaged to instruct the class. He will be assisted by several coeds.

The committee on arrangements include: William B. Loeber '42, Robert A. Henkel '41, Arthur Peskoe '42, Sprugeon K. Condo '41, Clarence Dean Woods '42, and Gerald F. Doherty '42.

Warnock to Head Recreation Job

Dean of Men Arthur R. Warnock was elected chairman and H. Ridge Riley secretary of the All-College recreation coordinating committee at a meeting held in the Sandwich Shop Monday evening.

"The purpose of this committee is to promote entertaining, wholesome recreation wherever it can be found," said Chairman Warnock. "While we badly need a well-equipped recreational opportunities by utilizing more fully the facilities which we already have."

"In fact, we don't know what kind of new building we should have until we experiment widely in finding out what activities are most popular and practicable."

An emphasis will be placed by the committee recently approved by President Ralph D. Hetzel on filling in the leisure hours of the weekends particularly for students and faculty members who now fail to find satisfactory recreational opportunities.

Those appointed to represent various groups on the campus to take in the interests of all are: Elizabeth C. Bell, college women; Russell E. Clark, President's representative; Ray M. Conger, Physical Education; Max Dercum, Agriculture; George L. Donovan, student union; Hummel Fishburn, Education; Robert E. Galbraith, Liberal Arts; Edward K. Hibshman, alumni.

Sororities To Observe Open House Today

Sororities will hold the second in the series of five open houses from 4 to 5:30 p. m. today as freshmen and transfers make 30-minute visits to any of the houses.

Panhellenic Council has urged all freshmen and transfers to attend the open houses to get acquainted with sorority women.

The first of these parties was held two weeks ago.

Election Party Planned

Students interested in an Election Night party to gather to listen to election returns should sign up at Student Union office before Friday noon. Party will be held if enough students report.

Laich Names Committee To Investigate Proposal

Agitation for approximately two assistant deans of men, proposed by the Student Housing Board last Thursday, went into full swing last night when William B. Bartholomew, senior class president, introduced the proposal to the All-College Cabinet for approval.

While no disapproval was voiced, Bartholomew's request was sidetracked temporarily after Frank R. Flynn '43 asked for the appointment of a committee to interview A. R. Warnock, dean of men, and other administrative leaders for more complete information.

All-College President Arnold C. Laich '41, named Samuel A. Dum '41, H. Edward Wagner '41, W. Rae Herrmann '41, and Bartholomew to present their report at the next Cabinet meeting.

Wagner, IFC president, supported the Student Housing Board proposal from the fraternity viewpoint.

"The Dean's assistants could give definite assistance in enforcing the IFC dating code, help fraternities get rooms for rushees, and also do work in regard to scholarship," Wagner pointed out.

The duties of the assistants should not include the tasks of already existing College agencies, Adam A. Smyser mentioned to the Cabinet. "There are many new functions, caused by College expansion, which require the aid of an enlarged Dean's staff," Smyser contended.

Paul M. Doty '41 supported Smyser by claiming that nine assistant deans are used by Harvard University, which has less enrollment than Penn State.

"The housing problems of the non-fraternity men and the general guidance needed by these students call attention to the added burden on the Dean's office," Bartholomew said in asking the Cabinet for its endorsement.

Other suggestions by Cabinet members in favor of the enlargement of the Dean's staff were that student organizations might have a permanent adviser, a closer student-faculty relationship might be nurtured, the necessity for a fraternity and non-fraternity coordination, and the need for a more individual devotion to pertinent student problems.
