

Roosevelt Holds Landslide Lead In National Election;

Keller Stresses Personality Traits

"No people should have the privilege of self government unless they are fit to govern themselves," declared J. Orvis Keller, assistant to the President in charge of extension, before 800 freshmen in Schwab Auditorium last night.

In emphasizing the duties of citizens in the United States Mr. Keller pointed out that a citizen must share the burdens and responsibilities as well as enjoy the rights and privileges that a democracy offers.

Mr. Keller told his audience that colleges in the past five years have begun to realize that intelligence without character is valueless. He advised the freshmen to improve their character while in college, because in later life they would be judged to a great extent by their individual traits.

"Men are distinguished from each other by their character, personality, and courage. It should be the aim of every college student to acquire pleasing traits as well as to gain specific knowledge with which to gain a livelihood," concluded Mr. Keller.

Poll To Be Taken In Education School

A poll of students in the five departments of the Education School will be started today, Peter G. Fetzko '41, chairman of the Education School council, has announced.

The poll will encourage suggestions for improvements within the Education School. Blanks for these suggestions may be found at Student Union or in the main entrance of the new education building. The poll will end this Friday.

"The cooperation of all students in education is necessary to insure the success of the Education School council, and to improve and better the education school," Fetzko said, in urging the students to cooperate.

Theta Nu Epsilon House Closed Down Yesterday

The Theta Nu Epsilon fraternity house closed down yesterday because of lack of funds for its upkeep, Prof. Warren G. Thompson, advisor of the fraternity, announced last night.

The members will maintain an active chapter in town. Two apartments have been rented in town for the purpose of a meeting place.

Brief selections of lyric poetry by feminine authors will be presented by Anna P. Locklin, assistant professor of English literature, when she inaugurates the ninth series of Wednesday readings in Room 402 of the Library at 4:15 p. m. today.

Directory Out Soon, Registrar Hoffman Says

The student-faculty directory will be out within "the next few days," William S. Hoffman, College registrar, reported last night.

The contract with the printer called for delivery yesterday but it is likely that the directories will not be delivered until later in the week.

Students Weigh Plans For Radio Station Here

A survey of student opinion on a proposed student radio station has been started by a student radio committee which is hoping to establish a station here. Blanks are available at the Corner Room and Student Union.

The station as proposed would use local light wires for transmission of its programs. These could be picked up all over the town. Its work will be divided among technical, program, and business departments.

Members of the committee are Robert N. Baker '41, Robert C. Coplon '41, Arnold C. Laich '41, William McFadden '43, and Norman A. Shandelman '43.

Soph Hop Theme Features Big Flag

Soph Hop decorations will strike a patriotic note in employing the largest American flag in the world for a principal decorative theme. The banner measures 80 feet by 130 feet and was described in detail by Robert Ripley, the "Believe It or Not" man, on his nationwide program last week.

The flag was exhibited at the Boston Gardens in Boston for several weeks. An idea of the tremendous size of the flag can be gained from a close-up view of the stripes, which are six feet wide. The banner will decorate the ceiling of Rec Hall for the dance.

Shields, plaques and flags of all the western hemisphere countries will be used to carry out the theme of the Hop—"Salute to the Americas." A large United States shield will ornament Bob Chester's bandstand.

A backdrop depicting a Southern camp will fill in the far end of Rec Hall under the balcony. Cannons, tents, and soldiers will typify a camp scene.

Soph Hop co-chairmen Eugene R. Yeager '43 and William P. McFadden '43 have announced that fraternity booths will be erected and distributed as usual. Fraternities are urged to get their reservations in as soon as possible in order to secure choice booth positions.

Custom Breaker's Chorus To Sing 'Wheaties' Song

"Won't you try Wheaties" and "Sitting on a Log" are the two songs that Tribunal chose last night as entertainment to be provided every day at 1 p. m. in front of Old Main by the following chorus of custom breakers: John Wilson, Norman Rosenberg, and Thomas Brenner.

John Wilson, who is under the impression that the varsity is playing Lehigh Saturday, will also gladly run with his two suitcases when he is whistled at.

When W. Lewis Corbin '41, chairman of Tribunal, asked Norman Rosenberg if he knew what offense he had committed he answered calmly, "I guess I didn't wear my 'JAZZ BOW' at the game. Tribunal has really given him a 'JAZZ BOW' now in the form of three yards of red ribbon for a tie.

The only other offender at last night's meeting was L. Bruce Worell, whose sign will read: "What A Time (2 1/4 Minutes) Behind Mac Hall." He will be dressed appropriately by Tribunal member George L. Parrish '41.

Late News Bulletins

Athens — Officials in Athens last night, reported that Greek troops pushed deep into Albania yesterday afternoon against overwhelming Italian forces who are taxing almost every resource in their attempted invasion. The Grecian infantry continued their mountainside warfare where they have set up strongholds in caves and hill side niches.

Belgrade — Yugoslavian war ministers sent alarming news to the world last night when they reported the bombing of Yugoslavian cities by unidentified bombing planes. There was no plausible reason for the attack which was repeated after a few hours. The country was thrown into panic and the Yugoslavian cabinet made immediate plans for discussion.

London — Prime Minister Churchill gave official confirmation last night of the taking over of the strategic island of Crete by the British late yesterday afternoon. Churchill also struck fiercely at the neutral country Ireland. He stated that the English navy can not refuel on the Irish coast.

Rome — Few communiques are being received from the Italian capitol where the invasion of Greece is felt very difficult. Last night, however, they reported that Fascist troops had broken through the Greek lines at Yanina for substantial gains.

Senatorial Race Close In State

In one of the most important presidential elections in American history, President Roosevelt was apparently the victor as unofficial returns from a vote that may be the largest on record filed in last night.

By 1 o'clock this morning the President seemed sure of 33 states and 414 electoral votes while Wendell Willkie, his Republican opponent, could count on no more than 13 states and 101 electoral votes. Roosevelt had an approximate lead of 3,500,000 popular votes with 32 per cent of the returns in.

The total vote was estimated to be about 62,000,000, more than 10,000,000 in excess of the number originally expected to go to the polls.

With the South, the West and the Central state, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, solidly behind him Roosevelt's election became almost a certainty as returns from Pennsylvania and New York showed him the likely winner in those two key states.

In Pennsylvania the President held a lead of nearly 150,000 votes.

Despite the flow of votes to Roosevelt, Willkie refused to concede defeat as he spoke extemporaneously in his New York City hotel at 12:30 a. m.

However, Charles L. McNary, Willkie's running mate, failed to follow his political partner's example and conceded the election to Democrat Henry A. Wallace.

Jay Cooke, Republican, apparently had a slight lead over Joseph F. Guffey for U. S. Senator.

Locally, Sunday movies were defeated by a 2-1 majority.

Figures on Centre County voting available at 1 a. m. are as follows:

For President (53 of 65 districts)—Wendell L. Willkie (R), 8,415; Franklin D. Roosevelt (D), 7,521.

For Senator (53 of 65 districts)—Jay Cooke (R), 8,013; and Joseph F. Guffey (D), 7,115.

Representative in Congress (42 of 65 district)—James E. Van Zandt (R), 6,940; and William M. Aukerman (D), 5,236.

Representative in the General Assembly—(42 of 65 district)—Kenneth G. Haines (R), 6,845; and John W. Decker (D), 5,106.

State College last night was a rabid election town. Everywhere interest in the national contest completely shadowed the state and local contests which were also being decided.

From warm, lighted rooms, radio voices penetrated everywhere into the damp, nearly empty streets bringing a strange mixture of voices, names, and figures.

From early evening, as soon as the first substantial reports filed in, the cry and the conversation was the same, "It's Roosevelt again!"

Dining room conversation buzzed with election news and guesses and study hours were interrupted everywhere for bull sessions on the progress of the returns. At the University Club, the only organized gathering to hear election returns was attended by more than 50 faculty men.
