

Table Discussions Set For Pan-Hel Conference Today

Busiest day of the Regional Panhellenic Conference will begin at 9 a.m. today when 65 delegates assemble for round tables in Rooms 304 and 305, Old Main, progress through luncheon at the Nittany Lion Inn at 1 p.m., afternoon round tables from 2:30 to 5 p.m., and dinner at 6:30 p.m., and end with Mortar Board's Spinster Skip at 9 p.m.

Rushing discussion led by Miss Charlotte E. Ray, dean of women, at 3:15 p.m. and speeches by Adrian O. Morse, assistant to the president, and Dr. J. Paul Selsam, assistant professor of history, at luncheon and dinner highlight the day's program.

Sorority cooperation, membership limitation, quota system, scholarship, city Panhellenic aid to college Panhellenic, and Panhellenic programs have been chosen as topics for morning conferences, with pledge training, worth of sorority membership, and rise of non-Greek social groups named for afternoon.

Dates for the dance have been arranged for the visiting coeds by a bureau of Panhellenic members. Women not attending the dance will tour White and Atherton Halls and attend a social hour in the southeast lounge of Atherton Hall.

Breakfast at the Allencrest from 9 to 10:30 a.m. tomorrow with presentation will close the three-day program of committee reports and recommendations.

Two Journalism Societies Initiate

Two journalism societies—Alpha Delta Sigma, honorary advertising fraternity, and Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity—will hold formal initiations for 15 juniors and seniors tomorrow afternoon.

Alpha Delta Sigma will initiate at Phi Gamma Delta at 2 p.m. A. S. Morris, advertising manager of the Quaker State Oil Co., will speak after the ceremony.

Initiates are Edwin I. Carson '41, Robert K. Coplon '41, Murray D. Druck '41, Paul M. Goldberg '42, Wayland G. Hier '41, James E. McCaughey '42, Fred R. Nale '42, and Don C. West '42.

The Sigma Delta Chi initiation will be held in the Nittany Lion Inn at 4:15 p.m. Speakers at the dinner, following the initiation, will be John A. Brogan, foreign sales manager of King Features Syndicate, Richard Hyman, publicity manager of King Features Syndicate, John Person, publisher of the Williamsport Gazette-Bulletin, and Secretary E. Arthur Sweeney of Governor James' cabinet.

Students to be initiated are John A. Baer '42, John G. Dixon '41, Gerald F. Doherty '42, Ross B. Lehman '42, A. Pat Nagelberg '42, Stanley J. PoKempner '42, John Ressler '42.

Committee Chosen

At a recent meeting, the Hort Club elected a new committee to take charge of next year's Hort Show. The following students were elected: Co-Managers, Robert A. Powers '42 and Harold D. Runk '42; Assistant Manager, Colman Duell '43; Material Manager, George Armstrong '43; Treasurer, Wayne Cronk '43; Program, Helen H. Hayward '43.

Waring To Play New Song As Salute To Pitt Game

Fred Waring, who wrote the new Penn State song, "The Hills of Old Penn State," several weeks ago, has scheduled a repeat of the song for the Chesterfield Pleasuretime program Friday, November 22.

Waring is playing the song as a salute to the football game with Pitt the next day.

'Kick-off' Dinner Opens PSCA Drive

The PSCA Finance Canvass will begin with the Kick-Off Dinner at the Nittany Lion Inn on Monday at 5:45 p.m.

Besides getting instructions for the canvass, the co-workers, including members of the faculty, section chairmen, and solicitors, will hear short talks by Dean Carl P. Schott of the Physical Education School, Dr. Harriet M. Harry of the College Health Service, and Arnold C. Laich '41, All-College president.

It is important that all co-workers attend the dinner, a place having been reserved for them unless PSCA has already been advised of their inability to attend.

The seating arrangement at the table will be by divisions. Division leaders' names on placards will be arranged around the tables. Each solicitor should sit near his division leader.

A total of 353 members are participating in the drive. These include 258 men students, 74 women students, and 71 faculty members. Leaders of the fund raising movement are Chairman Edward H. Rohrbeck, professor of agriculture, William H. Bartholomew '41, president of the Senior class, and Marjory A. Harwick '41, president of WRA.

Hillel To Present Series Of Talks On War Issues

"What Are The Real Issues in the War?" is to be the subject of the first in a series of Town Meetings at the Hillel Foundation at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The speakers for this Sunday's meeting are Prof. John P. Selsam, Mrs. O. F. Boucke, presenting the Socialist point of view in regard to the war, and Prof. S. K. Stevens.

Topics for subsequent Sundays are: November 17, Civil Liberties and the Fifth Column; November 24, National Defenses: What Are We Defending? From Who? December 8, What Should Government Do For Youth? December 15, Does Our Economic System need Changing?

Cabinet To Consider Enlarging Comp List

All-College Cabinet, at its meeting Tuesday, will consider adding the managers and captains of the ski, hockey, and rifle teams to the comp list, Arnold C. Laich '41, All-College president, said last night.

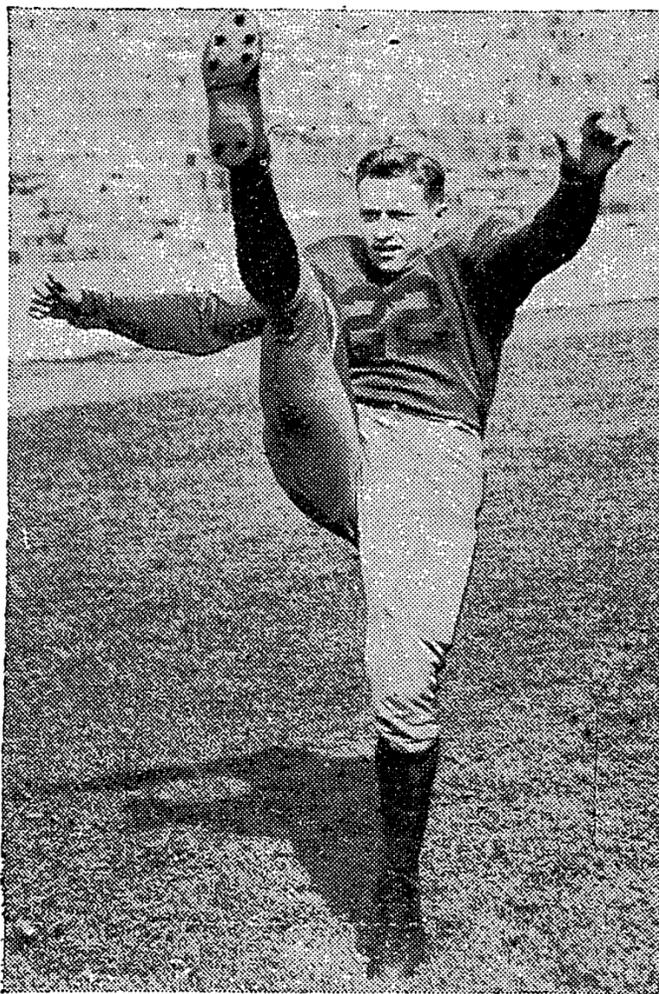

In order to clarify the comp list as it now stands, Laich stated, "Co-captains, co-editors and co-managers are entitled to only one complimentary ticket. They must decide between themselves who will use the ticket."

Sigma Nu entertained Kappa Kappa Gamma at dinner Thursday night.

Lions Seek Sixth Straight Victory Of Year In Clash At Syracuse Today

Pepper Meets A Rival

When the undefeated and untied Lion gridders meet Syracuse in Archbold Stadium today, they will do well to beware of 147-pound Bunky Morris, sparkplug of the Orange eleven. Morris is rated one of the best punters and placement kickers in the nation, while his passes have netted his team considerable yardage.

Rooters See Lion Gridders Off; Rally Head Tells Rooters Off

Victory-eager Nittany Lions left for Syracuse yesterday morning with the cheers of Penn State rooters, nearly all freshmen, sending them off on their search for the sixth straight football victory of the season. Officials in charge of the rally expressed general dissatisfaction with the turnout.

Although the main failure in the send-off was due to the late arrival of the team at Co-op Corner, lack of student attendance and cooperation perverted the rally from being the success which Walt Sottung '41, head cheerleader, and Jack Brand '41, president of the Athletic Association, had planned.

"There should be more cooperation of upperclassmen," declared Brand last night. "We are pretty disappointed with the turnout. The team can do better with more enthusiasm on the part of the entire student body—not only the freshmen."

Hat societies and fraternities had all been contacted prior to the send-off. Members from many of these organizations were present to assist in the program. Not all were represented, however.

Late News Bulletins

London—The Battle of Britain continued with renewed intensity last night as the ancient tower of London was struck by Nazi bombs. The British war ministry announced retaliation by RAF fighters as they swept into inland Germany and struck at a huge munitions plant. The British pilots described the landscape as being a huge sheet of fire.

Budapest—A Nazi plot was unearthed late last night which would have included the kidnapping of the Regent Admiral of Hungary who has served for twenty years, the murdering of all the Admiral's aides, and the taking over of all the government buildings by Nazi officials who would set up their own form of government after the form of that in Germany. Authorities have asked for the arrest of five members of the Chamber of Deputies. This was the first indication of the attitude of Hungary being opposed to the militaristic actions of Germany.

Washington—Democratic congressmen have asked for an adjournment of congress after next Friday's meeting. The Republican minority responded to the plea by saying that the present war crisis has not yet passed and that they should stay in session until sometime after Christmas.

Archbold Stadium Jinx For State

A play by play description will be broadcast by Tom McMahon from KDKA beginning at 2 p.m.

With the drums of the first undefeated and untied season in Penn State football history since 1912 beating along the bowl-bound trail, the Lions' "Seven Mountain" line generated by two sets of speedy backs will attempt to remove the Archbold Stadium jinx out of the way when it meets the rebounding Syracuse Orangemen this afternoon in the sixth clash of the season.

This will be the 18th consecutive meeting between the two elevens who have had unbroken relations since 1922. Syracuse holds a considerable edge in the series with ten wins, four losses and four ties. In only two of the games played in Archbold Stadium have the Blue and White emerged on the long end of the score, last year's battle ending in the dramatic 6-6 tie.

Victorious over Rucknell, West Virginia, Lehigh, Temple and South Carolina, the unbeaten Lion gridders will be facing their toughest opponent to date with their lineup weakened by the loss of three valuable players during the week. Craig White, Wade Mori, and Ken Schoonover have been lost to the squad through injuries and illness.

It will be a revised State team, therefore, that will take the field against the Orange today. Len Krouse, a demon on reverse runs all year, will start in the important right halfback or wingback spot. The rest of the backfield remains the same with the Lions' signal-calling and blocking genius, Johnny Patrick, at quarterback, veteran Chuck Peters in the left halfback position, and big Bill Sultz stationed at fullback.

Starting his first game in his three-year varsity career will be Jim Woodward who replaces the injured Mori at guard. The remainder of the great forward wall which has held the opposition to very meagre rushing yardage and has opened up huge holes for their fleet-footed backs is unchanged. Syracuse will place a thrice-defeated team on the field in an effort to stop the fourth unbeaten.

Foundation Dedicates New Library Tomorrow

Dedication of the new Russell Nesbitt Memorial Library of the Wesley Foundation will take place in the regular Sunday School sessions at 9:30 p.m. tomorrow with Rev. C. Gail Norris officiating.

With the memorial fund, a gift in memory of Nesbitt who was a former College professor, the library will be increased by faculty and student contributions. Wanda M. Churchill '42 is the Wesley Foundation librarian.

Neyhart Attends Meeting

Prof. Amos E. Neyhart, head of the safety education department, will attend the annual meeting of the American Automobile Association's traffic safety department, of which he is a member, to be held November 13, 14, and 15 in Washington, D. C.
