

Monday, Dec. 16 Set As Tentative '44 Elections Date

Freshman elections will be held in the first floor lounge of Old Main on Monday, December 16, if All-College Cabinet approves the date at its meeting tonight, H. Leonard Krouse, '42, chairman of the Freshman Elections Committee, announced late last night.

Other dates to be submitted for Cabinet consent include the Friday, December 6 deadline for candidates petitions, which will require 100 signatures, and a pre-election mass-meeting scheduled in Schwab Auditorium for Tuesday, December 10.

The elections committee stipulated that party candidates seeking election must turn in their photographs and party platform with the petition for committee sanction. No candidate may run for office if he has a below grade. Campaign expenses and the use of cars for soliciting voters are forbidden, Krouse said. All standard political posters with the party's ticket and platform will be issued by the elections committee.

Although the selection of the '44 party tickets will be held off until the below grades list is released, the campus cliques have tentatively slated their nominations for next week.

Other election rules to be approved by Cabinet are the complete election code, the stipulation that each party must present a five-man ticket including president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and historian officers, and that a vote for the president will automatically register choice for his vice-president running mate.

Book Suggestions Wanted By Group

To meet the needs and desires of all students as thoroughly as possible, the Student Library Committee will provide an opportunity for student book requests in an effort to expand the reading facilities of the Library, it was announced by Willard P. Lewis, College librarian.

There are adequate funds available for the purchase of books most frequently requested by students, it was announced. Various types of books will be purchased to meet the greatest needs and demands that are submitted.

Students composing the committee are: Stuart H. Garfinkle '41, Marjory A. Harwick '41, Samuel O. Patterson '43, Ruth G. Hoffer '42, Charles B. Elder, Jr. '43 and David I. Finkle '42.

Fewer Use Infirmary Under Free Health Plan

Despite the new free hospitalization plan adopted this year by the College Health Department, the number of patients to use the facilities of the infirmary has dropped, it was announced yesterday by the head of the College health service, Dr. Joseph P. Ritenour.

Student In Crash

Damage estimated at $75 was incurred when two cars driven by Robert W. Hildebrand '42 and Elby Boring of Huntingdon collided on South Allen street near Calder alley at 11 a. m. Sunday.

College Gallery Displays Original Renoir Painting

An original Renoir oil painting is now on display in the College Art Gallery, Room 303 Main Engineering. It is the first modern original painting by a well-known master to be exhibited by the College.

The picture is the work of Pierre Auguste Renoir and is entitled "The Card Player." It is not a reproduction and will be on exhibition until November 23. This work of one of the great French impressionists is being shown through the courtesy of the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Roger E. Ritter of Shingletown.

Show Censored, Thespians Say

A new presentation of "The Balloon Goes Up"—the house-party Thespian show—will be given at 7 p. m. this Friday and Saturday.

Tickets for the repeat performance will go on sale at Student Union Tuesday morning, Roy P. Rogers, '41, Thespian business manager, said last night. Prices will again be 50 cents for Friday night and 75 cents for Saturday.

Answering charges that the new show was risqué, Thespians say that the production was censored by College authorities and that the repeat performance will remain unchanged except for technical revisions that have been made to "pep up the revue."

Again featured in the show will be the Three Stooges, Marce Stringer, a Thespian Glee Club of 30 male voices, and a chorus of 20 campus beauties. Other performers will be Leon Rabinowitz, Jimmy Smith, Leo Morrell, the Singerettes, and the Campus Owls with Jimmy McAdams conducting.

Written by Mike Brotman, Ned Startzel and George Parrish, the show is a revue embodying several Fred Waring arrangements together with a few original numbers and a series of satirical take-offs on campus organizations and personalities.

Cabinet May Act To Get Assistant Deans Of Men

A report on the advisability of recommending that assistant deans of men be added to Dean A. R. Warnock's staff will be heard at the All-College Cabinet meeting in Room 305 Old Main at 9 p. m. today.

Other business will probably include action toward obtaining a special train or bus for the Pitt game. Cabinet is also expected to consider enlarging the comp list to include captains and manager of the rifle, ski and hockey teams.

Van Zandt Asks For Preparedness

A militant note was injected into an otherwise ordinary Armistice Day observance in Schwab Auditorium yesterday by Representative James E. Van Zandt of the 23rd district as he stressed the need for military preparedness.

Approximately 3,300 students and townspeople participated in the program which was sponsored by 13 student and borough organizations. The program was opened by a military ceremony in front of Old Main. Music and a responsive reading were held in the auditorium in addition to Representative Van Zandt's speech.

He said that America needs a military machine, stripped of politics, to combat the power of Hitler whom he termed the "narrow-shouldered corporal."

In the second point of his talk, Van Zandt said, "The United States will not stand for any group—Communist, Fascist or Nazi—which tries to destroy the efforts of those building this military machine."

He contrasted the United States, a nation at peace, with the countries at war. The narrow-shouldered corporal, he said, "has brought war face-to-face with America and it is time for us to act."

Speaking of veterans of past wars, he said, "The veteran hates war and knows more about it than anyone else because he has been at war."

College Records 'Quake

The seismograph of the school of Mineral Industries at the College recorded the disastrous Rumanian earthquake Saturday night. The first waves arrived in State College at 8:50 p. m. The instrument remained in motion for nearly 50 minutes. Distance of focus was estimated at 4,500 miles.

PSCA Supplement Added To This Morning's Issue

To start off the annual PSCA financial canvass, the Daily Collegian has published a supplement of four pages which is inserted in this morning's issue.

In an attempt to acquaint students and faculty with the many phases of PSCA activity, the supplement will present a group of stories centering upon the main PSCA groups which cast the greatest influence upon Penn State campus life.

A complete list of the 1941-42 budget needed for PSCA activity is also included.

Lions Prepare For NYU After Syracuse Thriller

Scored Both Touchdowns

It was Len Krouse's sensational pass receiving on the Lions' two touchdown plays that saved the day and enabled State to remain in the unbeaten ranks.

Pitt Trip Poll Starts Today

Would you be interested in a special train or bus to Pittsburgh for the Pitt game on November 23?

This and other questions are being asked students in a poll which starts today at the Student Union desk. If enough students are interested there is a possibility of getting special transportation facilities at lower rates.

The rates permit 37 students to charter a bus to Pittsburgh at $4.20 per person round trip. Twenty-five students can get a special bus at $4.35 per person round trip.

The fare for a special train leaving State College at 1:30 p. m., Friday for a minimum of 150 students will cost $5.59 per person round trip.

Other questions on the poll will determine whether the student would prefer to go by train or bus, and the most convenient time to leave.

Hoffman Has Article Printed In Journal

William S. Hoffman, registrar, has an article entitled "The University of Commencement Program" in the current issue of the Journal of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars. In the same issue is an article by F. B. Dille of Ohio University which endorses a previous article of Mr. Hoffman's, "Figures Don't tally."

Len Krouse Saves Day For Unbeaten Gridders

Deprived of the untied tag after a 13-13 thriller with an aroused Syracuse football eleven, the still undefeated Nittany Lions began priming yesterday afternoon for Saturday's clash with another unpredictable team, New York University. The Violets tumbled Franklin and Marshall from the unbeaten ranks over the weekend.

Yesterday's practice was marred by a continuous downpour which curtailed the outdoor session considerably. The Lions' outlook was considerably brightened, however, by the possibility that all injured players may be ready for the battle with NYU.

Though the outcome of the Orange deadlock may be disappointing to State followers who envisioned an all-victorious season, the courageous comeback of the Blue and White will long be remembered by witnesses of the nerve-racking tilt.

It was Lenny Krouse's miraculous pass receiving and Bill Smaltz's accurate tossing that saved the day for the State forces. Twice the two backs collaborated to pull the Lions out of a hole.

The first chance occurred in the second period with only 50 seconds left when Krouse speared a Smaltz toss on the two-yard stripe and stepped over for the touchdown to tie the score at 6-6. Ben Pollock's placement kick was blocked.

The Lions' second touchdown came in the waning moments of the final quarter. Trailing 13-6 with only four minutes of play remaining in the final quarter, Smaltz threw a pass from the Syracuse 43. Krouse appeared hemmed in on all sides by Orange defenders but he suddenly leaped high in the air on the 15, grabbed the ball and twisted his way to the goal-line. Pollock's successful kick for the extra point provided the tying point.

Late News Bulletins

Berlin — Russian Premier-Foreign Commissar R. Molotov was sent to Berlin last night to confer with Adolf Hitler. The move is thought to be a step toward the joining of Russia with Axis powers as the minister would not have been sent for any matter of less consequence. The entering of the Russian power into the Axis fits in with Hitler's plans in Rumania. Hitler has stationed 1,000,000 men near the Russian controlled Black Sea.

London — RAF pursuit planes shot down 20 invading bombers yesterday afternoon. Thirteen of the huge bombers were found to be Italian planes. England, however, observed Armistice Day as bombs crashed on its soil.

Paris — German police were scattered yesterday as the French people observed Armistice Day and rebelled for a few hours against the Nazi rule.

Chicago — King Winter swept through the western states last night and struck almost every state from the Canadian border to Mexico. Temperatures of 17 and 20 below zero were recorded in Montana. A 60-mile gale whipped through Chicago. Storm warnings were issued on the Atlantic coast. Thirteen were reported dead and one hundred injured.

Committees Formed To Help Draftees

An extensive College plan to aid students and faculty members in all matters pertaining to the draft was outlined yesterday by Adrian O. Morse, assistant to the president in charge of resident instruction.

Actual work of the plan will be handled by eight committees, a general committee and one in each school, Mr. Morse said. President Ralph D. Hetzel authorized the formation of the committee before he left for Chicago last week but, according to Mr. Morse, announcement of the plan was held up until all groups were ready to operate.

Mr. Morse, chairman of the general committee, said that it will act as a clearing house for all information and recommendations and will coordinate the work of the school committees. Other members of the group are Edward K. Hibshman, Samuel K. Hostetter, and A. R. Warnock.

Explaining the purpose of the whole organization, Mr. Morse said: "Students and faculty members who want assistance in interpreting the Selective Service Act, in deciding what they ought to do if called, or in the actual filling out of the draft questionnaire may apply to the committees in their own schools."

The school committees follow: Agriculture—J. Ben Hill (chairman), John E. McCord, Earle I. Wilde; Chemistry and Physics—Frank C. Whitmore, Grover C.

Chandlee, Donald S. Cryder, Wheeler P. Davey, David C. Duncan, Merrell R. Fenske, William R. Ham, Lytle R. Parks, Oscar F. Smith.

Education—Clifford R. Adams, Clarence O. Williams, John F. Friesoe; Engineering—Charles L. Kinsloe, Clarence E. Bullinger, Harold A. Everett, Burton K. Johnstone, Frederic T. Mavis; Liberal Arts—Charles W. Stoddart, David B. Pugh, Charles C. Wagner.

Mineral Industries—John W. Buch, Henry M. Davis, Raymond E. Murphy, Frank M. Swartz, Francis C. Todd; Physical Education—Lloyd M. Jones, Eugene C. Bischoff, Robert A. Higgins, John D. Lawther.
