

$11, Victrola Records Taken Over Weekend

Fears that petty thievery was again breaking out in women's dormitories and sorority houses were dispelled when only four groups reported missing articles. Kappa Alpha Theta could not account for about $10 belonging to a member and a Panhellenic delegate, while Grange Dormitory reported a purse containing $1 was missed Monday.

Both Alpha Chi Omega and Woman's Building missed about 10 new victrola records.

Delta Gammas held a tea for Mrs. E. Tile Smith, national treasurer, at their house from 5 to 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Wagner Urges Adherence To IFC Code

We, The Women—Our Penn State Honor System

CONVERSATIONS among visiting Greeks last weekend confirmed what we had supposed—that most southern colleges have an honor system of student government.

In such institutions the coeds report their own offenses and are requested to report the rule violations of others. They say it works.

Numerous times in the past our own student government has considered the adoption of the honor system for Penn State and has thrown it aside as impracticable for such a large student body. We agree with them.

But, portions of an honor system have always been in effect here. Student governments can make rules; however, those codes are not expected to cover everything. A rule can be set down but from there on it is up to the women to see that it is enforced.

Anyone can find loopholes in any rule—if she cares to. That is where the honor system steps in. Knowing the spirit behind the rule and sticking to it is our honor system.

First Medical Talk Set For Tonight

"Pneumonia and the Common Cold," first of five lectures on preventive medicine sponsored by 16 College and town organizations will be given by Dr. Paul Havens of Jefferson Medical College in Schwab Auditorium at 8 p.m. today.

Discussion of pneumonia as the third leading cause of death in the United States, recent developments in syrum and treatment, and time of life it strikes most frequently will be given.

That 75 per cent of the population have more than two colds annually and that employees lose on the averages of one to eight days per year because of colds, and other facts related to common colds will be discussed.

Other talks scheduled for the year include "Tuberculosis" on December 4, "Child Health" in January, "Social Diseases" in February, and "Opportunities for Women in Medicine in Allied Fields" in March.

Cooperating College groups are the College Health Service, School of Physical Education, All-College Cabinet, pre-medical group, Iota Sigma Pi, WSGA, WSGA Junior Service Board, and Mortar Board; town groups are County Medical Society, AAUW, PTA, Penn State alumnae, American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary, Kiwanis, and State College Women's Club.

Delta Gammas will be entertained with a dinner at the Theta Xi house at 6 p.m. today.

Three-man Board To Try Violations

"Cooperation of organizations interested in upholding the IFC dating code and reports of violations to the Council will be appreciated by IFC," declared H. Edward Wagner '41, IFC president, who spoke before WSGA Senate last night.

"Only through cooperation and effort on the part of all concerned can the Council see that the entire code is carried out," he continued.

Wagner stated that infractions will be referred to a three-man board which will hear the case and penalize offenders or the house, but added that no violations of the code have as yet been reported.

Imports are required to observe the same hours as women students when visiting men's fraternity houses as provided in the IFC dating code, according to Wagner.

The possibility of providing facilities for checking wraps during dances, particularly over big weekends, to do away with thefts, was discussed and will be presented to fraternity representatives at the next meeting of IFC.

It was stressed that chaperons are intended to stay until the end of the social-function and until all women have left the houses.
