Late News Bulletins

Cairo — The British Communiqué from here tonight reported that British mechanized forces were driving the Italians to a point in the desert where they hoped to bottle them up in a narrow pass. It was reported that 25,000 Italian troops had been captured. Terrific sandstorms hindered the battle in some sections.

Albania — Greek troops succeeded tonight in capturing the Albanian town of Tepelini and continued to beat back the Italian forces. Fighting was almost impossible for part of the day because of heavy blizzards.

London — Despite severe bombings on the Midland town of Sheffield last night, the British say steel mills are again working at full capacity, and that little damage was done to the industrial sectors.

College Students Approve NYA, CCC

AUSTIN, Texas, Dec. 13.—Early in November the voters of the nation returned President Roosevelt to the White House for a third term. The New Deal, now in power for another four years, will probably grow more and more to be a permanent component of American economy. Which of its features should be continued; which should be discarded?

College students have an interest in the kind of nation they will live in when they enter active citizenship. Student Opinion Surveys of America has polled a representative sample of the entire U. S. enrollment in order to arrive at an accurate measurement of college sentiment on this issue. Most collegians everywhere told interviewers that what they like about the New Deal is this:

1. The opportunities it has created for youth under C.C.C. and N.Y.A.
2. The security it has brought to the unfortunate aged.

Following are the percentages:

As the most successful agencies that should be continued—
	Today April
C.C.C. mentioned by 25%	20%
N.Y.A. mentioned by 23%	16%
Social security mentioned by	22 8
Other agencies mentioned by	30 56
As the most unsuccessful agencies that should not be continued:

Frey, Cramp Vie For President In Freshmen Elections, Monday

With electioneering hitting its zenith and victories predicted by both Campus and Independent parties, the freshman class will crowd Old Main on Monday to elect class officers, who will govern activities until the All-College elections in late April.

Voting will be continuous from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. in the first floor lounge with matriculation cards and AA books required as identification. Election results will be released as soon as they are tabulated by the Freshman Elections Committee, which is headed by H. Leonard Krouse '42.

After the polls close, party chairmen may present their grievances concerning election violations to the election committee which will judge the complaint and dock the offending party either 10 or 20 votes according to the nature of the violation.

Some of the election violations include electioneering in Old Main while voting is in progress, conversation with prospective voters; and use of cars for vote-getting.

The election will be supervised by Krouse, Thomas J. Hensen, Robert D. Baird, Mildred M. Taylor, Barbara Torrence, Dorothy Savard, Ross B. Lehman, and A. Pat Nagelberg, all juniors.

Wyand Appointed Advisor To Defense Commissioner

Charles S. Wyand, assistant professor of economics, has been appointed technical advisor on buying problems to Harriet Elliott, consumer commissioner of the national defense advisory commission.

Wyand's job involves the development of techniques through which purchases of armaments may be made with a minimum effect upon the requirements of the average American family's standard of living.

Another phase will be plans for the prevention of profiteering by manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers. This will mean some attempt at price control in consumer goods.

Most of Wyand's work will be done at the College but he will make many trips to Washington.

"Does our economic system need changing?" will be the topic of this week's Town Meeting, to be held at the Hillel Foundation, 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Have A Cold? Better Go To Bed

The best possible treatment for a cold is to go to bed, but if you can't take time for that, then by all means guard against over-tiredness, the College Health Service advised yesterday.

To avoid getting tired, and to facilitate recovery, the staff made these recommendations:

Don't stand when you can sit; don't sit when you can lie.

Get two hours extra sleep each night.

Eat as your appetite dictates, but increase your daily ration of water and fruit juice.

Keep comfortably warm.

If your cold is not cured in three or four days or if you develop symptoms other than moderate discomfort, malaise and a freely running nose, see your doctor, the staff advised, because your cold is now complicated, past the filtrable virus stage.

"This means," the doctors said, "that you are a good candidate for streptococcal sore throat, sinusitis, abscessed ears, mastoids, bronchitis, and pneumonia. These, unlike the common cold, are caused by germs your physician has been battling successfully for years."
