We, The Women Fix The Furnace Jeeves—We're Cold

A kingdom for some heat would be a fair trade in the eyes of Athertonites who are preparing for finals by getting out all extra blankets and coats, and trying to pummel some heat into bodies and knowledge into their brains before the fatal test week.

We thought, after last year's Arctic temperatures in Atherton Hall, something would be done. But apparently it is easier to let coeds huddle together for warmth than correct the heating system.

It takes a dormitory housemeeting to bring out the deep dark secrets in a coed's life. Latest hint on improper dining room etiquette came in an announcement at a recent housemeeting which asked coeds not to throw bread from table to table.

Amazement was the reaction to the announcement that a smoking room would be available in the Home Economics Building. Can it be that the powers behind the ovens are human after all?

Toast and tea is the current diet for sufferers of gastro-enteritis. Those on the sick list report that they are more worried about starving than about their gastroailments.

Even Harvard men are knitting for the British. They are doing it the easy way—with knitting machines. It's beginning to look as if coeds could use a few machines to finish the garments they started two months ago.

Talks To Home Eccers

"Since women control the pocketbooks of America, newspapers and magazines appeal to them in advertisements, thus making it possible for women in fields such as home economics to sell feature articles to them," Prof. Franklin C. Banner, head of the Journalism Department, explained to home economics freshman women Wednesday.

Pan-Hel Requests Freshman Grades

All freshman women are requested to turn in their first semester averages to the office of the dean of women as soon as possible after receiving them from the registrar, Panhellenic Council President Harriet Singer '41 announced last night.

If any difficulty arises in computing averages, freshmen should consult their dormitory hostesses or advisers to avoid errors.

Panhellenic members, Arita L. Hefferan '41, A. Arlene Markley '41 and Miss Singer visited McAlister Hall, Locust Lane, 134 E. Foster Avenue, and Women's Building last night to explain the Rushing Code to freshmen and transfers and to answer any questions which they might have.

Marian Eberts '42 will contact 251 S. Allen Street and Miss Hefferan will speak at the Anchorage and 139 S. Frazier Street Monday night.

A new Panhellenic Advisory Board has also been set up to hear any rushing problems or questions about sororities which freshmen may wish to submit. The board will be strictly impartial and will settle all problems without knowledge of any sorority. Members of the board are Miss Hefferan, Jean H. Krauser '41, Miss Singer, and Norma P. Stillwell '41.

Mortar Board Plans Conference

First steps in organizing Mortar Board's annual Vocational Guidance Conference, scheduled for sometime in the spring, were made last night when Harriet Singer '41, chairman of the conference committee, appointed committee members.

They are Miriam T. Miller '41, Darline A. Neuhauser '41, Joyce L. Brayton '42, Margaret R. Roberts '42, Marian E. Sperling '42, and Muriel R. Meiselman '43.

The aim of the conference is to bring to the campus people directly associated with women's fields of employment to discuss the problems and work of their respective fields. Interviews with senior women will be held in conjunction with the conference. A member of the R. H. Macy executive training squad has already been contacted for one of the conferences.

Women In Sports

Junior majors continued their basketball victory trek with a 32-10 triumph over the soph major squad on White Hall hardwood last night, with the Patton-Radcliffe-Widger combination clicking for 14, 10, and 8 points respectively.

The sophomore six collected their tallies by Martha Duffman's netting three goals, and Jean Irwin tossing in two goals. The '43'ers were without the services of standout players Doris Laderer, Pauline Rugh, and Lila Whoolery, who are ill with flu.

Juniors garnered 14 points in the first half, and held the sophs to 3 goals. Extending themselves in the next period, '42 squad limited their opponents to only four points and chalked up 18 more markers to win the contest and remain undefeated in the major diadem.
