

Ewell Fails At Seton Hall Matmen Tackle Tigers Tonight

Incomplete returns from the Seton Hall games held in Jersey City last night revealed that Barney Ewell, Nittany Lion speedster, failed to place in the 60-yard dash, which was captured by Hewitt of NYU.

Eulace Peacock, former Temple dash man, led the field in the 50-yard distance in 5:6 seconds which is far behind Barney Ewell's record smashing time of 5:1 which he established last year.

Coming to the Seton Hall classic from his Millrose track victory in the 300-yard distance, Ewell was conceded favorite to take both events, but according to a report from New York late last night, the Nittany Lion flash was far behind the flying heels of Peacock and Hewitt.

Riding the crest of a two-match victory streak, Coach Charlie Speidel's Nittany Lions will be stalking Tiger meat when they seek their third straight win against the strong Princeton grapplers in an away tilt tonight.

Clair Hess, Lion 121-pounder will clash with Van Bruer, while 128-pound Charlie Ridenour meets Captain Bob Ehberle in the feature bout. A brilliant sophomore grappler, Ridenour locks arms with the Tiger captain who has dominated the Intercollegiate crown for two years.

Nittany Captain Frank Gleason will have tough going against Gene Taylor, Tiger 136-pounder.

In the 145-pound tilt, Glenn Alexander will attempt to out-muscle the Tiger's Neil Corrothers, and Joe Scalzo stacks up against strong, rugged Bob Linzsey. Chuck Rohrer encounters Dick Bowen, 165-pounder.

For the final two bouts, Joe Valla tackles 175-pound Budge Blake, and Jack Kerns hopes for his third fall against Princeton's Bart Robbins in the heavyweight class.

Between The Lions

With DICK PETERS

The little guy says, "How about telling some people about the Winter Sports Carnival we're whipping up?" . . . So we said, "Okay, Ed, you tell us and we'll tell the people." . . . Ed McLorie, the little guy of sentence one, who is in charge of plans for Penn State's first Winter Carnival, relayed these pertinent facts about the Carnival:

The date is this Saturday which will make it the first big event of the second semester . . . The committee in charge hopes that the Carnival will be such a success that it'll become an annual affair here at State . . . It'll give all out-door-minded enthusiasts a good chance to test their ability on the ski trail and the ice rink.

One of the biggest projects of the Carnival committee is interesting the fraternity and living groups in ice sculpture . . . "We don't expect anything of the Dartmouth proportions, because it's something new in this section," Ed urges . . . But they do think that exhibits of simple design by every group on campus will create a lot of interest in the affair and lead to its continuation in the future.

There'll be plenty of skiing, that is if there's snow . . . Ski manager Henry Beers is in charge of the competition, which will include downhill, slalom, and cross-country races, all on the Ski Trail . . . The competition will be of the intramural variety, with medals awarded the winners . . . Intercollegiate and intramural hockey will add ice interest to the day's program . . . At present a varsity skirmish is pending, and plans to bring together four fraternity teams in intramural competition, with the finals being run off between halves of the varsity battle, are being made . . . Ice-skating will be in sway following the puck tussles with all spectators participating. There's a possibility that sex in the form of a girls' figure skating club may add the variety to the program.

That's the story as we heard it . . . Sounds as though the Carnival might be more than pipe-dream after all . . . A good start this year would mean continuation next winter, and so on, and so on.

Boxers Start Semester With 7 A. M. Session

The varsity and freshman boxing teams started the new semester with a 7 a. m. practice session yesterday. The 7 o'clock "class" is reputed to be the first athletic practice ever scheduled in Rec Hall at that hour.

Occasioned by registration in Rec Hall, yesterday's early morning work-out will be replaced by a 5 o'clock today.

Practically all the varsity and freshman boxers reported for the unusual session and none seemed to mind the early hour. Only collectors were assistant managers less accustomed to such rigorous ardours!

Here's the answer to that problem of finding a clean, comfortable room at a reasonable rate.
