A Winning Pair

FRANK GLEASON

JOE SCALZO

Frank Gleason and Joe Scalzo both won last night as the matmen lost to Princeton, 14-12. Gleason, 136, decisioned Gene Taylor and Scalzo, 155, won over Bob Linzsey.

Kern's Defeat Decides Match

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 4—An undefeated Nittany Lion bowed to an underrated but vicious Tiger onslaught when Bart Robbins, Princeton heavyweight grappler, pinned Jack Kerns to snatch the Tigers from near defeat and nose out the Lion matmen, 14-12, here tonight.

Spotting Kerns 50 pounds, Robbins scored the only fall of the match in 4:02 minutes. John Blake defeated Joe Valla, Lion 175-pounder, to overcome a Nittany Lion 12-6 advantage and set the stage for the deciding heavyweight bout.

Both teams swapped decisions when 121-pound Clair Hess overpowered the Tiger's Van Brewer and Frank Gleason, Lion captain, rode Gene Taylor, Princeton 136-pounder, to an easy victory.

Tiger Captain Bob Eberle, twice Intercollegiate 128-pound champion, exerted superior grappling to win over Charlie Ridenour, while Glenn Alexander was the victim of a close-fought 145-pound tilt with Bob Feldmeier.

In two successive bouts, Nittany Lion hopes were boosted by Joe Scalzo's brilliant win over Bob Linzsey, Tiger 145-pounder, and Chuck Rohrer's conquering of 165-pound Dick Bowen by a wide margin.

It was the first defeat in three starts for the favored Lions while the Tigers racked up their second straight triumph.

The summaries:

121-pound class: Clair Hess, Penn State, decisioned Van Brewer, 11-2.

128-pound class: Bob Eberle, Princeton, decisioned Charles Ridenour, 8-3.

Archers Express Hopes Of Forming College Team

The possibility of an archery team for Penn State took on a new aspect yesterday when Richard R. Vogel and Melvin Wainer, transfer students from Franklin and Marshall College announced they are seeking archery fans to form a team.

Vogel, captain of the Franklin and Marshall team last semester and junior State champion in 1935, expressed his desire of starting a team at Penn State to enter a league with the University of Pennsylvania, Lebanon Valley, Franklin and Marshall, Lehigh, and Shippensburg State Teachers College.

Wainer, who was No. 2 man on the F&M team, is also interested in the undertaking and pointed out that at least two more archers are needed to complete the team of four.

Rifle Team Will Battle Marines And Detroit

Having blasted Washington State University by a 1901 to 1873 count, the undefeated Lion varsity riflers skirmish with the U. S. Marine Corps of Philadelphia and Detroit University in a twin postal match Saturday.

With Gil Gault '41 and Ben Stahl '42, pacing the riflemen with consistently high scores, All-American Bob McCoy is expected to boost the five-man team score with his return to condition.

Portfolio Brings Artist Here

An artist who has had more than 25 exhibitions in Europe, Peter Fingsten, now of Philadelphia, will appear on campus this weekend under the sponsorship of Portfolio, student literary magazine.

He will speak on modern sculpture and art demonstrating in clay in Room 207 Main Engineering at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. The Poetry Society will meet with him in the basement of the College Book Store at 11 a.m. Sunday. Both meetings are open.

His works are particularly famous for their simplicity of expression and full exploitation of their medium. Fingsten's father, a painter and wood cut artist, is in a concentration camp for anti-Nazi drawings.

Hockey Game Features Carnival

Penn State's ice hockey Lions will meet the Temple Ice-Owls in the Winter Carnival rink feature Saturday afternoon, Manager Richard W. May '41 announced late yesterday. The hockey tilt will follow a figure skating exhibition by the Figure Skating Club to begin at 2 p. m.

Temple, a member of the Eastern Pennsylvania Hockey League, previously met defeat before the hard playing Nittany sextet, 6-1, in a contest played in Johnstown early this season. This will mark the first home tilt since the game with Hershey, when the rink was opened last winter.

Ski Manager Henry A. Beers

'42, announced yesterday that there will be six medals awarded in the intra-mural ski competition. There will be two medals each for downhill, slalom, and cross country. Beers also warned, "Before waxing your skis, be sure to take the physical examination at the Dispensary. No student is eligible for competition unless he has medical approval."

Fraternities and living groups interested in ice sculpture were again urged to enter the competition. Several fraternities have already begun plans and have started super-structures, the committee announced.
