HUMAN C-Baltimore

Tonight is bank night- for G-Penn State sports fanatics, also G-Ramin bingo, bucko, wahoo, and what- In the windup of the first have-you night . . . All wrapped sports tripleheader of the year in up, the tripleheader this evening Rec Hall at 8 tonight, a band looks like just the bill to start of Nittany cagers will take the off a new semester . . . Here's hoping when it is unwrapped, it'll look as glittering for the to be anything but a pushover Lion teams participating.

Danny DeMarino, well-regarded as the "Demon Devil Doctor," (the name is copyright with this That's not too impressive but column and is derived from their 50 points per game average Danny's associations with the is. The leading scorer of the State Jayvee football team this team is Jim Ruch who has fall) will make his debut as a boxing mentor tonight, when he sends his freshmen glovers out favor will be that the Lions, unto peel a few Syracuse Tangerines (also copyright, meaning lost to the West Virginians. It Syracuse Little Oranges, or will be the 20th meeting between freshmen, to you) . . . Three frosh footballers will be in plugging for the Lion cub mitters, Martella, Ranieri and Halpin at the upper three weight posts . . . Two Nittany freshmen are the sons of former pro ring greats, Pat Conlon and Bill Schabecker, whose dad was better known as Joe Shannon,

In the center ring of tonight's three ring circus will be the var-. sity Lion-Orange leather-slinging battle . . . You can bet your last semester's grade sheet that it's going to be a give-until-youcan't-give-anymore. take-untilyou-can't-take-anymore affair

. Syracuse-Penn State have about as much love for each other in the ring as Superman and Hitler . . . Familiar Orange names are returning with the Hillmen tonight . . . Names with people and fists attached which may bode mayhem for Lion boxing hopes . . . There's Healy at 165, who doesn't care much for Nittany lads because one of them a Mr. Jim Lewis took his title away last spring . . . Also there's Woyciesjes, enough said . . . And Mirabito, whose name still makes Penn State footballers shiver . . . If you remember, he's the lad who wore a lot of valleys in State's Seven Mountains last fall at Archbold Stadium ... Add a certain Mr. Schoff, who owns the 145 pound Eastern. title, and you have an interesting evening ahead for the local laddies.

Even after sixteen boxing bouts have been run off tonight, you're not through yet, 'cause the last act will be pretty thrilling too, we believe . . . West Virginia's Mountaineers are coming and with a vengeance . . . Also their record isn't bad at all ... Any team which can average 50 points-plus a game over ten games can't be considered a breather, but we like the Lions to make it nine wins tonight at the expense of the Morgantown cagers.

The visitors will be led by Ruch and Rudy Baric, the team's greatest all-around performer, who has tallied 107 points in the first 10 contests. Ruch is a forward and Baric a guard.

At the other forward position will be Roger Hicks, a set shot artist, and at the other guard Captain Sam Mandich, the only senior in the starting lineup.

Scotty Hamilton, five feet, 10 inches, will play center during A Lot Depends On These Two

The fate of the Lion's cage game against West Virginia tonight may depend more than a little on these two sharpshooters. At the left is Scotty Moffatt, who will have a chance to come out of a bad slump. At the right is Herk Baltimore, flashy sophomore center.

For State, Coach Lawther will use the same team that started at Pitt and that started the Syracuse game at Rec Hall. This will have Captain Johnny Barr and Elmer Gross on the front line, Herky Baltimore at center

Varsity Tankmen Battle Temple Owls Saturday In Glennland Pool Meet

Boasting an undefeated season Penn State's varsity mermen take to Glennland Pool Saturday to face a strong Owl squad.

In last year's tilt the Lions came out on the short end of a 41-34 score but with this year's better balanced team the Nittanymen are conceded a little better than even chance of overcoming the Temple swimmers.

Thus far this season Bob Galbraith has not had to display the full power of his tankmen but in Saturday's meet it is more than likely that Elmer Webb, who has not participated in a meet yet, will be called upon to chalk up some points for the Lions.

Outstanding for the Owls are Johnny Calhoun, John Koenig. and Hal Kremer. Calhoun is noted especially for his prowess in the sprints and is Koenig's number one man in the backstroke.

Whizzer White, onetime All-American halfback at Colorado University and later a Rhodes scholar, stood second in his Yale law school class.

Frosh Quintet To Meet Bucknell In First Regular Season Game Tonight

In their first regular season game Coach Nick Thiel's basketball yearlings will journey to Lewisburg tonight where they meet the Bucknell frosh. The Nittany Cubs although able to win two of the three pre-season games, have been a little weak since their return from vacation, according to Coach Thiel. The Bucknell squad holds third place in the Eastern allowed. Mountain League, and should be tough opposition, Thiel said.

Barney Ewell

When all the returns were in from the Seton Hall races Monday night, Penn State's ace sprinter, Barney Ewell, had won not lost. He even took the trophy for the sprint series. Ewell started out poorly by failing to place in the 50-yard dash but went on to win the 60-yard dash in 6.5 seconds and tie the Armory record with a 7.2 second victory in the 70-yard dash. In the 70 he stopped such aces as Wolcott, Peacock, Carter, Stickel, Fangboner, Dooter, and Weast. Ewell's failure in the 50 was due to a spill at the start. The races were run on a flat board track with spike shoes not
