

We, The Women— Three 'Musts' For Your Date Calendar

President Hetzel praised student government here and urged the faculty to encourage student self-responsibility in his talk Thursday night. The president has always been the outstanding pro-student-government influence on our campus. For this we are fortunate.

But, while the faculty and administration go on fostering student government organizations, there is still a great deal to be done by students. To bring criticism to light can't be done too soon since within the next two months groups responsible for setting student government policies will face the problem of replacing their clientele with new blood.

It is with women's elections that we are concerned.

Undoubtedly there can be changes which could strengthen considerably the groups which regulate the lives of coeds here.

The responsibility for naming qualified candidates from the floor of the WSGA-WRA mass meeting has been lightly felt in the past. What should be an organized attempt to nominate women whom the nominating committees may have overlooked has often been turned into a sorority free-for-all. Though we are fortunate not to have sorority politics as such on our campus, no one can deny that combinations do exist—be they only in spirit.

Personal prejudices often reject a desirable candidate while a popular but unqualified woman "makes out."

Too often we fill responsible positions with women who lack the initiative to find out what their constituents think about problems which concern them.

The sparsely attended mass meetings last year and the year before attest to the lack of interest in self-government shown by too many coeds.

These, and other present defects, can be corrected by thinking now of competent possibilities for offices and by marking February 25, February 27, and March 5 (mass meeting, primary and final elections) as "musts" on your calendar.

Sororities Issue Bids Prior To Pledging Tomorrow

Formal Dinners Close Entire Rushing Season

A complete list of sorority pledges will be printed in The Daily Collegian Tuesday

Climaxed by tonight's formal dinners from 5:30 to 7 p. m. and from 7:30 to 9 p. m., the 1940-41 rushing season will end at 9 p. m. as sorority women submit final bids to the office of the dean of women by 10 p. m. for distribution tomorrow morning.

No prediction could be made last night by Panhellenic Council as to the possible number of pledges, but it is thought that the number may exceed last year's total of 149.

Any rushee who has received a bid from any of the 13 houses will receive a preferential ballot from the dean's office before 10 a. m. tomorrow with sororities listed alphabetically. She will then mark a "1" beside the sorority of her choice, and if she wishes she may indicate second and third preferences. Rushees are warned, however, that the noting of a second or third choice indicates complete willingness to join that house if a bid has not been extended by the first choice.

Ballots are to be returned immediately, Miss Charlotte E. Ray, dean of women, urged last night so that bidding may be completed quickly for the benefit of sororities and rushees. When all ballots have been returned and lists for each house compiled, rushing chairmen will be notified to call for them. Sororities will then telephone their new pledges and invite them to houses or suites.

Any problems of rushees may be referred to a Panhellenic Advisory Board composed of Arita

'40 Coeds Lead '39 Women In Brides By 3.5 Per Cent

By JEANNE STILES

Marriages of June, 1940 women were 3.5 per cent more numerous than those of June, 1939 women it was shown in a recent survey conducted through the dean of women's office. The figures revealed that 14 per cent of last June's women were married while, in the same period of time, only 10.5 per cent of June, 1939 women took the nuptial vows.

Of the 267 women graduated from the College last June, 61 per cent are employed, 10 per cent unemployed, 5 per cent engaged in graduate study, 5 per cent attending business school, 5 per cent unknown, and 14 per cent married, the survey revealed.

Ninety of the 93 department of home economics graduates are employed and, of the 9 School of Physical Education graduates, 6 are employed, 1 married, and 2 unemployed.

A decrease from 11.5 per cent in 1939 to 5 per cent in 1940 was showing in the number of women taking graduate work.

Unemployment percentages have been decreasing, with 18.5 per cent unemployed from the June, 1936 class at a given period; 6 per cent from the June, 1937 class; 19 per cent of the June, 1938 class; and 10 per cent from both the June, 1939 and 1940 classes.

The number of women graduated in various school last June were: Agriculture, 8; Chemistry and Physics, 3; Education, 171; Liberal Arts, 76; and Physical Education, 9.

Seventy graduates are teaching, 37 are married, 30 are doing secretarial work, 28 are engaged in dietetic work, 14 are working in stores and restaurants, 14 are attending business school, 13 are doing graduate study, 9 are engaged in newspaper and advertising work, 5 are laboratory technicians, 4 are doing miscellaneous work, and 3 are engaged in social work.

700 Greet Cupid At WRA Dance

With last year's attendance of 275 couples exceeded by 75, WRA's annual Sweetheart Dance in White Hall from 9 p.m. to midnight yesterday climaxed the local St. Valentine's Day celebration.

Formally attired couples were not disheartened by inclement weather, and coeds enjoyed inviting and escorting their partners.

The dance centered about valentines, with hearts, cupid, special lighting effects, and a crystal ball carrying out the theme. Campus Owls played for the dance and presented several novelty numbers.

The dance marked the third given by WRA since 1939 with proceeds used for purchasing equipment and a student loan fund. This year's profits will probably be donated to a charitable cause.

THAT IT MERITS
OUR WHOLEHEARTED
ENDORSEMENT!

Everyone, young and old alike, should like "Flight From Destiny." Besides being interesting, and stirring, it is one which contains much "food for thought."
W. Rae Herrmann
Embodies a most unique treatment of a familiar theme—thought provoking entertainment.
A. Frank Heckert
A really new picture—marked by dramatic punch and absence of propaganda.
Robert K. Mayfield
It is like a stimulating book—it contains much "food for thought!" Thomas Mitchell gives an unforgettable characterization as Professor Todhunter.
John R. Geitz

A very interesting production! Because of its unusual nature it is a show well worth seeing.
Thomas J. Robinson
A picture truly advertised—unusual in every detail.
W. J. Dorworth, Jr.
Your unusual picture shows one man's way of meeting a situation that has fascinated all of us. He's a college man at that!
Adam A. Smyser
A realistic portrayal of a fantastic theme. Fine entertainment, as well as thought-provoking. Tinged with enough humor to prevent its being too morbid.
Bayard Bloom
