Can You Afford Mor To Kick In !

"Sorry, Eddlike to contirbute . . . just don't have the money right now . . . have to pay my debts first'... I need the dough more than they do."

These phrases illustrate an all-too-common reaction to the joint drive for the World Student Service Fund and British War relief now underway on this campus.

It is easy enough for us to give excuses, to justify ourselves in our own minds, to feel even a little bit proud of the neat way we "got out of that." After all, we've heard this song-and-dance about refugees and prison camps and starving kids Usfore: It's old stuff, and we're fired of crying in our beer:

Okay—then why should we kick in? >:

We cannot afford NOT to give to the World Student Service Fund.

Some day this whole bloody mess is going to be over. Some day the world will swing back rightside up and men will again think of other things veside the systematic extermination of their fellow men.

When that day comes, there must be leaders to fashion a new world from the ruins of the old. Europe will look for leadership to the young men now imprisoned in war camps, interned in Switzerland, stranded homeless in neutral countries.

It is these young men whom the World Student Service Fund is attempting to help. It is these young men who so vitally need the educational materials and leaders we can supply. It is these young men whom we must help to fit themselves to assist in building the new world order. Their success or failure will vitally affect our lives. * * *

We cannot afford NOT to give to the British War Relief Society.

We cannot afford not to do our bit to stiffen the morale of a nation with whom we are virtually allied, a nation with whose destiny our destiny has treen linked by men in Washington. Right or wrong, sink or swim, the die is cast. If British morale weakens, if the British fail, you and I have already been elected to replace them on the firing

It's only a buck-less than the price of three movies. You probably spent as much in the Corper Room last week:

How about investing it in the world's future? -W.E.F.

Significant Visit

'The visit of Rear Admiral H: E. Yarnell, forenerly in command of the Asiatic Fleet, to the campus on Friday seems highly significant. First, it marks the Penn State School of Engineering as one for which the government has a particular respect. Secondly, the personal visit of a rear adinitial to head up recruiting operations indicates just how badly the navy neds trained men-it is tolking in terms of 29 per cent of the senior and jumor classes opinions expressed in this column do not necessar flect the editorial policy of The Daily Collegian.)

THE CAMPUSEER

AMMINISTRATIONAL CONTRA CONTRA

Aftermath

The hurly-burly and meow of women's rushing is history. But it remains for the Campuseer to disclose the startling aftermath of the conflictthe dramatic mystery of the Kappas 20th Pledge!

It was Sunday afternoon, the Kappas were standing around their shack kissing the new pledges, and everyone was very happy. Suddenly a suspicious-looking figure in a red and white plaid dress dashed up to the Kappa door.

"Gimme a ribbon," the latest arrival ordered the bewildered sisters, in a voice strangely resembling that of one Albert Schienfield. get the kisses up-I'm going KKG!"

A Lean and Ugly Crook

According to a recent Collegian movie ad (no extra charge for this plug), there are only two kinds of people in this country-those who have seen . . . and those who want to see . . . "Flight from Destiny."

We disagree. There are really only two kinds of people in this country:

- i. Those who read Cassius.
- 2. Human beings.

It's Off

George Parrish is now in possession of the Thetaxi pin formerly worn by Jane Gibboney. Cheer up. George, there's always IF.

It's On

Eddie Spencer is dating Gwen Harris again. Convenient, at times, this mid-semester graduation stuff.

It's Definitely On

Bill Hipp '40, erstwhile deltasig pillar now carrying on for Schmidts Brewery, has allowed himself to be middle-aisled by one Ruth Oglevee, former AOPi.

Passing Scene

Elsie Rooth, our spies report, has spotted the man in her life—but he doesn't know it . . . those two English profs with the unpronounceable names, Dy and Bo, amaze us with the ferocity of their arguments . . . last year's class in the marriage course stole the prof's book . . . we quote Bill Lundelius: "These political meetings in Ath. Hall are the nuts!" . .

För Use Against Lehigh

We are indebted to Purdue U for the following cheer, which we pass on to Dean Hammond and his rah-rah boys:

Eulogy Department

We looked up at our calendar last night and were frankly shocked when we found that it was so close to Washington's Birthday.

A great guy-that fellow Washington. Ten or twelve years ago, he meant that we got to take in a week-day matinee of our favorite Western star. So, armed with our bag of cherry hardcandy, and a rusty old axe we proceeded to beat the stuffin' out of the kid in the row in front of us, while Buck Jones, Hoot Gibson or some other favorite-of-the-day was jumping 40-foot cliffs and saving the heroine from you-know-what.

That, plus George's ability to score the winning touchdown whenever his team needed it, resulted in a great admiration for the Father of Our Country. So great, in fact, that we adopted his policy of never telling a lie.

Hence it's easy to believe us when we say that the Commemorative Cherry Ice Cream Pies that McLanahan's are featuring (per serving 10c) are the tastiest-treat of the week.

Paging Mr. Freud

You were almost right, Sigmund, about Dreams and Suppressed Desires.

For the "Suppressed Desire" of 600 Penn State Co-Eds is a Dream—the Revlon Dream Box that McLanahan's are displaying at $1.00.

A nifty little packet of Hand Cream and Mittens, it's the answer to the problem of cold-weather hands. Apply the Cream, put on the Mittens, go to bed, wake up the next morning with the niftiest pair of hands that ever held 13 Spades.

College Gallery Shows Japanese Art Display

Selected Japanese prints, ranging from the primitives to romanticists such as Hiroshige, are now on display in the renovated College Art Gallery, Room. 303 Main Engineering.

The gallery is open from 8:30 a. m. until 6:30 p. m. daily except Sunday, closing at noon on Saturday.

Carole Lombard and Robert-Montgomery appear together for the first time in "Mr. and Mrs. Smith," a riotous comedy about a Park Avenue lawyer, featured at the Cathaum theater today and tomorrow.

Complications arising in the form of a matrimonial mixup evetually unwind themselves in a hectic and hilarious finale. Also on the bill is the latest March of Time, "Labor and Defense-1941.

Homer Flunked Out!

NO wonder . . . he never had time to do his lessons. His domestic duties kept him too busy! Homer's chief trouble was buttons . . . unfaithful little perforated disks that kept coming off his shirts. (which weren't Arrows). While other guys were out dating on weekends, you could always find: Homer nimbly thimbling a needle.

Why didn't someone tell him about Arrow Shirts with anchored buttons? They never come off! They're as permanent as the fine style and fit of all Arrow shirts.

Arrow whites are all-time favorites. As all Arrows they have the Mitoga railored fit and the one and only Arrowcollar in a variety of styles to suit your type. Stock up on Arrows today. $2 up. _
