

Hockey, Skiing Pledged Support By A. A. Board

No Future Admissions Slated For Hockey

Hockey and skiing emerged as full-fledged intercollegiate sports, guaranteed full financial support, at a busy, four-hour meeting of the Athletic Advisory Board in the Nittany Lion Inn on Saturday.

On motion of the student members of the board, Jack W. Brand '41, William B. Bartholomew '41 and Adam A. Smyser '41, the sports were promised full financial support. It was announced, too, that in the future no student admissions would be charged for hockey.

In its busiest meeting of the year, the Board took these other important actions:

1. Passed a resolution urging the college to end its policy of discrimination against athletes for campus jobs and urging the establishment of a student placement bureau as soon as possible.
2. Called on Dr. Carl P. Schott, dean of the School of Physical Education and Athletics, to have all coaches report what jobs are now held by athletes in their sports.
3. Approved a return of the four-year eligibility requirement to the athletic code and voted that it be submitted to the student body at the Athletic Association elections.
4. Voted to pay for numeral awards beginning next fall out of the regular athletic budget. (The awards are now paid half from interclass finance funds and half by the students receiving them.)
5. Voted to incorporate the requirements for numeral awards into the Athletic Association constitution if approved by the student body at the AA elections.
6. Voted to give Mont Alto Forestry School the power to award class numerals to its sports participants instead of the letters P.S.F.S. (Penn State Forestry School) now awarded.
7. Voted to restrain undergraduate centers from designating themselves as Penn State teams rather than center teams.
8. Considered football schedules for 1943, 1944, and 1945.

Field Narrows In Senior Award

Three seniors were still being considered yesterday for the Collegian's annual Outstanding Senior Award to be presented between the wrestling meet and the basketball game in Rec Hall Saturday night.

The final decision will be made Friday afternoon. The trophy, a 15-inch cup, is made by the junior editorial board of the Collegian.

Requirements for the award are all around activity on the campus and accomplishments during the entire four years spent at the College. Both men and women are eligible.

This will be the fourth year that the award has been made. Previous winners were Sol B. Miehoff '38, Joseph A. Peel '39 and H. Clifton McWilliams, Jr. '40.

Cabinet To Meet

All-College Cabinet will hold its regular meeting in Room 305 Old Main immediately after the basketball game tonight.

Delayed Heifetz Concert Scheduled For March 25

Jascha Heifetz will make his delayed concert appearance here Tuesday, March 25 in the second number of the Artists' Course series, Dr. Carl E. Marquardt, committee chairman, revealed last night.

February 11 was the original scheduled concert date but illness caused that performance to be postponed. March 25 is the first available substitute date agreeable to both Heifetz and the College.

Series seats and individual tickets for the great violinist's concert are still on sale.

Free Concerts To Begin Sunday

The Blue Band, under the direction of Hummel Fishburn, associate professor of music, will present a complimentary concert in Schwab Auditorium Sunday at 3:30 p.m. This will be the first in the annual series of concerts sponsored by the music department, Richard W. Grant, director of music, announced yesterday.

Concerts, which have been scheduled to be given throughout March and early April, include those to be given by:

- The Infantry Band, directed by Frank Gullo, assistant professor of music, on March 9;
- The Glee Club, directed by Professor Grant, on March 16;
- The Phi Mu Alpha Orchestra, directed by Professor Gullo, and the Louise Homer Club Girls' Ensemble, directed by Willa C. Taylor, assistant professor of music, on March 23;
- The Symphony Orchestra, directed by Professor Fishburn, on March 30;
- The Engineers' Band, directed by Professor Gullo, on April 6.

Brotherhood Week

At a well-attended all-campus mass meeting in Schwab auditorium Sunday night, observance of National Brotherhood Week was officially begun and will continue through Friday. Meetings of church and campus organization groups will meet from time to time throughout the week.

Engineering Students Approve Acceleration Of Study Program

That 60.5 per cent of the College engineering students favor an accelerated program of study, was revealed late yesterday in the results of the survey conducted last week in cooperation with the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education.

This nationwide survey, which was requested by the Advisory Committee on Engineering Defense Training of the U. S. Office of Education, will determine the desirability and feasibility of speeding up the regular undergraduate programs of technical colleges.

Following are the results of the survey, the SPEE committee will report their findings to the Advisory Committee, which will meet March 8 to decide if the plan will be continued, and to seek federal financial aid.

Following are the results of

Bucknell Chosen New President Of Association

Bucknell University was chosen president of the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Government Association and host to the 1942 convention before the second annual three-day convention of the Association closed here Sunday morning.

Penn State was chosen vice-president with All-College Cabinet to designate a student for the office.

In a convention marked by the attention its speakers paid to international and national affairs, the state director of selective service, Dr. William Mather Lewis, president of Lafayette College, urged the students to "pay attention to the matters at hand and not go out and meet the crisis."

Education is an essential industry, he told the students. "If we disrupt it," he said, "the Dark Ages of the eighth century may give us another blackout."

Dr. Lewis predicted in his talk Saturday night that "we will know by July 1 whether America is to be actively engaged in this war."

A resolution urging absentee voting for Pennsylvania and pledging the college students to do their utmost to see it adopted was unanimously passed at a general session of the convention Sunday morning.

Sixty-two delegates representing 24 colleges attended the convention.

Student Health Board Reorganizes To Act On Housing Standard

Indirectly responsible for establishing the free hospitalization plan that began operating last fall, the Student Health Board has again organized, this time with the intention of influencing action on a measure that will tend toward a minimum housing standard for students.

Headed by Charles R. Reid '41, the board of 12 students will serve chiefly as an intermediary for problems that arise between students and the College Health Service, the latter represented by Dr. Joseph P. Ritenour, director of the Service.

Thursday has been set as a tentative date for the first meeting of the Board, Reid announced yesterday.

Baird, Doherty Selected As All-College Nominees

Releases Party Slates

Richard C. Peters '41, chairman of All-College Elections Committee, has released the complete All-College election ticket and reminded party chairman of the platform and petition deadline set for noon today.

Platforms, Petitions Deadline Noon Today

Selection of Robert D. Baird for All-College president and Gerald F. Doherty as his running mate on the Independent ticket climaxed the '42 and '43 Independent nominations last night as the curtain fell on clique primaries, setting the stage for the All-College political campaign.

Coincident with the announcement that all party petitions and platforms are due at noon today, Richard C. Peters '41, chairman of the elections committee, revealed that the political mass meeting would be held in Schwab Auditorium at 8:15 p. m., instead of 7 p. m., next Tuesday.

R. Glenn Alexander was named as the Independent senior class presidential nominee, with James L. Clovis as the vice-presidential candidate. Secretary and treasurer posts were given to Paul C. Mall and Janet M. Hartz, respectively.

In the final Independent nominations, the '43 clique chose William T. Richards for their presidential aspirant. George N. Rumsey will campaign for vice president, Glayds E. Fitting for secretary, and Thomas R. Ridge for treasurer.

All party platforms submitted today must contain the All-College averages of the candidates.

Active campaigning for party candidates will not be allowed until after the mass meeting, Peters warned. Any violators will be tried by the Student Tribunal, and if found guilty of election code violations will be subject to dismissal from College.

Women Meet To Name Candidates

See Page 4 for Complete List of Candidates' Activities.

Candidates for WSGA and WRA offices made by respective nominating committees will be introduced at the compulsory women's mass meeting in Schwab Auditorium from 7 to 8 p. m. today. Additional names may be added to the ballot from the floor.

Roll will be taken, and WSGA Judicial Committee will penalize absentees. Coeds having classes should attend them and then present excuses to Judicial.

No nominations will be accepted from the floor for the presidency of WSGA or WRA since candidates must have had a year's experience to be eligible.

Withdrawals from the WSGA ballot announced by Elinor L. Weaver '41, WSGA president, are Marjorie L. Sykes '43 from the vice-presidency nomination, and Jean E. Hershberger '43 from junior senatorship candidacy.

Both WSGA and WRA require all candidates to have a 1.5 All-College average and WRA requires that vice-president and treasurer be of sophomore standing.

Outing Club Planned

A meeting of all students interested in the formation of an outing club, with a wider variety of outing activities, will be held in Room 10 Sparks Building at 7 p. m. tomorrow.
