Between The Lions

With DICK PETERS

This is "The Story of How First Places Are Made—Not Born." A subtitle might be "Bob Galbraith Thinks Fast."

Coach Bob Galbraith of Penn State's swimming Lions, went to bed Friday night with a problem, not a weighty one, but just one of those things which help keep coaches awake at night. Bob needed a diver for his freshmen swimming squad who was slated to splash it out with Cornell's yearlings the next day.

Saturday afternoon a frosh diver named Zimmerman took first place in the meet for Penn State, which would indicate that sometime between the moment "Gal" went to bed and the time of the meet, a solution to aforementioned problem must have been found.

Saturday morning the Nittany aquatic mentor awoke with a terrific idea. A diver is a water-minded person who owns a mentally and physically cool attitude, a great deal of poise; control over his body, with some acrobatic ability, and a sense of direction enough to know where the swimming pool is located once he has propelled himself from the springboard.

Who, Bob Galbraith says to himself, would be better suited for the job than a tumbler on the gymnastics team? None, Bob answers.

Enter Harold Zimmerman, freshmen tumbler, unexcelled, undefeated, and a sure fire shot for bigger and better things his next three years as a varsity

Mori Upsets Lion Fisticuff Lineup

Wade Mori's unexplained departure from varsity boxing has once more scrambled the Lion lineup just when Penn State fisticuff fans thought they had a well-balanced team.

Mori, for whose departure no satisfactory reason has been given, filled the heavyweight bill quite adequately last Saturday when the Lions defeated Army 6 1/2-1 1/2. His lefts and rights with their dynamite contents and his burly constitution gave little but a more polished style to be desired.

With Mori out, Leo Houck will have to solve the heavyweight problem all over again. Unless a new "white hope" appears, Houck will have to either replace Mori with Harry Masters or move Paul Scally back up to the unlimited class.

If Houck moves Scally up, Paul Mall, who handled the 165-pound assignment so well Saturday, will be pushed up to the 175-pound post. This will leave Les Cohen or Stan Glabick to fill the 165-pound berth.

So it was that Bob Galbraith, a great idea, and Harold Zimmerman got together Saturday morning in the Glennland Pool. Zimmerman dove, Galbraith advised, and the great idea became a reality. The frosh gymnast had definite possibilities with his all-around physical skill, muscular control, and confidence.

And thus a first place was made. The same afternoon, Zimmerman entered his first swimming meet, after only a few hours notice, and walked away with a believe-it-or-not victory.

John Egli, Bob Ramin Lead Nittany Spree

By JOHN BAER

Good feeling between Penn State and Mexico increased a hundredfold as the University of Mexico cagers proved themselves good diplomats by gracefully losing to a vastly superior Nittany team, 62-18, in Rec Hall last night.

The Yellow Shirts, as the Mexican passers are known, were outclassed from the start. John Lawther put his reserves in early in the second quarter when the score was 22-3 and let them finish the game.

Long, looping passes were the chief stock in trade of the Mexicans but the taller Lions had little trouble in throttling this type of offense.

Best shot and cleverest ball handler among the visitors was Tiny Delfino Flores, five foot, five inch forward, who dodged in and out to pace his teammates with eight points. John Egli and Bob Ramin of State were high scorers with 12 apiece. Captain Johnny Barr garnered six points during his short stay in the ball game.

State got off to a lead just after the opening whistle when Ramin took a pass from Barr and flipped the ball in to make it 2-0. The Lions pulled away to a 12-3 lead at the quarter.

The second quarter was completely dominated by the home team as Captain Humberto Salazar got the only Mexico points on a pair of fouls. The Nittany cagers tallied almost at will to make the halftime count 30-5.

The second half was practically a repetition of the first, Bob Crowell, Ray Edgar, and Egli led the State attack by piling up a combined total of 24 points. Flores sank two basket and a foul for the Yellow Shirts.

The summary:

Mexico (18)	G.	F.	Pts.
Salazar, f	1	3	5
S. Hernandez	0	0	0
Flores, f	3	2	8

Grapplers Await Wolverine Attack

Fresh from trouncing the Big Red grapplers of Cornell after Valiant Joe Valla had copped the deciding bout in a spine-tingling overtime bout, the Nittany Lions will pit their mat skill against a clever Michigan squad in Rec Hall at 7 o'clock tomorrow night.

Coach Charlie Speidel's grunt-and-groan artists will attempt to even the 3-2 Wolverine edge of victories which reached its climax last year when Warren Elliott, Lion heavyweight, fractured his ankle to lose the match 16-14 after his teammates had piled up a 14-11 lead. Elliott was winning at the time.

The Wolverines have defeated Dearborn AC, Northwestern, Illinois, and Ohio State. They were conquered by Indiana and Michigan State recently because a few ineligible players at the end of the first semester left vacancies in the 121, 165, and 175-pound positions.

In order to cope with a strong, veteran lineup in the middle weights, Speidel may switch Joe Scalzo, 155-pounder to his natural 145-pound spot where he will probably meet Jack Paup, who has won five tilts this year. Glenn Alexander would move up to the 155-pound spot.

Nittany Swimmers Gun For Syracuse Tankmen In Away Tilt Saturday

With their last home meet behind them, the Nittany tankmen are tuning up for their remaining two tilts, the first at Syracuse with the Orangemen this Saturday, and the last with the Big Red at Ithaca the following weekend.

Syracuse will furnish the biggest threat to Lion Captain Bill Kirkpatrick's unblemished record in the 50-yard sprint, for the Orange squad boasts not one, but two outstanding freestyle stars.

Last year Syracuse freestyler Ed Kompf captured the 50 by setting a new pool record of 24.2, and Dick Whiteside, Orange distance expert, took firsts in both the 220 and 440-yard freestyle with a 5:22 record for the latter race.

Captain Frank Gleason will be the only Lion who remains undefeated as he meets Ray Deane, Michigan 136-pounder who has garnered five victories and lost one bout. Clair Hess, 128-pounder, and 165-pound Chuck Rohrer were dethroned in the Cornell fracas.

Tom Weidig, Wolverine veteran 128-pounder, will attempt to upset Hess in a revenge scrap. Weidig was dethroned by the Lion lightweight last year.
