

Nittany Cagers Finish Season By Downing Carnegie Tech, 42-32

Between The Lions

With DICK PETERS

Today this corner turns traitor to the cause . . . Maybe we will be forced to turn in our resignation and drag our typewriter out of this office after today, but anyway, we've still got to say that we think Syracuse will win the Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing Association championship this weekend . . . If they don't, then the New York lads had better change their names from Orange to Sour Grapes . . . Santa Claus himself couldn't have been more kind to anyone than the tourney drawings were to the Hillmen . . . As you know, only five of the Syracuse mitmen were byed into the semi-finals by the Sunday drawings, which at the least, insures the Orangemen of five points . . . With three 1940 champs on deck to defend their titles, what else than a victory could be predicted for the Simmons' forces? . . . It rather reminds one of the 1937 EIBA fiasco, when Syracuse got five byes, two of them to the finals, thus insuring them of nine points even before a glove was drawn on . . . That year the Nittany Lions won just as many championships, three, and as many second places, three, but were edged out for the team title by the Syracuse lads 26 to 25 for the team title . . . And on that team, Coach Leo Houck had a few fellows named Frankie Goodman, Izzy Richter, Sammy Donato, Lou Ritzie, Billy Soose, and Nester Kociubinsky . . . The EIBA took an awful black eye itself that year, with criticism coming from all parts of the fist world . . . Here's hoping that a similar situation doesn't arise this year . . . Maybe the EIBA could take a tip from the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association and seed its boxers, not allowing so many byes to go to one school . . . Anyway, we can't see another EIBA title for the Nittany Lions in 1941, which we hope isn't being traitorous.

IM Wrestling Weigh-Ins

Intramural wrestling weigh-ins for fraternity and independent units will be held in the varsity locker room of Rec Hall from 4 to 5:30 p. m. today and tomorrow. Physical exam cards are required.

Architect Talks Here

Antonin Raymond, modern architect and third speaker in the winter group of Fine Arts Lectures, will speak on "What is a Modern Home?" in Room 110, Electrical Engineering at 7:30 p. m. tonight.

Yale College was originally located at Saybrook, Conn.

Capt. John Barr Picked On Pitt All-Opponent Five

Captain Johnny Barr, the first Lion cager in history to score over 500 points in varsity play, was named yesterday on Pitt's all-opponent team.

Other passers honored were Jim Ruch of West Virginia, Jim Brady of Waynesburg, Sofiak of Michigan and Evers of Illinois. They were not selected according to position.

Barr was the outstanding man on the floor when the Lions downed the Panthers, 36-21, in Rec Hall last Saturday. Earlier in the season Pitt defeated the Nittanymen, 36-27, at Pittsburgh.

EIWA Competition Evenly Matched

No collegiate grappling squad will be ranked as the top favorite to romp away with EIWA wrestling championship honors when 11 teams compete at Columbia University on March 14 and 15, according to Coach Charlie Speidel, Nittany Lion mentor.

With no brilliant teams, but plenty of dangerous grapplers, most squads will counterbalance each other because they are either flush with light or heavyweights, Speidel intimated.

Where Navy is strong in the heavy division, Cornell will make a bid in the light weights, Speidel pointed out. Other teams like Penn, Princeton, Yale will show strength in many positions but not a star-packed top-notch lineup, he added.

As for State, Captain Frank Gleason, Joe Scalzo, Clair Hess, Glenn Alexander, Joe Valla, and Chuck Rohrer, have had experience in intercollegiate competition with Charlie Ridenour and Jack Kerns getting their first baptism of intercollegiate mat fire.

Alpha Tau Omega Cagers Down Alpha Chi Sigma In Extra Period

Alpha Tau Omega in a 5 minute extra period of intramural basketball last night downed Alpha Chi Sigma, 30-23, with Byron B. Blank netting two threepointers in the extra period to raise his scoring total for the game to 14 points.

Delta Tau Delta, highest scoring team in the tournament, defeated Sigma Pi, 24-5. Tau Phi Delta, paced by William D. Kitson with 15 points, smothered the Sigma Phi Alpha quintet, 33-6. Raymond Connolly Jr. was second high scorer for the victors with 8 points.

With a score of 4-0 at the half, Theta Xi led by John W. Minnich won over Alpha Gamma Rho cagers, 17-5. Merlin J. Adamson sank 4 out of the 5 points for the losers.

Despite the playing of John G. Reitz, Kappa Delta Rho bowed

Tartans Almost Upset Lions In Close Battle

Special to The Daily Collegian

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Mar. 5—Playing one of their best games of the year, Carnegie Tech's luckless Tartans come close to upsetting Penn State tonight but the Lions forged ahead in the final quarter to finish on the long end of a 42-32 score.

The victory gave State the most successful cage season it has had since 1927 when the Lions won 13 out of 17. This season John Lawther's charges took 15 out of 20 contests.

The end of the first quarter against Tech saw the Tartans ahead, 9-6. State's Johnny Barr put the Lions in front at the opening by sinking a foul but Patton, who was high scorer with 19 points, played brilliant ball to pull Carnegie into the lead.

In the second period the score was tied three times, 11-11, 13-13, and 16-16. Penn State was never ahead. At the start of the third quarter, Scotty Moffatt tallied after a solo dash down the floor to give Lions an 18-16 margin.

Tech deadlocked the count again at 18-18 but for the last time. The Nittanymen got their second wind in the last quarter to pull away and win easily.

The summary:

Penn State (42)	G.	F.	Pts.
Barr, f	3	7	13
Gross, f	4	2	10
Baltimore, c	0	2	2

Lion Riflers Meet Army Minus Stahl's Services

Nittany riflemen will encounter Army in a shoulder-to-shoulder match at West Point on Saturday, but Co-captain Ben Stahl will be missing from the lineup. Stahl will accompany Lion gymnasts to Princeton where he will enter the rope-climb event.

Winning 12 matches and losing to U.C.L.A., Virginia Military Institute, and Iowa State, the Nittanymen expect to be hard-pressed to snatch the match from the West Pointers by virtue of its remarkable 1415-1394 victory over Navy last week.

Draft May Take Galen Bailey

Included among the 62 candidates out for spring football practice is a promising substitute halfback from last year's team whose chances of seeing any varsity action next year are very slim indeed.

Not that Galen Bailey isn't good enough to rip through opposing lines for substantial gains but he drew a very low draft number, and Uncle Sam will probably claim priority rights to his services on July 1. Coach Bob Higgins won't lose nearly as many players through the draft as some of next year's opponents since the sophomore tailback looms as the only Lion candidate for the army.

The gridders enjoyed another indoor holiday yesterday and won't see any heavy duty until they transfer their practice sessions outdoors next week.

Boxers Depart For EIBA Tourney

Leo Houck and the Lion boxing team leave this afternoon for the 18th annual Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing Association tournament in Syracuse, N. Y.

Leo is taking Vic Fiore, 120-pound "fighting barber," Bill Stanley, former wrestler—now 127-pound boxer; Captain Frank Stanko, 135-pounder; Bob Baird, ill for nearly a week, now back in the lineup at 145; Jim Lewis, EIBA 165-pound titlist, who will box 155 in this year's tourney; Les Cohen, swarthy 165-pounder; Paul "Smoky" Mall, who has developed into a real boxer at 175; and Paul Scally, who will handle the heavyweight post.

Houck's decision to take Bill Stanley was made after workouts last night. Stanley showed well in sparring bouts against Jesse Fardella, another 127-pound contender yesterday, and Fiore, 120-pounder, earlier this week.

Bob Baird was in good shape last night, in spite of fears earlier in the week that he would be unavailable. Baird is the only 145-pounder eligible under the one-half rule to fight in the EIBA tourney for State.

With the exception of Stanko and Scally, all the Penn State boxers will have first-round bouts tomorrow night. Semi-finals will be held Saturday afternoon followed by the finals that night.

Warnock To Speak

Dean A. R. Warnock will speak on "Education for Democracy" at a senior engineering lecture in Room 110 Electrical Engineering at 4:10 p.m. tomorrow.
