

Informal Dress, Date Matric Card—And You're Set For WSGA Dance

Entrance requirements for the annual WSGA dance: Informal dress, a date, and a matric card.

Procedure: Dance to the music of the Nittany Lions, led by Olin Butt, in Rec Hall from 9 p. m. until midnight tomorrow.

Added: Orchestra novelty numbers by Betty Platt, vocalist, and Mr. Butt, clarinetist.

Conclusion: A dance you wouldn't have missed and plans for putting next year's dance near the top on your "can't miss" list.

Business World Attracts Coeds

World of business is attracting an ever-larger number of coeds each year for according to statistics in the Dean of Women's office 13 per cent more 1940 graduates in Liberal Arts secured positions in business than in the preceding year.

Out of 76 graduates last year, 37 are now employed in some field of business activity. Largest proportion of 15 are secretaries, while 10 women are doing clerical work. Nine business school students are furthering their training, 1 graduate is employed on a bank, and the remaining 2 are engaged in store service.

From the 1939 class, 5 women are attending business school, 5 are doing general office work, 4 are secretaries, 3 work in stores and 1 is a bank assistant.

Only 6 of the 76 women graduated in 1940 were actually enrolled in the commerce and finance department; 5 came from the journalism department; and the other 55 graduated in arts and letters.

Percentage of the preceding year was much higher, with 11 of the 18 business workers having been graduated from the commerce and finance department and the rest from arts and letters.

Honor Women To Be Elected Wednesday

An important meeting of all senior women to elect honor women for class day exercises June 9 will be held in the southwest lounge of Atherton Hall at 7 p. m. Wednesday.

Bow girl, slipper girl, fan girl, class doner, mirror girl, and class poet will be selected.

Ten Home Ecs Plan Field Trip

Inspection of commercial organizations and talks on employment problems, requirements, and possibilities in the field of home economics are scheduled for the field trip to New York City, March 28 for college women, sponsored by the Home Economists in Business.

Ten students interested in food and equipment or clothing and textiles will attend from here.

Home economists actively engaged in the food and equipment field will speak in the morning on advertising, food companies, magazines, industry service, hotels and institutional service, utilities, newspapers, and free lancing.

For students interested in clothing and textiles home economists will speak on fashion reporting, fashion careers in department stores, dress designing, styling fabrics, and home decorations. A midnight inspection of a produce market will end the trip.

Women In Sports

Thetas will meet Chi O's for the volleyball championship tonight after defeating Ath East yesterday, 45-31. Winning teams will gain five points toward the intramural cup.

Thetas triumphed over Mac Hall I in ping-pong, 2-1, and Mac Hall bowed to Ath East in badminton, 2-1. Under the double elimination set-up, Thetas must meet Mac Hall again next Wednesday before the championship is decided.

In the All-College badminton tournament yesterday Margie Chambers beat Milly Post 11-1, 11-4, and Blanche Deger 11-5, 11-0; Muriel Engleke won two out of three games from Helen Mazur; Mary Succop defeated Polly Rugh 11-4, 12-11; Martha Duffman won over Betty Schoch 11-6, 11-2; Martha also beat out Miz Taylor 11-3, 11-2.

Installation of WRA club officers was held in the WRA lounge of White Hall at 8 o'clock last night.

We, The Women Odds And Ends On The Campus

"There will always be weather whether or not" as some ancient sage has stated, but we can thank the cold weather for the advance fashion plates on ear muff creations which the well-dressed college man will wear next Winter. They are warm. But that is all we can say for them.

The male element wonders if the cold weather isn't worth shivering about when it brings such gorgeous legs to view. Won't women ever learn never to roll their stockings?

WSGA Senate delegated to Mortar Board the job of making a new field of coed activities. The old personnel cards, long outmoded, have never served a purpose because there was no efficient filing system.

The new cards will be indexed by WSGA annual activities and will enable Senate to use the system when committees are appointed rather than picking members from random.

The corridors in the LA Building look alike. Thereby hangs a tale of a faculty woman who was washing her hands in the faculty women's lavatory. The floors had just been waxed. The door burst open, a six-foot-two upperclassman burst in and slid across the room. His embarrassment was evidenced by his exclamation, "Oh, my God!" while the faculty member reacted in her usual good-humored stride.

Which goes to show that the wax is too waxy, the signs not legible, or that the building is too large for anyone to find his way in except the men who built it.

Human progress is wonderful but an awful nuisance when you are in a hurry.

Lakonides To Install Officers At Dinner

New officers of Lakonides, women's physical education honorary, will be installed at a dinner meeting in the Hotel State College at 5:30 o'clock tonight.

The officers, elected yesterday morning, are Betty A. Widger '42, president; M. Pauline Rugh '43, vice-president; Lila A. Whoolery '43, treasurer; and Frances M. Angle '44, secretary.

Transfer Orientation Committee Appointed

A committee for transfer orientation was appointed by Margaret K. Sherman '43, speaker of WSGA House of Representatives, yesterday. Committee members include Anna L. Carey '42, Katherine A. Loresch '42, and Marion E. Sperling '42.

Ways in which women may cooperate to help enforce the Interfraternity Council Code were discussed.

Juniata Women To Visit

Representatives of women's government at Juniata College in Huntingdon will visit the campus Tuesday, Jean Babcock '42, WSGA president has announced. Following a campus tour and dinner in McAllister Hall with WSGA Senate members, the guests will attend Senate meeting in White Hall.

Discuss News, Sports To Keep A Man Interested

Shop Talk Favored In Student Chats

To keep up with a man's interests every college woman should be prepared to talk about what war is going on where, whether Congress passed the Lend-Lease bill, and other such current events.

She should be up on her sports enough to discuss players' names, competing teams, and scoring, and have a general acquaintance with popular radio programs, movies, and music, according to results of a conversational survey conducted by Eugene T. McDonald, instructor in speech, and explained last night to a group of Atherton Hall women.

Favored bits of talk among fraternity men, sorority women, and independents discovered in McDonald's poll are:

- Puns .....50%
- Shop talk .....55
- Dirty jokes (mixed groups)
- Women ..... 9
- Men ..... 37
- Discussion of dates (mixed groups) .....15
- Post mortems .....5

If you have difficulty beginning a conversation—chief obstacle to most students—open up with a meaningless phrase like, "Cold morning, isn't it?" explained McDonald. At Student Union dances, for instance, a quick resume of personal data will provide the opening wedge.

Sincere compliments come in handy when breaking a silence, but they must be sincere, added McDonald.

Sarcasm heads the list of men's pet gripes followed by inattentiveness, personal remarks, bragging, affectations, and profanity. Women want attention first, are disturbed by profanity, stubbornness, and misuses of English in men.

Bull sessions are productive in that they solve personal problems, offer leadership and recreation, but their educational value is limited despite popular conceptions, McDonald explained. Sex holds the limelight in 22 per cent of men's chats and 26 per cent in women's.

TPA Officers Elected

New Theta Phi Alpha officers are Sara J. Kunzler '42, president; Loretta L. Lintner '42, vice-president; D. Jane Crandall '42, corresponding secretary; and Mary Jane Bigger '43, recording secretary.
