Syracuse Boxers Stick To Studies, Decide Not To Enter National Meet

The 1940 Eastern Intercollegiate championship boxing team will not be represented in the seventh annual NCAA tournament, to be held in Rec Hall starting next Thursday, Syracuse University officials announced yesterday.

A telegram to Ridge Riley, College sports publicity director, stated that the EIBA championship team, which includes five individual titleholders, had decided to forego national mit honors in favor of scholastic achievements. This reduces the entry list to 21 colleges.

pa Phi vs. Sigma Nu. Byes for the first round were drawn by Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Pi No. 1, Delta Upsilon, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Beta Theta Pi.

Elimination games will be played next Thursday and the following Tuesday with championship finals scheduled for April 3.

VOLLEYBALL

Sigma Phi Epsilon defeated Alpha Zeta yesterday, 15-5, 15-8. In the only other game played, Beta Theta Pi downed Kappa Sigma, 15-11, 15-10.

Between The Lions

WITH DICK PETERS

Last Chance

Today and tomorrow is "quitting time" for Captain Frank Gleason, Joe Scalzo, and Chuck Rohrer, three Lion wrestlers who wind up their intercollegiate grappling careers for keeps as they enter the National tourney at Lehigh.

In tournament competition, bad luck has weighted down the tights of both Gleason and Scalzo, who have been seeking titles for three years. To be sure, the Nittany 136 pounder did capture the Eastern championship in 1939, but although Captain Frankie has improved in his muscle-grinding ability, for some reason he has never been able to recapture the elusive Eastern or National crowns.

Scalzo, who came to State highly-touted as a high school grappling ace, has never been able to overcome a jinx which has dogged him through every tourney he has entered. Twice he was halted by Lehigh's bogeyman Harold Masem in the Easterns. This year with Masem departed via the sheepskin route from the halls of the Engineers, Scalzo was upset in his first round match by Don (You Made Us) Blue of Navy. The squat Nittany wrestler had licked the Middie once before in a dual meet this season.

At 165 pounds, Chuck Rohrer will be entering his first National tourney, with no startling past history to talk about.

Just how these three Lion seniors will fare is about as certain as tomorrow's weather, but they can't do worse than they did in the Easterns.

Not So Good, Orange

This corner feels that Syracuse, by refusing to enter its Eastern championship boxing team in the Nationals here, has kicked themselves in the teeth. We think it's the Orangemen's duty to represent the East, after taking the sectional title. As the saying goes, it's always better to die fighting, than . . .

Gridmen May Get First Outside Practice Today

After spending the first three weeks of Spring football practice in the class room because of nasty March weather, 60 gridmen will attempt to work out on the still snow-covered practice field today, Coach Bob Higgins has announced.

"The boys will at least be able to stretch their legs a little, and at the same time help to melt the snow. We are two weeks late now," Higgins said.

Dean Schott To Speak

Dr. Carl P. Schott, dean of the School of Physical Education, will be the main speaker at the Pittsburgh Downtown Y.M.C.A.'s annual Sports Dinner tonight.

Wrestling

Captain Gleason, undefeated in 15 dual bouts for the last two years, will stage a comeback fight in hopes of upsetting Al Whitehurst, 136-pound national champ from Oklahoma A & M. Princeton's Warren Taylor, winner of the EIWA crown, and Wilson of Indiana, are the other grapplers who threaten Whitehurst's hold on the title.

At 145 pounds, Joe Scalzo, who rocketed to second place in the 1939 nationals as a sophomore, will meet an open field of tough mat opponents. Oklahoma A & M presents undefeated Bobby Arndt, followed closely by F & M's Al Schachemann, EIWA champion Joe Quinn of Lehigh, and Minnesota's Janesko.

Penn State's only champ, Little Charlie Ridenour, will seek to overthrow last year's 121-pound winner, Bob Antonucci of Indiana. Boasting decisive victories over all eastern competitors, Ridenour must overpower such western grapplers as Fredericks of Purdue and Captain Calvin Melhorn of Oklahoma A & M.

The heavyweight diadem will be guarded by Navy's Johnny Harrell, former Oklahoma A & M national champ. Kerns was pinned by Harrell in a dual meet this year, but the Lion grappler is conceded an even break against Charley Zalotka of Temple, Illinois' Sikish, and Yale's Captain Larry Pickett, EIWA champ.

Chuck Rohrer, Nittany 165-pound representative, who defeated Navy's George Weems, EIWA titleholder, in a dual meet, will meet Crawford Grenard of Colorado State, Dick Brenneman of Lehigh, and Roberts of Wisconsin.
