

Cabinet's Power On Chapel Fund Is Questioned

The Penn State in China committee decided yesterday to ask President Ralph D. Hetzel for a ruling on All-College Cabinet's authority to divert two chapel collections each month to some local charity instead of Penn State in China.

The committee will question the decision which Cabinet made two weeks ago on the grounds that chapel is not a student activity and that Cabinet therefore has no power to regulate chapel funds.

According to Ralph L. Watts, dean emeritus of the School of Agriculture and chairman of the Penn State in China committee, the committee will also ask that persons attending chapel be allowed to vote on whether collections should continue to be sent to Lingnan University for the support of G. Weidman (Daddy) Groff.

When told of the committee's action, Arnold C. Laich '41, All-College President, said "Cabinet will stand by its decision until definite proof is given that chapel is not entirely a student activity."

He added that he has received several letters protesting Cabinet's action and that he will read them at tonight's meeting.

Trustees Okay Two Fellowships

Two fellowships, one for $750 and one for $650, were approved at the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees, Friday.

A condition of both fellowships is that the recipients will not be required to pay laboratory fees. The $750 fellowship has been donated by the Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation and will go to a graduate chemistry student during his last year of study.

The $650 fellowship has been given by Abbott Laboratories and will be awarded to a graduate student in organic chemistry.

The Executive Committee also appointed Librarian Willard P. Lewis, archivist of the College. He will collect college records and, in general, take over the duties of Erwin W. Runkle, College historian, who died recently.

Two sabbatical leaves of absence were granted as follows: Arthur C. Cloetingh, professor of dramatics, first semester, 1941-42; Frederick W. Owens, professor of mathematics, second semester, 1941-42.

William R. White, associate professor of agricultural education, was promoted to professor in charge of correspondence courses in agriculture. He succeeds Thomas I. Mairs, who has retired after 40 years of service.

Miss Mabel Burseth was transferred from the extension service at Lackawanna to the campus as an instructor in clothing extension.

Lion Coats Go On Sale

Lion Coats, priced at $1, will go on sale at the downtown stores starting today, Walter H. Hosterman '41, chairman of the committee, announced yesterday. There will be coats both for men and women.

Rec Hall Plan Rejected In Poll Of Artists' Course Ticket-Selling Methods

Cabinet Will Consider Amendments Tonight

All-College Cabinet will probably act on the five proposed amendments to the student government constitution at its meeting in Room 305 Old Main at 9 o'clock tonight, President Arnold C. Laich disclosed yesterday.

Laich said that he plans to appoint a committee to investigate Tribunal's power to penalize upperclassmen. An application by the Penn State Club for Cabinet membership will also be considered, he said.

According to Laich, other business will include re-consideration of a proposal that Cabinet provide a staff for the final exam file and assign it to some organization, and discussion of details of the diversion of chapel collections from Penn State in China.

23 Sophomores Named To Daily Collegian Board

Twenty-three sophomore men and women were elected to the business and editorial staffs of The Daily Collegian yesterday.

The men elected to the editorial staff are Gordon L. Coy, Donald W. Davis, Jr., Dominick L. Golab, John D. Olkein, David Samuels, Robert E. Schooley, Samuel L. Stroh, Richard S. Stebbins, Nicholas W. Vozzy and Herbert J. Zukauskas. Women's editorial staff members are Louise M. Fouss, Edith L. Funk, Katherine M. Popp, and Edith L. Smith.

Men appointed to the junior board of the business staff are Leonard E. Bach, Roy E. Barclay, John E. McCool, Robert E. Edgerly, and Phillip Jaffe. Women's business staff members are Francis A. Leiby, Sara L. Miller, Katherine E. Schott, and Marjory L. Sykes.

Pan-Americanism Forum

"Is Pan-Americanism Feasible?" will be the topic of an open Student Forum Discussion, sponsored by Pi Gamma Mu, honorary social science fraternity, in Room 110 Electrical Engineering Building at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Mit Champ 'To Fight For Uncle Sam'

Paul Scally, Penn State's fourth National Boxing champion, eased back in his chair, propped one foot against the edge of the desk, and said quite unexpectedly, "I'll probably be tossing leather for Uncle Sam this summer."

Having already been notified by his local draft board that he will probably be called for service early in July, Scally looks forward to participating in the army boxing program that has been proposed by leading college boxing coaches.

But to get back to a more personal glance of the boxer who sparked an untouted Penn State team to a third-place tie in the national standings — when he climbed into the ring Thursday night, sporting a pair of supposedly unlucky, size 13 socks, Scally

Davey Proposal Gains Most Votes With Early Sale Of Seats Offered

That present subscribers do not want the Artists' Course series staged in Recreation Hall and do not want the adoption of a ticket-selling plan based entirely on chance are the only definite conclusions reached from the recent survey taken during the intermission of the Cleveland Orchestra program.

The popular referendum on ticket-selling plans for next year's series has failed to provide any other clearcut expressions of public opinion, Dr. Carl E. Marquardt, committee chairman, announced yesterday.

Largest number of votes was cast in favor of the Davey plan which permits an advance sale of seats in the spring before the next program has been determined.

The F. Raymond Smith plan, the Tobias order-taking proposal, and the modification of the present plan that calls for acceptance of seats as at metropolitan theatres, were apparently even in popularity.

Plan	1st Place Votes
Davey	246
F. Raymond Smith	144
Modification of present plan	129
Tobias plan	124
Present plan	100
Recreation Hall	78
Preferential drawing plan	40

Weighting the votes by allocating seven points to first position, six points to second, etc., the Davey plan received 17 per cent of the total number of votes accumulated by all seven plans. The Smith plan, modification of present plan, and Tobias plan each polled 15 per cent of the total vote.

Recreation Hall polled 10 per cent and the preferential drawing plan received 11 per cent of the total number of points amassed.

Dr. Marquardt called attention to the fact that only 867 patrons of the course expressed their preference. Of this number 861 votes were cast for first choice and the number of ballots dwindled until only 618 votes were cast for seventh place.

and eastern champ for three years. In the initial dual meet between the two 175-pounders, Woyciesjes TKOed the Lion boxer in the second round. In the intercollegiate last year, Scally rallied but still lost a decision to the Syracuse mitman.

This year, it was different story. Scally left-jabbed his way to a decision over the hard-hitting Orange mauler in a dual meet. However, Scally moved up to the heavyweight class in the intercollegiate and was outpointed by "Toots" Mirabito, also of Syracuse.

"I had my heart set on beating Woyciesjes in the nationals," Scally said, "and I was decidedly disappointed when Syracuse did not enter any men in the tournament."

Intercollegiate boxing marked the beginning of the now famous feud between Scally and Americo Woyciesjes, Syracuse co-captain

22 Seniors Unanimous On Class Honor Men

Twenty-two senior classmen, meeting in Home Economics Auditorium last night, unanimously selected four honor men to receive recognition at the Class Day exercises during Commencement Week.

Those selected are: Spoon Man—William B. Bartholomew, class president; Barrell Man—Leon Gajeccki, football All-American; Cane Man—W. Lewis Corbin, Student Tribunal chairman; and Pipe Orator—Arnold C. Laich, All-College president. Adam A. Smysler, Collegian editor, previously appointed Class Donor, presided over the election.

After the selection of the honor men, Smysler was also chosen permanent secretary-treasurer of the class to serve after its graduation.

Bradley To Play 2 Thespians Hits

Bandleader Will Bradley swung into the spirit of Interfraternity Ball weekend when he promised to play two new hit songs of the Thespians production, "The Joint's Jumpin'" which will be staged in Schwab Auditorium Friday and Saturday nights.

"A Fellow Fell In Love" by Mike Brotman and Jimmy Leyden and "You Ain't Seen Nothin' Yet" by Jimmy McAdam were the two ditties which were selected by Bradley.

George L. Parrish '41, IF Ball chairman, has warned all fraternity presidents that the deadline for booth rentals is 5 p.m. tomorrow and that all invitations must be procured at Student Union between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m., Thursday and Friday.

Social chairmen are urged to buy their invitations in blocks, with non-fraternity men securing theirs from any fraternity man, Parrish added.

McCorkel Will Speak At PSCA, Lenten Service

Roy McCorkel, traveling representative of the Student Christian Movement, will speak on "Faith for Our Day" at a joint meeting of the PSCA Seminar-Forum and Council groups in Hugh Beaver Room at 7 p. m. tonight.

He will also lead the last early morning Lenten Service with a talk on "The Meaning of Easter" in the same room at 7 a. m. tomorrow.

McDowell, Light Fail To Testify In College Probe

Special to The Daily Collegian

HARRISBURG, March 31.—The expected examination of John H. Light, state secretary of agriculture, and Milton S. McDowell, director of the Pennsylvania State College extension service, failed to take place today when the House committee investigating soil conservation called more farmers as witnesses.

Rep. Clayton S. Moul (Dem., York), committee chairman, said that Light would testify next Monday and McDowell would be called the following week. It is expected that McDowell's testimony will end the investigation which is holding up all appropriations to the College.

Farmers from Bucks County and Huntingdon County took the witness stand today. Most of their testimony supported previous statements that county farm agents favor soil conservation districts but that higher ups seem to be blocking the movement.

P. A. Waring, a Bucks County farmer, said the county agent, the College extension service and the state department of agriculture "seemed to buck the plan" by pointing out "teeth" in the state law. Waring contended these "teeth" do not exist.

He added, "Instead of having the cooperation of all departments of the government set up to help us, we farmers are caught in a conflict between different branches and we suffer."

Frank Mattern, manager of a 1,100-acre farm in Huntingdon County, testified that farmers tried to form a district in the southern part of the county. He said that Light held a meeting but that half a dozen farmers from the upper half of the county spoke against the program.

Mattern said these farmers were apparently out of their district and had no right to testify.

Hellmers Given Trophy As Pershing Rifle Queen

Gertrude L. Hellmers '41, entered the royal family of queens last night when Capt. Aubrey G. Nonemaker, Pershing Rifle commander, presented her with a cup making her honorary commander and sponsor of the local Pershing Rifle Company, at their open house meeting.

Dressed in a "snappy" military outfit of white whip-cord and an overseas cap, Miss Hellmers inspected the company along with other officers. After the company went through their drill, a group of six cadets exhibited some trick drill.

Col. Edward D. Ardery, head of ROTC, gave a talk complementing the company on its work. Miss Hellmers will participate with the company in the graduation parade.

That Day's Here Again! Can You Guess The Date?

Do you know what day this is? Why, it's April Fools' Day—of all things.

"Poor Richard's Almanac" had this to say about the First of April:

"The First of April some do say Is set apart for All Fools' Day. But why the people call it so, Nor I, nor they themselves, do know."