

Theta Sigma Phi Initiates 6 Seniors And 6 Juniors

Twelve women, six seniors and six juniors, were initiated by Theta Sigma Phi, womens journalism honor, in 412 Old Main at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Those initiated were Phyllis A. Buechele, Dolly E. Conner, Florence E. Held, Leslie A. Lewis, Ellen N. Ritts, Beth M. Swope, seniors; Helene S. Davies, Jane H. Firestein, Claire H. Hildinger, Marie Lawrence, Fredlyn H. Pottash, and Jeanne C. Stiles, juniors.

Is It All Right To Say The 'State Penn,' Col. Shields?

The Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees is evidently very much perturbed about names which the College has been called. At the meeting of the committee, Friday, the following statement was issued:

"The Pennsylvania State College" is the correct name of this institution.

"Penn State" is an honored nickname of long standing. It is used familiarly but should not be used when the College is referred to officially.

"Penn State" has no standing either as an official title or as a nickname. It gives the impression of being a formal title and should never be used.

"State College" should not be used in referring to the College. "State College" is the name of the borough in which the College is located and its use in reference to the College causes confusion."

7 Houses Reject Rushing Code

Panhellenic's second attempt to install between-semester rushing for next year was defeated this week when seven sororities vetoed the new Rushing Code.

Chief objections from most houses applied to those parts of the code which covered the formal rushing: sending of invitations at such an early date, sacrifice of vacation period, and difficulty of getting the freshmen to remain here.

After official voting and discussion in Panhellenic Council meeting at 8 o'clock tonight, the Rushing Committee will probably be instructed to rewrite the code, President Harriet Singer '41 explained last night.

New and old delegates from each house will attend all Panhellenic meetings until the code is revised and passed. New officers will then be elected and the new representatives begin work.

Houses disapproving the proposal were Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Epsilon Pi, Chi Omega, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Phi Mu, and Theta Phi Alpha. Alpha Chi Omega, Kappa Kapa Gamma, and Zeta Tau Alpha passed the code as submitted. Delta Gamma did not vote on the measure.

Women In Sports

In the intramural badminton finals yesterday, Chi O's defeated Kappa's 2 to 1, with Marge Chambers and Jean Wissinger playing for the winners and Lila Whollery and Ruth Moore representing the Kappa's.

Results for the women's telegraphic rifle meet show that the local squad defeated 10 of the 20 competing colleges and tied two.

Third Camp Counsellor's Conference has been set for the WRA Cabin on May 16-17, Hep Gordon '42, chairman, announced last night. Preliminary plans include firebuilding, outdoor steak dinner, campfire program, nature walk, stargazing, and story telling.

First counsellor's confab was held in the spring of 1939, with panel discussions, movies and guest speakers composing the program. Last fall the counsellors had a two-day practicum in arts and crafts, indoor games, and swimming.

Senate Grants 3 A.M., 1 A.M. Permissions For IF

WSGA Senate has granted 3 o'clock permissions for Friday night and 1 o'clock Saturday night to all women students.

Regular hours will continue Sunday night when second semester seniors will have 11 p.m. permissions, upperclassmen, 10 p.m., and freshmen, 9 p.m.

Chi Omega will entertain alumnae at a Founders' Day Breakfast at the house at 9:30 Sunday morning.

We, The Women

Senior Coed Meeting Depends On 3 'Ifs'

Due to a petition signed by over 30 senior women, seniors will consider the six honor women, named last Wednesday, in the Southeast lounge of Atherton Hall at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

Just how many ask, can another meeting right any wrongs which may have been done? It can, with three "ifs"

1. If a fool proof system of naming the six women to the honor posts can be found.

2. If the importance of the posts will be explained.

3. If more women turn out.

Seniors may decide not to hold another vote. If so, the list of honor women will stand as it is. If not:

Nominations will be opened and a new system of voting will be chosen and will be incorporated into by-laws to be passed on to succeeding senior women's classes.

We suggest that such a system be:

That nominations be limited to about 20 names and that members of the class list six of the 20 suggestions in the order of the services they have rendered the College. Although ballots listed one to six would take longer to count, the result would be fair.

We ask that the presiding officer explain the qualifications the honor women should have and the importance the selection has on the College.

The third "if" is the greatest fault in student government—the fact that such a small percentage of students turn out for student elections. And the defeatist attitude which runs rampant on the campus—the idea that a few people get the same honors every year and "what good would my vote do?"

To correct this defeatist outlook is the largest task facing student governments on any campus. Its portent can be seen by the results of the first senior women's meeting.

How can student governments get a high percentage of the student body to participate in meetings and elections?

We can't supply the answer. But if someone can, we'll gamble our last nickle that dissention won't occur after important decisions are made, and student governments will run smoother.

Second Senior Meeting Called For 6:30 Tonight

A meeting for all second semester senior women to reconsider voting for the six Class Day honor women has been set for the southeast lounge of Atherton at 6:30 p.m. today.

Honor women to be considered if the women decide to re-elect include Bow Girl, Slipper Girl, Fan Girl, Class Donor, Mirror Girl, and Class Poet.
