Fraternity Issue

The Daily

Collegian

WEATHER-Cloudy. Probable Showers.

OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE

VOL. 37-No. 118

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 4, 1941, STATE COLLEGE, PA.

PRICE THREE CENTS

I.F. Ball Opens Weekend Festivities

State Employes Called In Probe

Special to the Collegian

HARRISBURG, April 3-Five employees of the department of agriculture will be called to testify before the House subcommittee investigating the state soil conservation board and the Pennsylvania State College extension, Rep. Clayton S. Moul (Dem., York), chairman, disclosed today.

The men are those who conducted soil conservation referenda in 'several counties. In previous testimony, farmers described them as "dog catchers and chauffeurs who took ballot boxes away before the votes were counted."

John H. Light, state secretary of agriculture, will be the principal witness at Monday's hearing of the sub-committee. Milton S. McDowell, director of the Pennsylvania State College extension, will be called the following week.

The agriculture department employees to be called are Allen Spotts, Lebanon; D. C. Woodcock, Altoona; J. C. Graul, Portage; C. Nevin Sherlock, Mifflintown; and John Altland, Harrisburg.

All appropriations to the College are being withheld until completion of the sub-committee's investigation of charges that the department of agriculture and the College extension are not co-operating with the federal soil conservation pro-

Jimmy Leyden To Play For Annual Ag Frolic In Rec Hall April 19

Jimmy Leyden and his Penn State Collegians have been signed to play for Ag Frolic in Rec Hall Saturday, April 19. it was announced yesterday following a meeting of Ag Student Council.

Harry W. Korb Jr. '42 was named chairman of the dance and will head a general comiv students who will be in charge of arrangements. Admission will be $1 per couple.

Students in charge of general arrangements are David J. Woods '43, decoration and booth; William F. Collins '42, checking; James P. Bressler '43, advertising; John M. Phillips '42, tickets; Robert S. Christ '42, judges and cups; Warren H. Hazen '42, cleanup.

Following the custom of past years, judges will award a cup to the student group which con-"concession ducts the best booth."

Fifth Lecture In PSCA Series Slated Today

"Education for the World of Tomorrow," fifth lecture in the for "After War-What" series on World Reconstruction sponsored their school for aid. by the PSCA, will be given in the Home Economics Auditorium at 8:15 o'clock tonight.

Speakers opening the discussion are Dr. C. D. Champlin and Dr. C. C. Peters, both of the department of education and psychology, and Aaron Druckman, plication signed by the dean of assistant professor of philosophy. the school concerned, he said.

Bradley Starts Cruise On S.S. Penn State At 10

I. F. Chairman

George L. Parrish '41 heads the Interfraternity Ball committee which directs tonight's dance.

Final ROTC Band Concert Sunday

The last of this year's series of annual complimentary concerts will be presented by the Engineers ROTC Band in Schwab Auditorium at 3:30 p. m. Sunday, Prof. Frank Gullo, director of the band, announced yesterday.

The program will include "March of Youth" (Olivadoti); "There's Something About a Soldier" (Gay); "Wedding of the Winds" (Hall); "Triplets of the Finest" (Henneberg), played by Charles Ammerman '44, George R. Kuip '43, and Jay W. Myers '44.

"Rhythmoods" (Yoder); "Repasz Band" (Lincoln), played by Joseph F. Menham, Jr. '41; "Teddy Bear's Picnic" (Bratton), played by Adrian L. Paci '41; "Gippsland March" (Lithgow), played by Wesley R. Burns, Jr. '43

"Whistler and His Dog" (Pryor) world Events nik), played by Philip R. Prutzman '41; "Sleepers Wake" (J. S. Bach); "In the Mystic Land of Egypt" (Ketelby); and "Childrens March" (Goldman).

College To Aid Students In Draft Deferment

In accordance with a suggestion made by the American Council on Education last week, the College will request occupational deferment from the draft for students, Adrian O. Morse, chairman of the central draft advisory committee revealed last night.

However, he added that only students who believe their work comes within the requirements occupational deferment should ask the committee

The College can not request blanket deferments, he pointed out, for any school or group of students. Furthermore, students who desire to be reclassified must have the College file individual reports with each ap-

Invitations Available At Rec Hall Tonight

Approximately 1,000 couples are expected to mount the gangplank of the S. S. Penn State to dance to the "Boogie-Woogie" rhythm of Will Bradley and his buccaneers at the Interfraternity Ball in Rec Hall from 10 to 2 o'clock tonight.

With a total of 446 shipmates already signed last night for the S. S. Penn State musical voyage, George L. Parrish '41, captain of the crew, reminded non-fraternity students that they can receive their invitations from fraternity meli, who must procure invitations at Student Union before 5 p.m. today or at Rec Hall

The scene of IF Ball will be aboard ship, which is bounded by guardrails and bedecked with life preservers. A blue canopy of stars, with red and white streamers hanging from the rigging, will be overhead. Two gangplanks will admit passengers on board.

Midshipman Will Bradley will present his squad of merrymakers, including drummer Ray Mc-Kinley, vocalists Lynn Gardner and Terry Allen, with Freddie Slack, tempo-man of the boogiewoogie artists, at the piano.

The trombone-playing maestro, rated as the greatest all-around trombonist, worked with Kostelanetz, Shilkret, Raymond Paige, Freddie Rich, and Ray Noble, before he struck out on his own and rose in one year to become the "band of 1941."

Two 1.000-watt search lights, mounted at either end of the deck, will poke inquisitive fingers of light at the dancers as they swing to the tunes of the Bradley

Miss Miriam Mensch, contest ence and will be the guest of the IF committee this weekend.

To Play Tonight

Will Bradley above, will bring his famous band here for tonight's IF Ball in his initial Penn State appearance.

Man Weather To Haunt IF Ball

Rain, snow, hail, sleet-expect anything for Interfraternity Ball weekend.

Old Mother Nature and Pappy Weatherman are holding a council of war on Mt. Nittany at 12 o'clock midnight to determine the form of wrath they will hurl down upon helpless BMOC's and their dates.

For a preview of their postonight around ten o'clock. If ummummummummummmmmmm. there is a circle around it, we're doomed for their vengence. If there isn't any circle, it'll rain pitchforks anyway—it always does.

Senior Ball weekend Mother Nature spilled her frozen tears, while Pappy Weatherman closed down his Nittany Valley heating system.

Then it was Mamma who paid Soph Hop a visit and sprinkled snow flakes, making things miserable.

But the greatest triumph of winner of the "Why I Want to sloppy weather was reserved Come to Penn State for IF Week- for Pappy who drenched and end," will be introduced at inter- doused the campus for Fall mission by Parrish. Miss Mensch Houseparty. Coeds even recomposed the best 25-word sent- sorted to their boots for dates.

Ugly weather is a tradition at Penn State.

3 Groups To Sing In Finals Tonight

Alpha Gamma Rho, Alpha Kappa Pi, and Beta Theta Pi are the three singing groups that were chosen Sunday from seven entries to sing in the interfraternity contest finals to be held tonight during intermission of IF Ball.

A trophy will be awarded the best group by IFC, it was announced by William S. Kirkpatrick '41, in charge of the contest. One of the four teams including Alpha Gamma Rho, Beta Theta Pi, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Tau Kappa Epsilon that sang Fred Waring's "Hills of Old Penn State," on Sunday was chosen as winner but has not been announced. The team that did win will sing this song Waring is trying to popularize through his contest, and will also receive a cup from Fred

Last year's IF sing winner was Beta Theta Pi which also has a team singing in each contest this year. The IF teams must have at least 16 members and may have piano accompaniment. They also will have access to the public address system.

TAMPA, Florida-An eastern airline plane bound for New York from Miami was forced down yesterday in the swamps near Tampa. Some life was noticed by searching air crafts and the 13 passengers and three crew members were reported safe late last WASHINGTON-Official government circles anticipated a statement today from President Roosevelt concerning the defense strikes. This action was a result of feverish activity and demands by congressional officials.

Action is also expected from Rome in retaliation for the United States request that the Italian Naval Attache in Washington be LONDON-Repeated waves of Nazi bombers swept over England again last night. The western counties including the port of Bristol were subject to this moonlight attack.

British authorities admitted earlier yesterday that a German infantry and tank force has forced the abandonment of the port of Benghasi, keystone of the recent British successes in Libya. The statement added that no materials of military value were left at the port to fall into Axis hands. British forces have moved to the southeast to strengthen the surroundings of Addis Ababa, Ethopian capital.

BERLIN-Matsuoka, Japanese foreign minister, arrived today in Germany by way of the Brenner Pass, famous meeting place of Axis leaders, Benito Mussolini and Adolf Hitler.

Trip Fee Due Today

Political science students and Collegian conducted to ascertain PSCA members planning to go on the Washington inquiry trip must register and pay the $4.50 fee at the PSCA office before 5 o'clock tonight.

73 Per Cent Of Students Want Mural Continued, Survey Shows

By WILLIAM J. McKNIGHT

Although the seniors voted to establish the loan fund as their class gift, a poll conducted by the Daily Collegian has shown that a large majority of the student body would like to see the mural continued.

Of 73 per cent who favor the continuance of the mural, 60 per cent are in accord with the plan of the College to retain Henry Varnum Poor as artistin-residence.

When asked, "Upon graduation do you intend to voluntarily enlist in the army or wait until drafted?" it was discovered that practically all Penn State graduates are going to wait for Uncle Sam's call before they go into selective serveligible for the draft will take members.

their year immediately after leaving school. According to a similar study conducted by Student Opinions Surveys of America, almost the same proportions on the "draft" question in other colleges throughout the nation are evident.

The proposed 5,000 watt radio station received the support of three-fourths of the student body, and a similar percentage expressed approval of the "wired transmission" plan to serve the College community.

The results of the survey are based on a four per cent sampling of the student body, with proper distribution of classes and sex. This is the fourth in a series of surveys by the Daily student opinion on campus questions and other problems of in-Only 18 per cent of those terest to students and faculty