We, The Women For More Panhel, IFC Cooperation

Lately, for the first time, campus fraternity men and sorority women have been made conscious of IFC—Panhellenic cooperation. Immediate cause seems to be the bridge tournament.

Talk for more joint fraternity-sorority functions recalls many affairs held during every year which don't go into print.

Fraternities already on the campus greatly aided sororities to establish here by offering their houses for founding, pledge, and initiation ceremonies.

Since September, fraternities have extended 27 invitations for sororities to dine with them and in many cases sororities have reciprocated.

There is great room for more cooperation among men's and women's Greek groups. One fraternity and sorority annually hold a reception for the faculty, and these affairs are notable successes. If more houses could unite to sponsor like affairs, how much farther could student-faculty relations go? The likely groups to initiate student-faculty receptions and teas are the fraternity-sorority groups since all facilities necessary to entertain are at their disposal.

Possibly the groups can cooperate with Christmas charities, more bridge tournaments, and in other activities.

Cooperation thus far has been lauded by both fraternities and sororities. A good thing shouldn't stop now.

Women In Sports

In the first telegraphic bowling match reported among eastern sports circles, Penn State coeds defeated Williamsport High School, 1444 to 1314, in three-game competition.

With "Play Ball!" welcomed on Holmes Field, four teams opened WRA's spring intramural program. Freshman majors beat freshman college, 23-20, and sophomore majors won from sophomore college, 40-4.

Heavy-hitters for the '44 phys-edders were Mildred Cookerly and Fran Angle, who each scored 4 runs, and college sluggers included Helen Keefauver who brought in 4 runs, and Marjorie Hazelet and Mary Krall who each drove in 3.

Sophomore standouts were Alice Burwell, Martha Duffman, Laila Dunkleberger, and Pauline Rugh, who each scored 4 runs for the majors.

Lacrosse

(Continued from Page Three) encountered the University of Maryland's national lacrosse champions who piled up an early lead and coasted to a 12-3 victory.

Able to score only once in the first, second, and last periods, the invading Lions fell easily before the thundering assault of the Terpin ten who hammered six goals into the Nittany netting in the first session, three more in the second, one in the third, and two in the fourth.

Maryland scored first early in the game, but Nittanyman Jim Ritter knotted the count at 1-all. The Terps then roared to a 9-1 advantage before reserve Charlie Lockwood tallied for the Lions. Center Al Blair scored the Thielmen's third goal in a last-minute play.

Love At First Sight? Better Look Again

DENTON, Tex.—(ACP) — Love at first sight is just about a myth, a panel of six faculty members at North Texas State Teachers college has decided.

The six—four successfully married, the unmarried director of the college nursery school and a home economics instructor—led a discussion of "love, courtship and marriage" at a meeting of the college Psychology Club.
