

Second Sports Day Opens At 10 A.M.

Singles Star, Mary Browne, To Conduct Tennis Clinic

Coeds From 20 Colleges To Play In Seven Events

At its second annual Sports Day, WRA will play host to more than 200 coeds from 20 colleges; Mary Kaye Browne, former national singles champion will conduct a tennis clinic; and tournaments will be held in seven sports.

Miss Browne, instructor at Lake Erie College, who conducted a clinic last year and played an exhibition match, will again give instructions in tennis tactics and stroking on Rec Hall courts, one and two, from 10 a. m. to 12 noon and from 2 to 4 p. m. today.

Tournaments will be played in archery, badminton, bowling, golf, swimming, and rifle from 10 a. m. to 12 noon and from 2 to 4 p. m. No recognition will be given individual or group winners. There will also be folk dancing and a swimming conference in White Hall from 10 a. m. to 12 noon and roller skating in the Armory from 2 to 4 p. m.

A general swim in White Hall pool from 4 to 5 p. m. and a tea in the main lounge of White Hall from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m. will follow the tournaments. Charlotte E. Ray, dean of women, will speak on "The Girls and the Game" at the informal banquet at the Nittany Lion Inn at 5:30 p. m. Eleanore T. Dill '41, will be mistress of ceremonies.

Sports Day participants will attend the circus tonight and have breakfast in Atherton Hall at 8:30 tomorrow.

In case of rain the tennis clinic will be held in the White Hall gymnasium, table tennis in White Hall will be substituted for the tennis tournaments, and recreational games will be played in Room 106 White Hall. All other activities will follow the fair weather program.

We, The Women The Last Measure Of A 4-Year Song

By VERA L. KEMP '41 Women's Editor

Here's my "swan song!"

It's a happy song. Happy because of the good times I had along with the work. Its refrain is the laughs with Ben, Bill, and Bob at the print shop about the "printer's devil" who pulled a proof, then dumped the type in a bucket. And about the perennial sophomore who asks, "What color are type lice?"

It's a song of lessons learned. That it is a good thing to stick your chin out if you can pull it in at the right time. That a journalist can do as much good by not telling the whole truth as he can by a spirited expose. That diplomacy is essential in getting along with every kind of person.

It's a song about the wheels that make things go round. Of learning today what everyone will be talking about tomorrow. Of being in the heart of the campus.

It's a song of memories. Of the first freshman Collegian meeting. Of a sophomore year spent "healing." Of a junior year of anxiety. And a glorified senior year.

It's a song of prophecy, too. That the Collegian is being left in able hands. And that the women's staff will get a seat nearer the head of the Collegian council table. And more space.

It's a song of jangling telephone bells, clacking typewriters, humming Linotypes, and roaring presses while another issue is "put to bed."

It's a song of thank you's. To the junior and sophomore women's staffs for their assistance. To all who in any way helped us to gather and edit women's news.

But there's the whistle. It is the last deadline for some of us. The new crew is already shouting orders as "The Daily Collegian" steams out of the campus harbor and starts another year's voyage. The rest of us are standing on shore wistfully looking over our shoulders at what we might have done, what we didn't do, but what we hope the new crew will do.

"Bon Voyage!"
