

Trackmen Meet Pitt On Beaver Cinders At 2 P.M.

Stickmen Oppose Engineers Today

By DAVE SAMUELS
Still smarting from last Wednesday's lacing by Syracuse a victoryless Lion lacrosse team will seek its first triumph of the season from a mediocre Lehigh ten on New Beaver Field at 4 o'clock today.

The Engineers have three straight defeats recorded this season, in comparison with State's four consecutive beatings. While the Nittanymen were being trampled by Syracuse 17-8 Wednesday afternoon, Lehigh was trounced 11-1 by Swarthmore who nosed out the Lions 8-6 two weeks ago in an extra period contest.

If history really repeats itself, then the Lions are due for a victory today. Last year, the Nittany stickmen trampled Lehigh 12-5 to win their second game in eight starts.

With one exception, Coach Nick Thiel plans to start the same Lion ten against the Engineers that he sent against Syracuse Wednesday. Mort Saler will be at the goal, Johnny McHugh at cover point, Jim Gottwalls at point, and Bill Ziegenfus and Jim Ritter at the two defense posts.

Veteran Al Blair will be at center field, Mark Singley and Bobby Koch at the two attack posts, Captain Bud Dattlebaum at out-home, and Bill Henning will replace Jimmy Riddell at in home.

The Engineers are coached by Jim Meade, former University of Maryland football star whom seniors and juniors will remember as "Jarrin' Jim." Meade was brilliant against State in 1938.

Today's contest is the halfway mark in the Thielmen's schedule. Next Saturday they meet Penn here in their last home appearance of the season. The remaining three away games are with Cornell, May 16; Hobart, May 17; and Army, May 24.

Intramurals

GOLF

Fraternity league intramural golf entered third round play this week. Summaries: Beta Sigma Rho forfeited to Beta Theta Pi; Phi Sigma Delta 4, Theta Kappa Phi 2; Phi Sigma Kappa 4½, Delta Chi 1½; Sigma Alpha Epsilon No. 1 4, Beta Theta Pi No. 2 2; and Phi Kappa Tau 4, Phi Delta Theta 2.

Two matches scheduled today are Phi Kappa Sigma vs. Delta Epsilon, and Kappa Delta Rho vs. Sigma Pi. On Monday Alpha Gamma Rho meets Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Turns Lions On Pitt

Coach Chick Werner, Nittany Lion track mentor, will send his charges against the Pitt Panther in the first home dual meet of the season. Werner is counting on Barney Ewell to lead the trackmen against the Pitt invaders.

Net Squad Faces Syracuse Today

On the Syracuse varsity tennis courts this afternoon the Nittany net squad will be trying to squeeze the Orangemen for their third straight win.

By dropping their first two meets to Army and Lehigh and then stopping Pitt and Gettysburg the Lions have an even 500 average to date. Although Penn State whipped Syracuse, 8-1, last year, Coach Ted Roethke is expecting a tough session this afternoon.

Roethke has not indicated any change in the line-up used for the last two matches. Captain Mac Weinstein will be lead-off man, Don Parker, sophomore, will hold down the No. 2 spot, veteran Del Hughes will play No. 3, Chuck Bowman, No. 4, Bill Lundelius No. 5, and John Knode in the last singles position.

Playing against the Syracuse doubles teams will be Weinstein and Parker, Hughes and Lundelius, and Bowman and Davis. Roethke has been concentrating on a more aggressive style of play and has also been stressing doubles practice this week.

Linksmen Enter

EIGA Competition

Hoping to stretch their string of consecutive victories to five straight matches, the unbeaten Lion golfers will enter EIGA competition today in a triangular meet with Pitt and Cornell on the Alcoma Country Club course at Pittsburgh.

Coach Bob Rutherford, although worried about the morning match with Cornell, is fairly confident that his team will topple Pitt. The Panthers bowed 6-3, in their opener last Saturday, to the same Army team which was edged 5-4 by State. Cornell is always a power in eastern intercollegiate golf.

Making the trip this weekend will be Captain Jack Brand, sophomore Don Hart, Bob Wallace, Chuck Seebold, Don Leyden, Bill LaPorte, and sophomore newcomer Ed Fairchild. The first five men will participate in the matches, Coach Rutherford stated yesterday, and either LaPorte or Fairchild will be the sixth player.

Last year, the Lion linksmen had four straight victories tucked under their belts, including one over Pitt, before they about-faced in their first E.I.G.A. match with Cornell.

Ewell May Enter 440 As 4th Event

By DON DAVIS

For the first time in his heavily burdened track career, Norwood Henry "Barney" Ewell may carry the brunt of four events when the Lion tracksters open their dual meet season against Pitt's track and field squad on the New Beaver cinders this afternoon at 2 p.m.

Favored for firsts in his regular 100 and 220 yard dashes and in the broadjump, Ewell may further harass the Panthers by entering the 440 yard run. Competing against Ewell in the sprints will be two outstanding Panther dash men, Bill Carter and Hap Stickel, who are expected to push Barney to the limit. However, Stickel's leg injury may keep him on the sidelines.

In judging by past records the comparative chances of the Werner-coached Nittany Lions and Coach Carl Olson's Smoky City outfit, it all adds up to a score, probably close enough to be decided by second and third places.

Coach Werner is expecting his charges to come through in the hammer and shot put events, manned by Saul Hanin, Frank Plat, Joe Bakura, and Maxwell Corbin. In the mile-run Norm Gordon has been showing up well for the Lions and should definitely be in the running along with Alex Bourgerie, Pop Thiel and George Harrison. Zeke Sterner is the Panther's best bet in the distance events.

Pitt will probably hold sway in the high and low hurdles, in the javelin throw, and in the middle distances, but as Werner expressed it, "anything can happen in a Pitt-Penn State track meet." The pole vault event presents an interesting contest in that both Scotty Moffat and Pitt's Dusty Rhoades went to high school together at Bradford, Pa. Rhoades is favorite in this event over Moffat and Bakura.

The high jump is a toss-up between Johnny Glenn of State and Pitt's Dave McDowell; Glenn placed second in the indoor IC 4-A's while McDowell was runner-up in the IC4-A outdoor tourney.

When the anchor man on the winning mile relay squad finally breaks the tape this afternoon, he will close the curtain on the 27th dual meet between the Panthers and the Nittany Lions. And according to Werner, this last event is likely to be the decisive one.

Lion Nine Seeks 4th Win Against Terrors At 2:30

By NICK VOZZY

Coach Joe Bedenk's baseballers meet the Green Terrors from Western Maryland on Beaver Field at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in an effort to pull their victory average for the year up to the .500 mark.

The Lions pulled out of their early season losing slump with a 5-2 decision over the Dickinson Red Devils here on Wednesday, and the Nittanymen are hungry for another triumph today.

Veteran righthander Chuck Medlar, whose record this year stands at one victory and two defeats, will be on the mound for the Blue and White. Sophomore catcher Jack Stauffer, who has seen action in the last few games, will again start in the backstop position.

All other starting Lions will be the same as in the Dickinson game. In the infield, it will be Bill Debler at first base, Captain Eddie Sapp at the second sack, Whitey Thomas covering the shortstop territory, and Freddy Ball at third.

Out in the "garden," Peany Gates will roost in left, Warren Kolkebeck in center, and John Ebersole in right field.

Gates has been handicapped by a taped shoulder and leg injuries, but has played a full game against each of the Lions' opponents. In the Dickinson game he made a beautiful shoestring catch of a ball that looked like a sure single into left field. Despite his injury, Gates is batting at about a .250 clip.

Today's game will be the season's eighth for the Bedenkmen. After losing to Penn 8-3, and Princeton 8-4, the Lions massacred Gettysburg 21-1 and shut-out Susquehanna 3-0 behind Medlar's three hit pitching. They slipped down to defeat again in a 7-4 loss to Syracuse and 12-9 beating by George Washington, then downed Dickinson, making their record so far three wins and four losses.

Sophomore southpaw Ed Tuleya and senior sidearm Bob Robinson will be on the sidelines for pitching duty today if the Green Terrors become terrifying. Alex Basista may step in to replace Stauffer behind the plate if a relief hurler is sent in.

Frosh Lacrosse Team Opens Season Against Little Quakers At 2 P.M.

Climaxing six weeks of intensive drill in stick handling technique, a scrappy outfit of Cub lacrosse men will tear into Penn's Little Quakers for their first official game of the season on the practice field today at 2 o'clock.

Except for two boys—Al Sayre and Bill Piper—who have played high school lacrosse, today's contest will be the first taste of frosh collegiate competition for Coach Murph Temkovits' squad of '44 Little Lions.

Probable lineup released yesterday by Freshman Coach Temkovits has Mitzie Bergstein at the in home post, Jack Fant will be at out home, "veteran" Bill Piper at first attack, and Dick Ross at second attack.

"Veteran" Al Sayre will take over the center field post, Larry Fairies will be at second defense, Bill Briner and George Pittinger at points, and Stu Sussman will hold down the goal-tending berth. The first defense position is still open.

Two more games are scheduled for the Little Lion stickmen. On May 17 they travel to Ithaca, N. Y., where they battle the Little Reds of Cornell, and on May 24 they entertain the Kenyon College freshman here.

Frosh Golfers To Battle Little Reds Next Week

With only a week remaining before their intercollegiate match of the season here with Cornell's little Reds, about seven frosh golfers will enter medal playoffs this week to decide berths on the Nittany Cub links team.

Judging from the scores being registered in practice, Coach Bob Rutherford Jr. has a frosh squad of mashie-men worthy of taking on the unbeaten varsity.

Several promising yearlings who have shown considerable promise in recent practice matches are Bob Steinbruch, Stewart Burns, Don Beyer, Dick Stevens, Henry Keller, George Rowbotham, Bill Swan, and Hank Witt.

Frosh Baseballers Play Cornell Yearling Team At Ithaca Today

Penn State's freshman baseball team plays its second game of the year today, with the yearling Cornell team in Ithaca, after scoring a 9-5 win over Kiski Prep in their season opener on Tuesday.

Coach Leo Houck's starting nine will be practically the same as the team that saw action against the Kiskimenes. Bob Sperl will replace John Stover on the mound for the frosh Lions, and Jim Romberger will catch.

Ed Sebastianelli, who smashed out three safeties against Kiski, will be shortstop. Bill Sidler, producer of a double and single in the opening game, will be back at the third base sack.

Other starters are Jack Germain at first base, Ed Lucas at second base, Max Greene in left field, John Burford in center field, and John Shaffer in right field.

Track captain George Howey '35, was undefeated in dual competition in the mile and the half mile.
