

265 Coeds To Participate In May Day

Scholars To Be Honored At Mother's Day Chapel

Hetzel To Present
16 Highest Awards

Outstanding scholastic achievements of the past year will be given recognition before an expected audience of 5,000 at the annual Scholarship-Mother's Day chapel service in Rec Hall at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow.

President Ralph D. Hetzel will present the 16 highest College awards and pay tribute to all the other students who have done meritorious work.

Dr. Albert W. Beaven, president of Colgate-Rochester Divinity School, will speak on "The Home, Religion, and Days Ahead." Music will be provided by the Blue Band and College Choir, who will combine in a special chorale, "Adoramus Te."

Morton E. Jenkins will receive the John W. White Medal and Prize for outstanding scholarship in the senior class. John W. White fellowships for graduate study will be presented to Ray H. Dutt, Nelia M. Hazard, and Oliver A. Schaeffer.

Evan Pugh Scholars who will receive gold (senior) medals are Thomas Czubiak, Louis N. Grafinger, William P. Hindman, Jr., Norman Racusin, and P. Jeanne Richards. Silver (junior) medals will go to William E. Harkins, Edward A. Kachik, John S. Kookogey, Paul Lazar, and Milton E. Prenskey.

The President Sparks Medal, awarded to the student showing the greatest improvement over a preceding semester, will be presented to Helen Elizabeth Sharpe (second semester, 1939-40) and James Deforest Patterson (first semester, 1940-41).

IFC, AFC Banquet Set For Monday

The annual banquet of the Interfraternity Council and the Association of Fraternity Counselors will be at the Nittany Lion Inn at 6 p. m. Monday, H. Edward Wagner '41, retiring president of the IFC announced yesterday.

Guest speaker of the evening will be Dean Hoffman, editor of the Patriot Evening News of Harrisburg. Robert E. Galbraith, associate professor of English Composition and coach of the varsity swimming team, will be toastmaster.

The varsity Quartet, James McAdam '42, Boyd Bell '42, Albert Zimmer '43, Dick Vollmer '42, will provide entertainment for the banquet. James A. Leyden, Jr., '42, will accompany the quartet.

The banquet will be held in recognition of the incoming officers. Thomas J. Henson '42 will replace Wagner as president, Robert F. Wilson '42, replaces Erick S. Moeller '41 in the vice-presidency, and Burnett C. Carlton '42, takes over the secretary-treasurer's position from William S. Kirkpatrick '41.

Deadline For Orders

The deadline for seniors to order caps and gowns in the first floor lounge of Old Main has been set for this noon, Peter G. Fetzko '41 announced.

Defense Courses Near Full Quotas

Twenty-two students, including those not planning to return to College next year and 1941 graduates, have applied for the production engineering course in the summer College defense training program.

With a quota of 32 students for the course, Dean Harry P. Hammond of the Engineering School yesterday urged interested students to apply promptly. Other colleges have not sent in their applicants yet.

Enrollment for the materials, testing, and inspection course by College students and graduates has been rapid, but the quota has not been filled, Hammond revealed. The application deadline is set for June 11.

Relations Group Proposes Action

The Student-Faculty Relations committee proposed to bring about better companionship and scholarship by appealing to group interests and recreations rather than activities by schools, Andrew P. Szekely, student chairman, announced yesterday.

Szekely stated that the committee, composed of one faculty and two student members from each school, would not aim to interfere with student-faculty projects already functioning, but would seek to enlarge these functions.

An attempt will be made by the committee to expand relations to those of Duke and Northwestern where faculty receptions are held.

Approved by All-College Cabinet, the committee has suggested an all-year-round community sing, large scale fireside sessions, coffee-hours and open houses, organization of a permanent hobby room, and more student-faculty recreation days.

Other activities suggested were a student-faculty intramural league, an individual student-faculty exchange day when the groups would exchange places in College.

Stevenson, Flynn Named To Head Ed Council

Richard N. Stevenson '42 was elected president, Frank R. Flynn '43 named vice-president, and L. Jeanne Kaiser '43 appointed secretary-treasurer of the Education School Council at a meeting of the incoming and outgoing councils Thursday night, Peter G. Fetzko '41, ex-president, announced yesterday.

Before retiring, Fetzko appointed Flynn, Jeanne Kaiser, Robert F. Jones '42, James H. Holzman '42, Stevenson, and Albert A. Zimmer '42 on a committee to meet with a faculty group appointed by Dean Marion R. Trabue last week, to discuss student faculty difficulties and to promote general welfare of the Education School.

Will Reign As May Queen Today

Josephine E. Condrin '41, above, will be crowned on front campus before 3,000 mothers. In case of rain exercises will be held in Rec Hall.

Jo Condrin '41 To Be Crowned At 4:30 p.m.

With 265 coeds participating in ceremonies, Josephine E. Condrin '41 will be crowned May Queen before an expected crowd of 3,000 mothers on front campus at 4:30 this afternoon. In case of rain exercises will be held in Recreation Hall.

Weekend activities began this morning at 5:30 when Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, tapped 15 juniors, 3 more than last year. Cwens, sophomore honorary, tapped 20 freshman, compared to 18 last year, at breakfast at 7:15 in McAllister Hall when new Mortar Boards were announced.

Miss Condrin will walk through the honor arch formed by present Mortar Boards and senior honor women Jeanne M. Chew, Jean C. Craighead, Arita L. Hefferan, Grace M. Hendershot, Leslie A. Lewis, and Norma P. Stillwell.

She will be crowned by Jean Babcock '42, WSGA president; presented the WRA world by Betty L. Zeigler '42, WRA president; and the sceptre by Sarah P. Searle '42, PSCA co-president.

Patricia MacKinney '43 and Mildred B. Schmidt '43, heralds, will lead the procession followed by jesters Lila A. Whoolery '32 and Shirley J. Tetley '44.

Dressed in formal gowns approximately 140 senior women will carry the hemlock chain made by students in Horticulture 51 and 52 classes under the supervision of Instructor Conrad B. Link.

Immediately preceding the queen will be class attendants Helen B. Cramer and Eleanor L. Fagans, seniors; Elinor M. Derr and Joyce L. Brayton, juniors; Nancy E. Gosser and Polly Lee Insley, sophomores; Betty H. Christman and Jane C. Taylor, freshmen; and Maid of Honor Angeline Tristani '44.

Town kindergarten children Mina Jo Cropp and Cynthia Niss- (Continued on Page Three)

19th Dairy Exposition Scheduled Today

The 19th annual Dairy Exposition will be held in the Stock Pavilion at 1 p. m. today. The show is sponsored by the College chapter of the American Dairy Science Association and is staged by dairy husbandry students.

The show will consist of contests in judging dairy products and dairy animals, fitting and showing dairy animals, a clean milk production contest, and a milking contest in which co-eds compete.

Prizes will be awarded at a banquet at the Methodist Church following the show.

AA Heads To Be Elected Monday

Officers of the Athletic Association will be elected and two proposed constitutional amendments voted upon by the student body in the first floor lounge of Old Main from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday. AA books will be required for voting.

The following juniors are candidates for the presidency: Robert P. Brooks, Max S. Peters, Albert A. Price, James W. Ritter, and Elmer F. Webb. Elmer A. Gross, C. Homer Hoffman, Thomas L. Reissmann, and Woodrow W. King will run for the secretaryship.

If no candidate receives a majority in Monday's voting, the two highest candidates for each office will be voted upon in a run-off election on Tuesday.

The proposed amendments concern the restoring of the eight-semester eligibility rule and the establishing of the numeral award as an Athletic Association award.

Supervising the elections will be the following committee: William B. Bartholomew '41, Jack W. Brand '41 (chairman), W. Lewis Corbin '41, Leon J. Gajacki '41, Arnold C. Laich '41, Marshall D. Miller '41, Richard C. Peters '41, Charles A. Reid, Jr. '41, Adam A. Smyser '41, H. Edward Wagner '41, and A. Pat Nagelberg '42.

Froth On Sale

The latest issue of Froth magazine is now on sale in front of the Corner Room and at campus and town newsstands.

Pershing Riflemen Meet Cornell Today; Medals To Be Awarded

Cornell University's military drill team will meet Penn State's Pershing Rifle unit on the field between the Armory and the Mineral Industries Building at two o'clock this afternoon, Capt. Frank E. Fries, advisor of the Pershing Rifle unit, announced yesterday.

Captain Fries also announced that first place medals will be presented to Lieut. Col. Bernard F. Siegal '41, commander, Maj. Robert N. Baker '41, Capt. John W. MacIndoe '42, and Edward R. Evans Jr. '43.

Second place award goes to James F. Fisher Jr. '43 and third place to Joseph Edelstein '43.

Late News Bulletins

ROME — Italian officials admit that April was a bad month for them. They estimate losses at 100,000 men with over 60,000 dead.

NEW YORK — Ninety Italian aliens were sent to Ellis Island today to join the 120 German seamen arrested Sunday and who are waiting deportation action.

LONDON — Officials report the destruction of two armed German vessels, a service raider, and the first German commerce vessel sunk in the Indian Ocean by an unidentified battleship.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL American League St. Louis 9, Cleveland 6 (Only Game Played)

WASHINGTON—Senate fights over convoys are to continue. Sen. Burton K. Wheeler of Montana challenged President Roosevelt's right under the constitution to summon American ships to act as convoys.