

Between The Lions

With PAT NAGELBERG

The Hig Reminisces

It was exactly twenty-four years ago that a promising Penn State athlete, destined to win All-American fame on the gridiron several years later, quit college to join the American Expeditionary Force. We sat in Rec Hall yesterday and listened to the same man, now a gray-haired football coach approaching fifty, as he reminisced of his few short months abroad.

The parallel drawn between those flag-waving days of 1917 and the same tension existing among us today brought about the painful discussion of war. Bob Higgins recalled vividly that spring of a generation ago, when he and thousands of other young Americans began their crusade to make the world safe for democracy.

The AEF that year boasted of more famous athletes than all the campuses. No less a personage than the celebrated Grover Cleveland Alexander pitched for the Hig's baseball outfit and there were enough All-Americans on the football team captained by Bob to make even the Notre Dame alumni envious.

1917 And 1941

But all that is history belonging to the last generation. Today we are face to face with the same grim future and years of careful planning are tossed out of the window with the drawing of a numbered slip of paper.

Gone from our football lineup will be names such as Mike Garbinski, Sparky Brown, Leon Frketch, Cap Bailey and a host of other Nittanymen who will trade in their Blue and White uniforms for Uncle Sam's dough-boy outfits.

What will happen to Penn State's athletic future if all able bodied students are called to colors? The answer probably is, who cares? In place of the brawny athletes will be young kids, filling in for their bigger brothers who are playing the more gruesome game of war. Or are we still kidding ourselves that it will be all over tomorrow.

Probably two or three years from now, when the dark clouds will have lifted, veterans of the gridiron and Flanders Field will return to Penn State and give us the same great teams we had in 1920, 1921 and 1922. What a price to pay for a few touchdowns which at the most afford one a few pleasant moments of thrills.

Linksmen Oppose Hoyas, Tigers Today

HISTORY REPEATS itself and grid coach Bob Higgins, who left Penn State as a junior in 1917 to join the army, will find several of his own gridders in a soldier's uniform next fall. Among those who will be drafted are Mike Garbinski, Sparky Brown, Len Frketch and Cap Bailey.

Courtmen Face Diplomats Today

After meeting a trio of the East's leading net squads, Penn, Cornell, and Navy, in their last three encounters, the Lion courtmen will have a slight breather this afternoon when they face Franklin and Marshall's Diplomats on the varsity courts at 4 p. m.

Although F & M is far from a push-over, Coach Ted Roethke expects his squad to again break into the win column after having dropped their last three matches.

Captain Mac Weinstein will be at No. 1 for the Lions followed by sophomore Don Parker, veteran Del Hughes, and Chuck Bowman. Although the last two singles spots are indefinite, the following men complete the Nittany squad: John Knode, Bill Lundelius, Don Davis and Gil Feldman.

The Lion's match with Bucknell, previously rained out, has been rescheduled for next Thursday, May 22, and will be played on the varsity courts, it was announced by manager Carl DeLong.

Lion Trackmen Leave For Syracuse Meet

When Coach Chick Werner's squad of 24 trackmen leaves for Syracuse at noon it will be to face the strongest track team that the Orange thinclads have had for many years.

Undeclared in competition with Syracuse since he started coaching here, Werner is not so sure that this record will be intact when the Nittany Lions leave the Syracuse cinders tomorrow afternoon. In their only dual meet to date the Orange squad trounced Colgate, 86-49.

Lynn Radcliff is expected to be as outstanding in his distance events for the Orange as will be Barney Ewell in the spring events for the Lions. Besides being a great half-miler, Radcliff was third in the IC4-A mile run.

The pole vault competition should be very close with Bob Erbe, a consistent 13-foot jumper, entered for Syracuse against Penn State's record holder, Joe Bakura. Joe topped 13 feet 5 inches last week against Army to set his new Lion record.

Lion Baseballers Face Muhlenberg At Home Today

Coach Joe Bedenk's varsity diamondmen, given a day to recover from their 19-5 defeat by the Pitt Panthers on Wednesday, face the Muhlenberg baseballers on Beaver Field at 4 o'clock this afternoon in an attempt to raise their win record to five games.

With yesterday's practice cut short by rain and a wet diamond, the Lions were unable to put in a full batting session. Nittany pitchers were limited to short warm-up spells. Chuck Medlar, Ed Tuleya, and Bob Robinson did most of the twirling and the chances are that either right-hander Medlar or southpaw Tuleya will be on the mound when the Bedenkmen take the field against the Mules today.

Bob Perugini, a football player who has only been practicing with the baseball team for two weeks, will make his home debut in right field, Perugini starred against the Panthers Wednesday, smashing out three singles in five trips to the platter and playing errorless ball. On one occasion he threw out a Pitt batter at first base on a right field liner that looked like a sure single.

Although the Lions lost to Pitt by a convincing score, their work at the plate in banging out 11 hits showed definite promise of a recovery from the 4 hit set-backs suffered at the hands of Navy and Syracuse on last week's road trip.

Left fielder Peany Gates, batting below the .250 mark early in the season, has collected seven safeties in the last three games. First baseman Bill Debler, leading Lion at the plate, smashed out a single and a double against Pitt to recover from his batting slump in which he failed to hit safely on last week's trip. Captain Eddie Sapp, at second base, has begun to hit recently after his early season weakness at the platter.

Intramurals

TENNIS

Intramural tennis doubles matches in the fraternity league, cancelled because of rain, must be played the day following the originally scheduled time and on the scheduled courts, manager Lloyd Dixon announced last night.

Weather permitting, fraternity tennis matches will enter the quarter-finals today. Five elimination games were played off Wednesday.

Three-Way Tie In Northern League

By DAVE SAMUELS

One of the most unusual play-offs in the history of Penn State golf and the EIGA will take place today over the links of the Woodway Country Club, Stamford, Conn., with three teams in the Northern Division and the same number in the Southern Division, meeting in what amounts to each playing two other teams at the same time.

Penn State, Georgetown and Princeton of the Southern Division will start play at 10:30 a.m. to decide the championship of each division, and the finalists for the title round which will be held tomorrow over the same course.

The ties were the result of the final round of the round-robin series over last week-end. In the Southern Division Penn State after defeating Georgetown's defending champs on the College course 5-4 Friday; lost to Princeton, 5-4, Saturday morning. Princeton lost its only match to Georgetown 6 to 3 in the opening round.

Coach Bob Rutherford's tentative roster has Captain Jack Brand and Don Hart in the first sixsome, and Bob Wallace and Chuck Seebold in the second. Two of the remaining three linksmen—Don Leyden, Chuck Fairchild, or Scotty Maxwell—will play in the third sixsome.

Each division will decide its titalist by playing off the matches in sixsomes. The team winning from each of the other teams in the twosomes and foursomes, will be judged the divisional champion.

Standings in the Souther Division:

College	W	L	TW	FW	P	Op
Georgetown	4	1	21	10	31	14
Penn State	4	1	18	10	28	17
Princeton	4	1	17	8	25	20
Pittsburgh	2	3	16	6	22	23
Pennsylvania	1	4	13	10	23	22
Cornell	0	5	8	3	11	34

Individual scoring of Penn State golfers:

Name	Matches	TW	FW	P
Seebold	5	5	4	7
Wallace	5	3	4	5
Brand	5	3	3	4½
Hart	5	2	3	3½
Leyden	5	2	3	3½
Fairchild	1	1	1	1½
Maxwell	3	1	1	1½
LaPorte	3	0	1	½

Frosh Track Meet

In their second and last meet of the season the frosh trackmen will journey to Mercersburg where they will run, jump and heave against the Academy boys tomorrow afternoon. Gene Nevill, who took 21 points against Cornell Saturday, is again expected to be high scorer for the yearlings.

Stickmen Meet Cornell At Ithaca

Penn State's varsity lacrosse team will leave this morning for Ithaca, N. Y., where they face a powerful Cornell ten this afternoon. Tomorrow, they tackle a top-notch Hobart stick outfit at Geneva.

Coach Nick Thiel's probable starting lineup will have Mort Saler at the goal-tending post, Johnny McHugh and Jim Gottwalls at the points, and Bill Ziegenfus and Jimmy Ritter at the defense positions.

Veteran Al Blair will be at center field again, Mark Singley—after a brief sojourn on the sick list—will hold down the second attack berth, sophomore Bobby Koch will be at first attack, and Jimmy Riddell and Captain Bud Dattlebaum take over the home positions again.

The Lion stickmen will be facing a team of unknown quality when they meet the Big Red Ten. Coach Van Orman's boys have bowed to Syracuse, Princeton, and Hobart—all high-powered lacrosse aggregations—by close scores. Last year, State edged out Cornell, 7-6, on a snow covered field.

Hobart's high scoring stickmen, however, will make plenty of trouble for the Nittanymen. During the past three years of inter-collegiate competition, the Genesemen have lost only two games—to Syracuse and Navy.
