

Counselors Plan Confab Sessions

Program for the third Camp Counselors' Conference, announced last night by Chairman R. Helen Gordon '42, stresses the natural phase of camping.

Plans include:

Saturday

4 p. m.—Meet at White Hall.
5 to 6 p. m.—Sessions on fire-building.
6 to 7 p. m.—Outdoor steak dinner.
7:30 to 8:30 p. m.—Campfire program and songs.
8:30 to 9:30 p. m.—Talk by Miss Ione V. Sykes.

Sunday

8:30 a. m.—Breakfast.
9:30 a. m.—Nature Walk.
11 a. m.—Return to White Hall.

Committees are campfire, Marjorie A. Harwick '41; food, Dorothy H. Grossman '42 and Barbara Torrence '42; fire-building, Lenore B. Fullington '42; stargazing and nature walk, Katherine Loesch '42; and transportation, Mary G. Procter '41.

Counselors attending the conference should meet at the parking lot opposite White Hall at 4 p. m. prepared to stay overnight. There will be a fifty-cent fee.

Home Eccers Score Over Liberal Artists In Mushball Feud

A hot, dusty mushball game partially settled the friendly but ever prevailing feud between Home Eccers and Liberal Artists when the Home Eccers held back the Liberal Artists, 20-17, yesterday.

Highest Home Ec hitter, Esther Hall, scoring four times was closely followed by domestic Hannah Peebles and Elsie Rooth who came home three times.

Marge Chambers, Home Ec home run hitter, added two tallies to the Home Ec score.

Liberal Artists Lolly Dosch and Bea Willey offered stiff competition when each chalked up three runs.

Attributing the Home Ec victory to milk-fed years of outside exercise and circumstances, Liberal Artists are waiting for another chance to show their skill.

Home Eccers merely shrugged their shoulders, smiled sweetly.

Campus 4-H Club will participate in the nationally observed "Rural Life Sunday" service at the Presbyterian Church at 8 p. m. tomorrow.

TPAs defeated ZTAs, 206-97, in yesterday's archery intramurals, while DGs surpassed AOPs, 275-266.

Visiting High School Students To See Aquacade, Play Games

Included in Play Day program scheduled from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. today by Lakonides, women's physical education honorary, are a campus tour, Aquacade, luncheon, competitive games and a dip in White Hall pool.

Special treat for the 150 visiting high school women will be the Aquacade presenting a diving exhibition, illuminated specialty act, novelty nightgown race, fashion show and formations by aquafemmes, Swimming Club members.

After registering in White Hall at 10:30 a. m., students will divide into groups of 30 for campus tours of dormitories, Old Main, the new Library and tennis courts. Following the tour lunch will be served in the Sandwich Shop.

Later visitors will be divided into 10 color teams which will progress in round-robin style through volleyball, dodgeball, relays and circle games. Competition will be eliminated since the teams are not divided according to schools.

A dip in White Hall pool after which refreshments will be served will complete Play Day, planned as a day of fun for neighboring high schools.

We, The Women Wanted! More Camp Counselor Courses

By R. HELEN GORDON, Women's Sports Editor

That coeds on campus are interested in camping is indicated in enthusiasm for counselor's conventions, with today's conference marking the third since last spring.

First confab was devoted to panel discussion on theoretical elements of camping and included films and speeches. In the fall camp leaders turned out for sessions in arts and crafts, swimming and indoor games.

Aside from direct benefits of the conventions themselves, other results of camping interest include inauguration of an employment center at the WRA office for qualified camp counselors and considerable exchange of ideas among interested coeds.

But for the amount of interest shown, the number of courses and opportunities available for progress in camping is practically nil. Only one physical education course, offered during the summer, one nature education course and one cooking course are designed primarily for the camp counselor.

On other college campuses, courses are given in counselor technique, and pertinent aspects of outdoor life in actual camps connected with the institution.

Surely, in view of the present status of organized and scout camps, of the government's interest in camping and the establishment of numerous public and private school-camps, Penn State should offer courses necessary for the progressive-minded counselor.

WOMEN IN SPORTS

Cooperman Wins

Natalie Cooperman, after edging out her only remaining opponent, Jimmie Irwin, 21-17, 22-20, claimed women's table tennis championship Thursday. Natalie had won over 15 competitors in the single elimination tournament.

Latest scores received in the telegraphic bowling tournament show University of Michigan a 2-1 winner over Penn State. Total scores are 1,384 for Michigan and 1,375 for Penn State.

An All-College hike to Mt. Nittany, sponsored by WRA Outing Club, will leave from the Photo Shop at 2 o'clock tomorrow.

Room Selection Schedule

Coeds will draw numbers Monday to determine room order selection with upperclass selections Tuesday and freshman selections Wednesday.

Schedule for drawing numbers follows:

Present juniors, southwest lounge, Atherton, 6:30 p. m. Monday.

Present sophomores, northeast lounge, Atherton, 6:30 p. m. Monday.

Present freshmen, McAllister Hall lobby, 6:30 p. m. Monday.

Room selection: Present juniors, same place and time, Tuesday.

Present sophomores, same place, 7:15 p. m. Tuesday.

Present freshmen, same place and time, Wednesday.

Juniors and sophomores wishing to keep their present rooms may make reservations with hostesses.

Aquacade Offers Nightgown Race

A novelty nightgown race including the entire company of 50 coeds and a surprise grand finale to be announced by Mistress of Ceremonies Odette M. Scrivanich '43, will climax the first Aquacade to be presented by the WRA Swimming Club in White Hall at 1:30 p. m. today.

Main attraction will be a specialty act performed by three coeds swimming in tandem, circle, and triangle formations with varied colored radio lights attached to their bodies—the only lights in the pool. L. Barbara Clark '42, Lenore B. Fullington '42, and Helen L. Woodcock '42 are the specialty swimmers.

Rhythmic swimming, stroking in time to the music, will be done by aquafemmes, 16 Swimming Club members. Geometric formations such as opening of a rose will be performed by 16 volunteer coeds.

Eight aquatic models will display old and new style bathing suits and L. Eleanor Benfer '41 and Marjorie L. McFarland '43 will give a diving exhibition.

A light lane will be added to the program by Clowns Olive L. Kalar '43, Betty L. Fletcher '44, and Margaret L. Trump '44.

Admittance to the Aquacade will be by invitation only.

Ag-Home Ec Students, Faculty Will Picnic

Student and faculty members from the home economics department and School of Agriculture will hold a picnic on Ag Hill at 1:30 o'clock today.

Beginning with a milking contest between the Agricultural Experiment Station Building and Buckout Laboratory, the program includes games of softball and tug-of-war.
