

THE SUMMER COLLEGIAN

OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE

VOL. 19—No. 1

STATE COLLEGE, PA., MONDAY, JUNE 30, 1941

PRICE—TEN CENTS

2,500 To 3,000 Enrollment Is Predicted By Officials; Special Summer Student Draft Registration In Rec Hall

Official Announcements Course Changes And Additions

(Eastern Daylight Saving-Time)

MONDAY, JUNE 30

8 a. m. to noon and 1:30 to 5 p. m. Registration for main summer session. Rec Hall.

7 p. m. to 9 p. m. Tryouts for parts in summer session dramatic productions. Open to all summer session students. Little Theater, Old Main.

TUESDAY, JULY 1

8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Selective Service Registration. Rec Hall. All men who have become 21 years of age since last October 16 must register.

8 a. m. Main summer session classes begin.

7 p. m. *Assembly and student sing. Schwab Auditorium.

8 to 10 p. m. Tryouts for parts in summer session dramatic productions. Open to all summer session students. Little Theater, Old Main.

*Children under 16 years of age will be admitted only if accompanied by their parents.

(Continued on Page Five)

Registrants Must Attend Classes

Following the precedent set last October 16 when 1,554 students registered here for the draft, the College will hold a special registration for summer school students in Rec Hall tomorrow—the nation's second day for registration under the Selective Service Act.

The announcement came jointly from William S. Hoffman, College registrar and special registration chairman, and Adrian O. Morse, assistant to the President and chairman of the central College draft advisory committee.

Although preparations are being made to register 150 students, it was predicted that the actual figure may be "below 50, certainly not many more." Two hundred additional are expected to register at the State College draft board. In all Pennsylvania, approximately 65,000 will sign up.

Mr. Hoffman pointed out that the campus registration is only for regularly enrolled summer session students and said that all others must register at the local board on the second floor of the Masonic Building, South Allen Street. He emphasized that undergraduate students on campus, but not attending the main summer session, cannot register at Rec Hall.

He added that undergraduate students who are taking special defense course or CAA pilot training but no regular summer session courses may register at Rec Hall and not at the local board. It was announced from the summer sessions office that draft registrants will be required to attend all classes during the day.

The registration on campus will be a branch of the registration at the local board. Last fall, the College registration had to be sanctioned by special government authority because local boards had not yet been created.

Registration will be for every man who "has attained the 21st anniversary of the day of his birth and has not heretofore been registered." Both the campus registration place and local board headquarters will be open from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. However, students have

(Continued on Page Three)

National Defense May Cause Slight Decrease

Registration Scheduled 8 A.M. To 5 P.M. Today

A belief that enrollment in the main summer session will fall between 2,500 and 3,000 was expressed Friday by College officials as hundreds of summer school students began pouring into town for registration today and the actual start of classes tomorrow.

The latest figures compiled by Registrar William S. Hoffman show that on June 17 578 students, 22 more than at the same time last year, had been admitted for the main summer session. Although only 97 per cent as many applications had been received as at the same time a year ago, 110 per cent as many were from the upper fifth of their high school class.

However, Dean Marion R. Trabue, director of summer sessions, predicted that enrollment will show a slight decrease from the record number who attended the last summer session. He based his prediction on the fact that many public school teachers are engaged in defense work for the summer.

Other officials thought that part of this decrease might be offset by those who attend to take one or more of the special defense courses being offered by the College. Several staff members said that a few regular session students plan to attend summer school in order that they may be graduated in February if forced to leave because of the draft.

Summer session registration will be held in Rec Hall from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. today with payment of fees in the Armory from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on July 7. Students enrolling in the Institute of French Education must register both in Rec Hall and at Grange Dormitory.

At a special registration Thursday, students who attended inter-session enrolled for main session courses. They will pay their fees at the same time as other summer students.

Inter-session enrollment was the third highest in the history of the

(Continued on Page Three)

MARION R. TRABUE, above, is director of summer sessions who will supervise the courses of instruction which start tomorrow and last until August 8. He is also dean of the School of Education.

Dean Announces Women's Hours

Residences for women and the hours which will prevail in women's dormitories and town houses were announced yesterday by Dean of Women Carlotta E. Ray.

Atherton Hall, Chi Omega and Alpha Omicron Pi will be open for women students in general. Grange Dormitory will be occupied by the French Institute, Delta Gamma by the Progressive Workshop, Kappa Kappa Gamma by the Band and Orchestra faculty, and Theta Phi Alpha by married couples.

Downtown dormitories will be maintained at the Acacia, Phi Kappa Sigma, Sigma Nu and Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity houses.

The usual summer session hours will prevail: Sunday to Thursday inclusive—11:30 p. m.; Friday and Saturday—1 a. m.

College Bills Still Undecided

With the State Legislature entering its final week in Harrisburg, 10 College appropriation bills—totaling more than $7,000,000—are still being debated by either the Senate or the House.

The general maintenance appropriation has been passed by both groups but in different amounts. The House set the figure at $4,600,000 and the Senate raised it to $5,509,545, the amount originally asked by the College. Final action will be taken by a joint House-Senate committee.

A bill for coal research in the School of Mineral Industries has also been passed by both groups, again in different amounts. The House set the figure at $50,000 and the Senate at $100,000.

Other appropriation bills in the Legislature are for aeronautical engineering, $250,000; agricultural research, $321,000; agricultural research buildings, $110,000; flax research, $200,000; tobacco research, $25,000; coal and oil research, $125,000; child nutrition research, $20,000; GSA building rentals, $759,121.

A bill by which the College-owned Joseph Priestley home in Northumberland would be taken over by the state has been passed by the Senate but not by the House.

None of the appropriation bills will become final until acted upon by Governor James. He has 30 days from the end of the session in which to decide and has the power to lower appropriations but not to raise them.

It was announced Thursday by the General State Authority that James B. Finn, Hollidaysburg, has been awarded contracts of $1,540 and $1,300 for the installation of fluorescent lights in the Mineral Industries Building.

New, Shorter Road Open To Bellefonte

The new, improved highway between Bellefonte and State College which was formally opened last Tuesday afternoon cuts four miles off the road distance between the two towns and almost cuts traveling time in half.

The road, Benner Pike, is only 9 miles long instead of 13. It follows a more direct route than the old highway and eliminates nearly all of the curves.

2 Instructors On Leave To Serve In Navy

Two leaves of absence for active service in the United States Navy have been granted faculty members by the Board of Trustees.

Alexander H. Zerban, assistant professor of mechanical engineering, was given leave to June 30, 1942, for service as lieutenant in the U. S. Naval Reserves.

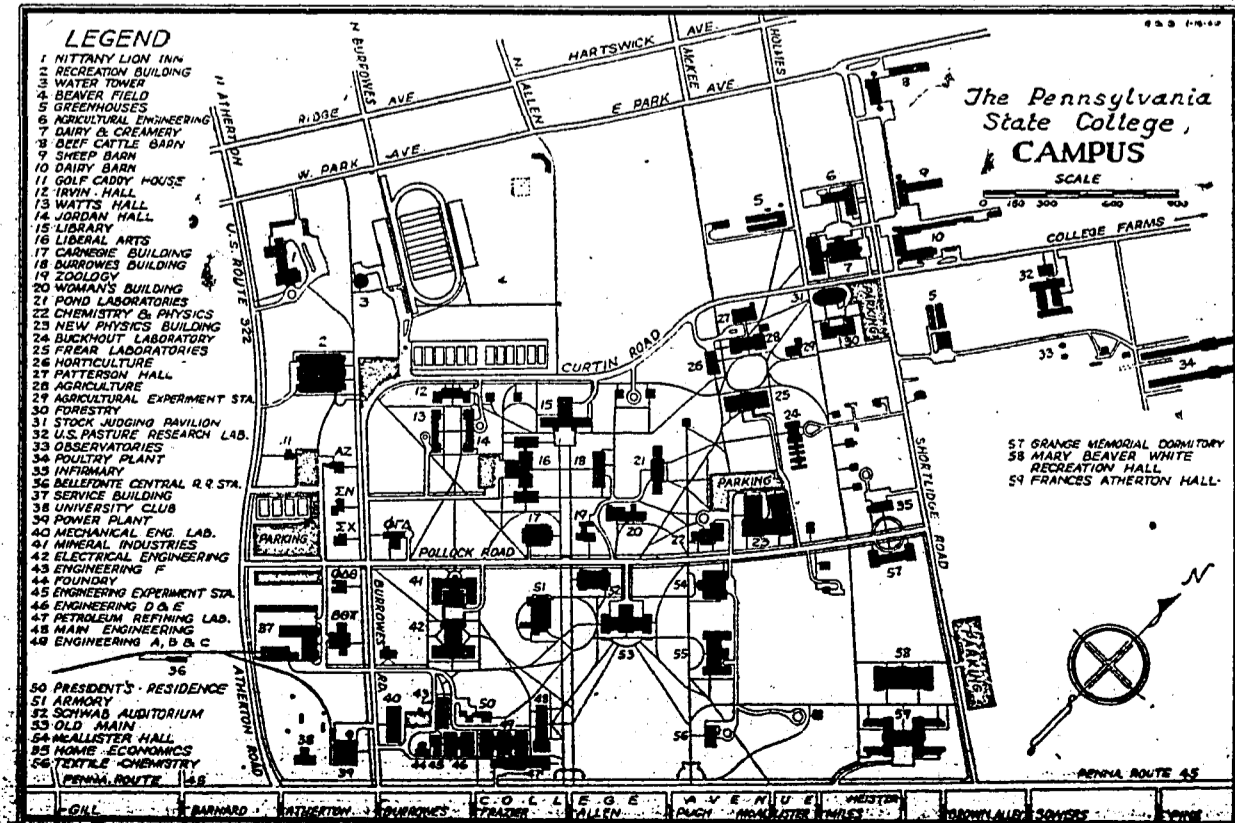

The leave of John S. Leister, associate professor of civil engineering, was extended to July 1, 1942, to continue his service as lieutenant commander in the U. S. Naval Reserves.

A sabbatical leave was granted to Edwin H. Rohrbeck, professor of agricultural extension and agricultural editor, for travel and study from September 1, 1941, to February 28, 1942.

Summer Directory On Sale At Registration

The annual summer student directory will be on sale today at registration and at Student Union during the remainder of the summer session. It will be issued this Saturday.

The directory is priced at 15 cents. It contains the names, addresses and telephone numbers of all students enrolled at the main summer session.

Summer Students, The Map, Left, Is Where You Will Live For The Next Six Weeks. We Hope You Have An Enjoyable Time. This Map Is Up-To-Date And Lists All The Major Buildings On The 235-Acre Campus, Located In The Heart Of The 6,000 Acres Owned By The College.