

Barney Ewell On All-American Lineup

Medical Technology Curriculum Established

A new curriculum in medical technology was established by recent action of the College Board of Trustees.

With the adoption of the new work, students who enroll next fall will find 47 separate courses of study available.

The new curriculum will prepare students to become medical laboratory technicians. During the past year approximately 60 women students have been preparing for this field in the Schools of Chemistry and Physics, and Agriculture.

The course in medical technology will now bring these students together under a standard study program. It will be administered by an advisory committee from the departments of chemistry, agricultural and biological chemistry, and bacteriology.

State Sprinter Lost To College Next Year

Penn State's loss will be the Army's gain next month when the fastest sprinter ever to wear the Blue and White will report to the selective service board for induction.

Only a junior, Barney Ewell will have to postpone his last year of campaigning on the collegiate cinderpath indefinitely but the dusky speed merchant from Lancaster has made an enviable record in his three years here. After cleaning up in the IC4-A meet with a triple sweep, he followed up recently with repeat victories in the N.C.A.A.'s on the Pacific Coast in the century and 220 dashes.

In recognition Ewell was named in three events on the N.C.A.A. All-American track and field team in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, and the broad jump.

Following is the team announced by the committee with the men listed in the order of their choice: 100-YARD DASH: Norwood Ewell, Penn State; Billy Brown, Louisiana State; Carlton Terry, Texas.
