Howard Gale's Band Will Play For Dance

The annual summer session reception and dance, one of the highlights of the summer, will be held in Rec Hall starting at 8:30 tonight.

Students and faculty members will be welcomed by the summer sessions staff at the affair which opens the wide social program sponsored by the College. The reception line will be headed by Dean Marion R. Trabue, director of summer sessions, and Mrs. Trabue.

Music for the dance, which starts at 9 o'clock, will be provided by Howard Gale and his orchestra. There will be no admission fee but matriculation cards will be required.

The dance is the first of a series sponsored by the summer sessions office. For the remainder of the dances an admission price of 35 cents per person will be charged. The next dance will be Friday, July 18.

Three Gibbons Join Psychology Staff

lumbia University. Her name is a part of the scientific name for the species, Hylo bates, which means tree-walker. In Siam, she was tame enough to have free range of the expedition's camp, and often sat at the table begging for her food. Unlike "Franklin," who is quite wild, she is still tame.

In an effort to solve the mystery of the gibbon "language," a simple form of communication adequate for their needs, tests will be made of their voice patterns, range of hearing, and its comparison with human hearing.

Other sensory experiments are expected to reveal their ability to distinguish between colors, their visual acuity, their keenness of smell, and their sense of touch. The tests of ability to handle tools, when such handling is necessary to obtain food, may show the quality and level of intelligence of the gibbon.

The monogamous gibbons have a family life resembling that of our social structure, with the mother responsible for the children during the first two or three years of life. The children remain with the family until they are seven or eight years old and ready to form families of their own.

No. 1 'Caller' Here Next Week

Step a side, jitterbugs, because the good old fashioned country dancing is here to stay and none other than the nation's foremost "caller" is coming here next week to give summer session fun-seekers first hand instruction in the intricate details of early American dances.

The country dance program will be held in Recreation Hall at 7:30 p. m. on Tuesday and Wednesday and will be directed by Benjamin B. Lovett. Mr. Lovett will be accompanied by a pianist and "fiddler" and will conduct the program in the same "fun for all but not all for fun" style as his regular University of Michigan classes.

He comes here from Dearborn, Mich., on a nation-wide tour through the courtesy of Henry Ford and his wife as part of an educational program to revive early American folk dances.

In addition to enjoying two evenings of fun, the program will give teachers an opportunity to learn right techniques and will help them later in introducing old fashioned dances in their own communities.

Because of the previously unscheduled folk dance program the faculty Fun Night has been postponed until next week.

Over 1,000 Persons Expected To Attend

The first in a series of Fun Nights will be held in Recreation Hall at 7 o'clock tomorrow night with square and round dancing the feature attraction. Miss Marie Haidt and Prof. Arthur F. Davis, in charge of recreation, expect this summer's series to parallel last year's when more than a thousand persons participated on opening night.

The square dancing will be directed by Miss Gertrude McDermott, state WPA supervisor of women's and girl's social recreation. This novelty, however, will only be a supplement to the vast diversion of activities that have been arranged for the evening's program.

The directors urge that special emphasis be placed on the clothing worn. Participants are asked to come prepared to play with low heeled shoes, rubber soles, and if possible, slacks. The program is open free to students and faculty members only.

Following the floor events, which include badminton, volleyball, shuffle board, circle games, and bingo, there will be social dancing until midnight. The floor games will be under the expert supervision of physical education majors.

11 Accepted For CAA; More Trainees Needed

unless one of the regular trainees is dropped.

Unlike last summer's course, no women were admitted. It was stated that this was because the purpose of the course is no longer "general instruction" but "more to prepare students for service in the Army or Navy air corps."

A clause in the CAA application binds each trainee to apply for training in the Army or Navy if his services are requested by the government.

The group started flight training Wednesday. Training, which includes 35 to 50 hours of flying, is given at the State College Air Depot under the direction of Sherm Lutz.

Ground school classes started on July 3. Seventy-two hours of classwork are given as follows: navigation—24 hours; meteorology—24 hours; Civil Air Regulations—18 hours; and general service of aircraft—6 hours.

The trainees are Paul M. Goldberg, Charles B. Jones, Irving M. Jontow, James A. Leyden, Jr., Michael Lorenzo, William M. McMurray, Douglas B. Moore, Harold M. Rosen, Arthur D. Seides, Harry R. Stengle, and Robert S. Walker, Jr.
