

College Featured On Radio Hour

Penn State will be featured on a nation-wide radio program this fall and some coed may be lucky enough to win $1,000.

The College has been chosen as one of 10 to participate in a talent-seeking contest to be held by Phil Spitalny's all-girl orchestra which appears on the Hour of Charm program sponsored by General Electric Corporation.

All women students are eligible for the competition. Tryouts will be given by the department of music, under the direction of Hummel Fishburn, associate professor of music education, between now and September 30.

Professor Fishburn and the other judges will select the 10 best singers. On September 30, the 10 will be given an audition by two members of the Hour of Charm orchestra, Evelyn, "of the magic violin," and Vivien.

Evelyn and Vivien will pick the three best singers. Recordings will be made of their voices, and the recordings will be sent to New York where they will be judged by the entire orchestra. One singer will be chosen to represent Penn State.

This coed will sing on the Hour of Charm program, October 12. Penn State's program will be the third one presented. The first two will be Indiana University on September 28, and Boston University on October 5.

After each of the 10 participating colleges has been represented on a program, three finalists will be selected and called for return engagements, again on separate broadcasts.

The winner of the contest will receive a $1,000 prize, and a $4,000 fellowship to be awarded in her name to the college she represents. The fellowship will benefit "deserving musical students" over a four-year period. Prizes of $100 each will be given each of the coeds who makes the trip to New York.

In addition to Penn State, Indiana University, and Boston University, colleges which will take part are Cornell University, University of Illinois, University of Michigan, Ohio State University, Rutgers University, and the University of Wisconsin.

Riding Club Stable Nears Completion

Construction of the Riding Club stable began last week and will be completed in a few days, Dr. Henry L. Yeagley, club sponsor, has announced. Authorized by the Board of Trustees which contributed $1000 toward construction, the stable is located about 100 yards from College avenue near High street.

The structure, 65 by 30 feet, will be made of wood and will have 12 box stalls. Two acres of ground were also given to the club by the College for riding instruction purposes.

In its third year, the club owns four horses and their complete equipment. Membership this year was set at $15 a semester, the cost possibly being lowered for second or third year members. Students interested in joining the Riding Club are directed to send their names to Ray M. Conger in Rec Hall or Miss Marie Haidt in White Hall.

Last year membership in the club was restricted to 40 persons, but more horses will be purchased to accommodate members if interest demands them. Early application must be made to keep private horses at the club's stable.

Credit for the organization of the club construction of its stable was expressed by its members to Dean A. R. Warnock, head of Recreation Coordinated; Prof. Franklin L. Bentley, animal husbandry; Dr. James F. Shigley, professor of veterinary science; Dean Carl P. Schott, School of Physical Education; and Ray M. Conger, instructor in physical education.

Others who promoted the club were Miss Helen J. Swensen, instructor in physical education; Miss Marie Haidt, associate professor of physical education; S. K. Hostetter, president's assistant who arranged finances; George W. Ebert, superintendent of grounds and building, Cecil J. Irvin in charge of College farms, and Dr. Henry L. Yeagley, appointed club sponsor.

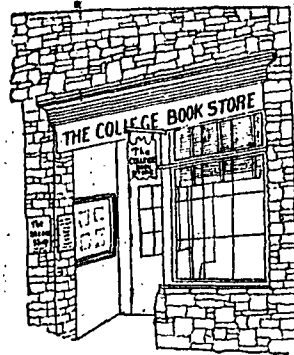

Annual production of radios in the United States has passed the eight million mark. In 1939, according to factory reports to the Bureau of Census, 8,256,250 complete radio receiving sets were produced compared with 5,843,569 in 1937.

Hopeful Rumors Die; College Closes Only Once In 23 Years

"Say, did you know the College is closing because all the water's been used up?"

Rumors such as this one tend to circulate about the campus during examination week or just before a holiday recess. With the hope of getting an extra week of vacation or postponing tomorrow's bluebook students have unconsciously started rumors that the College water supply will last only one more day, that there is no more coal at the power house, or that the measles epidemic has gotten beyond control.

In spite of their hopes, this is only the second time in 30 years that the College has closed or postponed opening. The first time was in 1918 when it was closed for 10 days after the burning of the
