

Sports Rally Includes Skits, Club Exhibits

Coeds May Join Two Sports Clubs

Introduction of board members, presentation of skits, explanation of activities, folk-dancing and a chance to join clubs will be included in WRA's Sports Rally for freshman women in White Hall Gymnasium at 1 o'clock today.

Board members whom Betty L. Zeigler '42, WRA president, will introduce include Patricia MacKinney '43, vice president; Bernice M. Mauer '42, secretary; Pauline Crossman '43, treasurer; Ann T. Drivas '43, club chairman; and Grace L. Judge '44, publicity manager. Each will explain her duties.

WRA clubs will present skits and each president will explain the purpose and activities of her club. Clubs and club presidents are archery, Josephine H. Beljan '42; badminton, Marion E. Sperling '42; bowling, Anita M. Knecht '42; dance, Dorothy C. Ellis '42; fencing, D. Elizabeth Rose '42; golf, Marge King '42; outing, Margaret K. Ramelie '44; rifle, Martha E. Powers '42; swimming, Mary V. Devling '43; tennis, Ruth J. Moore '43.

Intramural skits of hockey, basketball, and softball will be directed by Miss Crossman, manager. Miss Zeigler will lead folk-dancing, assisted by Miss Harriet M. Gray, graduate assistant, Miss Crossman, Miss Devling, Miss Drivas, Janet V. Holmes '43, and Margaret K. Ramelie '44.

Freshmen may visit club exhibits; talk to club presidents, and sign up for two clubs. Refreshments will be served. The Rally will be repeated next Monday for

We, The Women Offering An Alibi Before We Pounce

Today starts the second year of daily publication of the student newspaper. This column, which will discuss women's news, made its debut as "We, the Women" last year. We feel it fitting to retain this title.

Not only will we interpret news as it affects women, but we will also crusade for projects we feel necessary for coeds and reprimand what we feel alien to the All-College aim to retain Penn State's good name.

Women, especially coeds, may not feel as directly connected with the world situation as men but the attitudes we assume are of major importance during such crises.

It is hard at all times, especially in uncertain eras, to maintain a definite view on all subjects. Too much happens to alter the outlook. Elastic policies are almost prerequisites for intelligent thinking.

Our policy, therefore, will be to interpret women's news for the women. Our one aim—to stick to transfer students.

Freshmen are invited to an exhibition hockey game between sophomore and junior majors on Holmes Field at 4 p. m. Wednesday when they may sign up as players or managers.

Cwens Entertain 350 At Freshman Tea

Approximately 350 coeds attended the tea given yesterday by Cwens, sophomore women's honorary, as a part of their freshman orientation program.

Margaret R. Roberts, senior advisor, and Louise M. Fuoss, junior advisor, former Cwen presidents, poured and H. Anne Carruthers '44 furnished background music.

Committee chairmen were Ruth L. Popp, food; Marion C. Dougherty, decorations; Jeane L. Ward, dishes, and Mary Louise Keith, in-

WSGA Announces Hours For Women Students

Jean Babcock '42, WSGA president, has announced that freshman women will be granted 9 o'clock permissions Monday and Tuesday evenings, and upperclass women 11 o'clocks.

Other orientation projects undertaken by Cwens were helping at registration, SU dances, Rec Hall mixer and welcoming freshman coeds as they arrived.
