Brown, Petrella Seek Left Halfback Post

Coach Bob Higgins is sending his charges through long and strenuous drills in an effort to field a conditioned and hard-fighting Nittany eleven against a favored Colgate Red Raider squad for the Lions' toughest opener in 37 years on October 4 at Buffalo.

The Hig looks for the forward wall to improve as the season progresses, but warns against a slow start because of inexperience. What the line lacks in experience will be partially offset by determination.

Backfield candidates seem to be shaping up well, but they have only an inexperienced line in front of them. Another boost was given the ball-carrying brigade when Bill Debler, last base captain of the Nittany 1942 baseball squad, reported for the first time. Debler will probably be slated for a try at the right half position as an understudy of Captain Len Krouse.

Pleasant complications have turned up at the left halfback position. Both Pepper Petrella and Sparky Brown are battling for the position. Brown may get the nod over Petrella for the starting assignment because Sparky has been running well since he had his injured ankles treated. But it is yet a question whether his ankles will hamper him later in the season.

If Brown starts at left halfback, Petrella can still count on seeing a lot of service because he is the handiest man on the team when it needs a shifty runner for extra scoring punch. Although Pepper did not start many times last year, he was one of the Lions' most consistent ground gainers.

A Brown-to-Krouse passing combination may yet be developed as evidenced by several plays which were turned in yesterday. If such a combination should click, opponents would have to fear a passing attack from either Bill Smaltz or Brown. Passing from either the fullback or left halfback post would offer a dual passing threat.

Stressing pass defense yesterday, Higgins started a backfield composed of Smaltz, Petrella, Debler and Aldo Cenci. Chuck Raysor, center, was pulled back from the line to fill the job of backer-up. In practice kicking scrimmage, Bob Davis played a bang-up game. He blocked a punt off Aldo Cenci's toe.

A check-up of the squad roster showed that Ralph Ventresco was confined to the infirmary as his injured knee failed to respond to treatment.

Foreign Talent Colors Booters

That Coach Bill Jeffrey's perennially undefeated soccer teams have acquired international repute is indicated by the presence of four soccer enthusiasts from distant lands at the booters' daily workouts.

Anibal "Gringo" Galindo, veteran inside left, hails from the Colon Republic of Panama, of which his father is governor. Before coming here he attended the Canal Zone Junior College.

Lured to far-off Penn State by a friend's recommendation of the College as a good school with a beautiful campus, Galindo admitted that his coming here was also influenced by the Nittany Lion's undefeated soccer teams. Last year "Gringo" did his share to prolong the Lion winning streak, and Coach Jeffrey expects great things from him again this year.

A likely-looking prospect for the regular outside right position is Ramzi Gurcay, a sophomore who comes all the way from Istanbul, Turkey. Difficulty in mastering the English language prevented Gurcay's participation in freshman soccer last year, but he removed the deficiency by attending summer school and is eligible for varsity soccer this year.

Also taking part in the practice sessions are Dario deBedout and Jose Lonbanos, two booters from Columbia, South America. After playing frosh soccer in 1938, Dario withdrew from the sport his sophomore and junior years, but has been persuaded to come out again this year. Jose, a sophomore transfer from Columbia University, will not be eligible this year.

In past years too, the Blue and White's starting lineups have been dotted with flashy performers from foreign countries. Remembered especially long by fans will be Gus Bigott, fiery Venezuelan forward who won All-America honors in 1939.

Leglar Injures Shoulder In First Frosh Practice

Coach Marty McAndrews sent nearly 50 freshman team candidates through their first practice of the season yesterday, but not without acquiring the first yearling injury of the year. George Leglar, a talented tackle from Monongohela, suffered a dislocated left shoulder and will be out of practice for a week or more.

Only light drills were held yesterday. Passing drill and basic linemen's tasks were introduced to the yearlings. Although it is too early to predict a brilliant future for the squad, Ray Uliniski, a southpaw, already has displayed his ability to pass.

He was placed in the varsity lineup for a few minutes in last Saturday's scrimmage, and completed three well-thrown passes to his varsity mates.

Higbe Gives Five Hits As Dodgers, Cards Win

Kirby Higbe's five-hit pitching enabled the Brooklyn Dodgers to take a 4-2 victory yesterday from the Boston Braves behind pitcher Jim Tobin who gave up ten hits. The win drove "Dein Bums" closer to the National League pennant as only three games remain for both the Cardinals and the Dodgers. Brooklyn is now a game and a half ahead of the Redbirds.

The standings of the two teams did not change yesterday because St. Louis sent Harry Gumbert to the mound to hurl a six-hit shut-out, 4-0, over the Pittsburgh Pirates who pinned their hopes on pitcher Johnny Lanning. Lanning gave up 12 hits.
