

Swimming Candidates Will Meet Tonight

Freshman and varsity candidates for the swimming team will meet at the Phi Kappa Tau house tonight. Varsity candidates will report at 8 p. m., while freshmen are expected after the Mass Meeting. Tryouts will be held at the Glennland Pool from 4 to 5:30 p. m. on October 1, 2, and 3. After tryouts, divers will continue at the pool while swimmers will have a three-week conditioning period outdoors at Rec Hall beginning on October 6.

Lions Down Lock Haven With Running Attack

11 Booters Earn Regular Positions

Culminating hot battles for starting positions on the Nittany Lion soccer team, eleven candidates seem to have assured themselves places in the lineup which will open the season against Colgate at Hamilton on October 11, according to Coach Bill Jeffrey.

The Lion booters were originally scheduled to meet Gettysburg here Saturday, but the game was cancelled because of the infantile paralysis epidemic.

Sophomore Johnny Struck has clinched the goal tending assignment. Helping him withstand enemy booters' attacks will be veteran fullbacks Alan Heck and Hap Freeman and halfbacks Don McGrail and Charley Arnold.

Promising to give opposing defenses considerable trouble this year will be a Nittany line extending all the way from the Dardevelles to the Canal Zone! Anibal Galindo, who hails from Panama, has been switched to the outside left position, and Ramzi Gurcay, a resident of Turkey, has earned the outside right berth with his expert ball handling.

Captain Woody King, All-East inside right last year, has been shifted to center forward, where his experience is expected to aid the Lions' cause at the important pivot position. Bill Prichard, a capable sophomore, is expected to start at inside left. Smiley Williams, another sophomore who has looked good in recent scrimmages, also has an excellent chance to crash the starting lineup.

Brown Breaks Ankle, Out For Entire Season

The Nittany Lion may surprise the Red Raiders of Colgate when they clash on the Buffalo gridiron next Saturday, if Penn State's merciless clawing of the Bald Eagles of Lock Haven State Teachers College on New Beaver Field last Saturday means anything. The score was 40-0 in the Lion's favor.

However, Penn State's backfield picture was marred when it was learned today that Sparky Brown had definitely fractured his ankle in Thursday's scrimmage. He returned home for the College term.

Pepper Petrella started things popping soon after Lock Haven's kickoff. He ran from his eight-yard line to the Teachers 46, but fumbled the ball and Lock Haven recovered it. After Bernie Brosky, tackle, broke through to pin the Teachers on their 16-yard line, Petrella grabbed the ball and took it to the three-yard line on two tries. Bill Smaltz plunged through center for the first score and added a placekick for good measure.

A few moments later it was Pepper again who carried the ball over the goal from the Nittany 47-yard line on three tries after the Eagles were forced to kick. Smaltz' placement missed.

Bill Debler entered the game at left half and Jack Banbury took up fullback duties at this point. Taking the ball on the Lock Haven 34-yard line after the Bald Eagle attack bogged down, Captain Len Krouse ran a reverse to the 22, Debler sliced off tackle to the eight-yard line, and Banbury added seven points as he crossed the goal and kicked the extra point.

On a short plunge Bill Debler scored near the start of the second quarter. Banbury contributed the extra point. Near the end of the first half Debler again went over on a short plunge. MacFarland dropkicked the extra point. In the third quarter a 10-yard pass from Charlie MacFarland to Krouse produced the last score. The extra point was missed. Rutgers university is observing Only in the fourth quarter did its 175th anniversary.
