Written applications, which are due no later than Sunday, should contain certain information concerning applicant's experience, station call letters of own amateur station, and the grade of license.

750-Pound College Boar Drafted—But Not Into Uncle Sam's Army

barns, is a proud little piggy these days—for he's been drafted. His number, 3-7-7-4-9-1, has come up. But Lynwood will not join the armed forces of Uncle Sam. His call is into the service of the Lynwood Farms, Carmel, Indiana, about six miles north of Indianapolis.

The call came by long distance telephone halfway across the United States, and it got Prof. Mark A. McCarty, department of animal husbandry, out of bed.

Professor McCarty has charge of the pigs at the College and Lynwood Farms wanted to get back their prodigal son, which was sold to the College three years ago.

This pig, Lynwood Advance, was daddy to the major portion of the class of 10 pigs that won the sweepstakes prize for the 10 best carcasses at the 1939 International Livestock Exposition, Chicago. In 1941 he put on a repeat performance by being daddy to the 10 pigs who won the sweepstakes prize for the class of 10 on foot as well as the best class of 10 carcasses.

It will cost about $80 to ship this 750 pounds of proud porker on its 600 mile journey. A specially constructed crate will be the new home of Lynwood Advance while he makes his long railroad trip to Indiana this week.

Senate Abolishes Mid-Year Recess

Elimination of the mid-year recess and a two-day reduction of the final examination period were decided by the College Senate yesterday as they approved a proposed calendar designed to compensate for the week lost by postponement of the opening of college.

Professor J. C. Tanger, chairman of the Senate Committee on Calendar, stated that all other holidays would remain the same length as last year's.

The new calendar provides for final examinations to begin at 8 a. m. on Monday, January 26. Mid-year commencement exercises will be held on Friday, January 30. Officially, the first semester will end at 11:50 a. m., Saturday, January 31 and registration for second semester will fall on Monday and Tuesday, February 2 and 3.

Tanger explained, "The Committee, in arriving at this recommendation to eliminate mid-semester recess and shorten the exam period, considered it important not to extend the school year further into June because defense demands make it desirable that students complete their college training as soon as possible.

"A reduction in the number of days set aside for final examinations in the new calendar will necessitate the return to the two-hour period this semester instead of the three-hour sessions given last year."

Savitt Signed For Soph Hop

Jan Savitt and his Top Hatters, who voted above Gene Krupa in a recent student poll, were signed yesterday to play for Soph Hop Friday night, November 7. Dancing will be in Rec Hall from 9 p. m. to 2 a. m., according to Jack R. Grey, sophomore class president.

Although Savitt was tentatively signed over a week ago, final arrangements were delayed to enable a possible booking of Glen Gray, Harry James, or Krupa, should one of these become available within 10 days. Krupa and Savitt were the only "name" bands with open dates, so Savitt was signed at a cost of $1,250.

Admission to the dance will be $3.85 per couple.

Following the plan introduced by the Student Union Board, Soph Hop will be held jointly with fall houseparty in order to offset dance financial losses and save money for fraternity social budgets.

Student Faculty Group Meets For First Time; Considers 3 Projects

An attempt to break down walls of misunderstanding and establish a clearing house for student-faculty interests gained strength last night as the Student-Faculty Committee met for the first time with All-College backing as granted by Cabinet.

Committees were named to investigate the possibilities of an all-year-round Community Sing, student-faculty hobby interest, and the functioning of the faculty advisory system.

The Committee is composed of two students and one faculty member from each school. Members are: Frank Flynn '43, and Mrs. Harriet Nesbitt, co-chairmen; Thomas C. Young '42, Walter N. Shambach '42, and Maclean M. Babcock, Engineering; Jean L. Lininger '42, Helen L. Mazur '42, and Clarence R. Carpenter, Education; Clarence E. Kunz '42, Harry W. Korb, Jr., and Ernest W. Callenbach, Agriculture; Mary Gene Proctor '42, Flynn, and Mrs. Nesbitt, Liberal Arts.

John J. Raves '42, Warren H. Williams '42, and Chesleigh A. Bonine, Mineral Industries; Katherine A. Loesch '42, Charles H. Ridenour '43, and Eugene C. Bischoff, Physical Education; Robert B. Jeffrey '42, and Harry L. VanVelzer, Physics and Chemistry; Col. Ambrose R. Ardery, department of military science and tactics; Andrew P. Szekely '43, Dorothy L. Shaw '42, and D. Ned Linegar, ex-officio.

Hetzel Commends Penn State Spirit At Gridiron Rally

Captain H. Leonard Krouse '42, ignited the bonfire to officially usher in the Penn State football season as more than 5,000 students, according to Nittany Lion tradition, kindled the fire of 1941 gridiron enthusiasm at the pre-Colgate pep rally on the Jordan Fertility Plots last night.

As the flames began to light the entire area, President Ralph D. Hetzel said to the crowd, "As these flames have grown, so has the spirit and morale of our College. This is more than an emotional spree; it is an evidence of a mass collegiate spirit which is alive and consistent.

"Our Penn State spirit is growing bigger and better, because we understand what it means," President Hetzel continued. "It can't be broken, and anything which portrays the fine attitude of the student body exemplified in this rally is bound to persevere."

President Hetzel concluded, "Let's build our College morale powerfully strong, and the lack of team support will melt away before such a rally as this. Our spirit can't be licked."

The Blue Band, under the direction of Frank Gullo, and cheerleaders, led the students in songs and cheers as William F. Finn '42, football manager, introduced the football squad.

Coach Bob Higgins told the pep rally enthusiasts that "the present student body has a better team spirit than the oldtimers," and attributed the 1939 football victory over Pitt as a result of the Pitt rally that year.

Captain Krouse spoke as a representative of the team and said, "We're not going to Colgate for
